

New York May 2/65
My dear Bek,
George has been urging me for two or three days to write you, requesting you to stop in New York on your return home.
I will delay no longer, for I fear you may pass through here sooner than I expect, and my letter be too late to acquaint you with his address etc -
The house is "No 8 Varick Place," between Bleecker and Houston Sts. Don't fail to stop when you reach the city will you?
for George and Lucy will be greatly disappointed, and so should I, for I expect to be here in the city if not at their house - I have been here almost two months looking for a house, and

New York May 2/65

My dear Bek,

George has been urging me for two or three days to write you requesting you to stop in New York on your return home. I will delay no longer, for I fear you may pass through here sooner than I expect, and my letter be too late to acquaint you with this address etc—

The house is "No. 8 Varick Place," between Bleecker and Houston Sts. Don't fail to stop when you reach the city will you? for George and Lucy would be greatly disappointed—and so should I—for I expect to be here in the city if not at their house—

I have been here almost two months looking for a house, and Contributed to the Maine Memory Network by the Maine Historical Society.

Creation Date: May 2, 1865

Description: Letter from Elizabeth Chase to Rebecca Usher

yet I have not secured one, the demand for them is so great and the cost is enormously high it is difficult to procure can be still I do not despair, and hope within two weeks to have accomplished my object -	as we do wish he is dead - We criticized him, little knowing how deep was the affection which had crept into all our hearts, how thoroughly we revere-d him - Abraham Lincoln is immortal! No shadow rests upon his frame - It glows with a brilliancy which overspreads the ages, and a halo will surround his name forevermore - It is a glory to have lived in the age with such a man -
Oh! Bob! What wonderful events have crowded themselves into the last month. How gloriously the nation stands before the world to-day - the freest yet strongest power on the earth! But our hearts - big with sadness for he, the wise the merciful, the embodiment of the nation's mercy and love, has suffered a blessed martyr's in our cause - I think of you and feel the nation's reverence and love for his memory - and I long you almost, that you saw and appreciated him while living	Monday Morning May 3 - I can add but a few words this morning - I intended to write you a long letter, but I was interrupted last night and today, am off to meet an engagement - I hope to see you here before long - Won't you write a line telling us when you shall yet I have not secured one. The demand for them is so great and the rents so enormously high, it is difficult to procure one, but still I do not despair, and hope within two weeks to have accomplished my object.

Ah! Bek! What wonderful events have crowded themselves into the last month—How glorious the Victories! How grandly the nation stands before the world to-day—the freest yet strongest power on the earth! But our hearts [?] with sadness for he, the wise the merciful, the embodiment of the nation's mercy and love, has suffered – a blessed martyr in our cause. I think of you as I feel the nation's reverence and love for his memory—and I envy you almost, that you saw and appreciated him while living as we do now he is dead—We criticized him, little knowing how deep was the affection which had crept into all our hearts—how thoroughly we revered him—Abraham Lincoln is immortal! No shadow rests upon his frame It glows with a brilliancy which overspreads the ages. And a halo will surround his name forevermore—It is a glory to have lived in the age with such a man.

Wednesday morning May 3—I can add but a few words this morning—I intended to write you a long letter, but I was interrupted last night and today, am off to meet an engagement—I hope to see you here before long— Won't you write a line telling us when you shall

City Point etc. if but a few words it will be most acceptable —

George and Lucy desire much love to you —

Send to me "No 8 Varick Place New York City"

Ella Bacon left for Wisconsin last week. We were sorry to have her go —

Ever affectionately yours

Liz Chase —

Ella Bacon was daughter of Dr. George Bacon + Sarah Rantall
Wether

Elizabeth Chase was originally from Kepton

[sic] City Point etc—if but a few words it will be most acceptable—

George and Lucy desire [?] much love to you—send to me "No. 8 Varick Place New York City"

Ella Bacon left for Wisconsin last week—we were sorry to have her go—

Ever affectionately yours
Liz Chase