

Baltimore Sept 28th 1865

Dear Wife

Yours of the 22^d is before me I was very glad get it in fact I should be glad to get one every day I suppose you will say why dont you write oftener yourself but you know I am not counted much for writing especially for long letters. Little Berties picture is before me it looks as natural as pea soup I have just compaired it with Monroes they go resemble each other very much Oh Why could not Monroes life been spared it is so hard But he must be better off for he was such a good Boy We must try to think it is right It is all I can do to think so

Baltimore Sept 28th 1865

Dear Wife

Yours of the 22^d is before me I was very glad get it in fact I should be glad to get one every day I suppose you will say why dont you write oftener yourself but you know I am not counted much for writing especially for long letters. Little Berties picture is before me it looks as natural as pea soup I have just compaired it with Monroes they resemble each other very much Oh Why could not Monroes life been spared it is so hard But he must be better off for he was such a good Boy We must try to think it is right It is all I can do to think so

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by Freeport Historical Society

Date: September 28, 1865

Description: Letter from John G. Dillingham to his wife, Margaert.

Well then Capt Bacon has or is coming on our Street, that is the house he has been thinking about for some time it is plenty big enough for them But who under the Sun would have thought that Dr Wells could have bought ^{his} but strange things happens now a days
By the By if our bossy is wild you had better get Capt Bacon take care of her this winter he spoke about it before I left home but after it gets to be cold weather you will I have to keep her in the stable it may be she will not ^{be} so much trouble I missed my glasses just before I got to Boston I thought it would not pay to go back after them My health is very good and I hope this will find you and Bertie the same
yours J G D

Well then Capt Bacon has or is
coming on our Street, that is
the house he has been thinking
about for some time it is plenty
big enough for them But who
under the Sun would have
thought that Dr Wells could
have bought his but strange
things happens now a days
By the By if our bossy is wild you
had better get Capt Bacon take care
of her this winter he spoke about
it before I left home but after it
gets to be cold weather you will have to keep her in the stable
it may be she will not be so much trouble I missed my glasses just
before I got to Boston I thought
it would not pay to go back
after them My health is very good
and I hope this will find you
and Bertie the same
Yours J G D