Dear Mother

As work is all over for to day I will ^{write} a few lines for fear I should not have another chance. we received the bundle and letter this morning it came all right and I can assure you it was quite welcome. Fathers letter of the 22nd I did not get till last tuesday. by the by about Emerson sending by Marshall Grant to tell you to write he never told me any thing about it. we returned from our trial trip last night we had a very pleasant time of it while we were out we tried the range of the guns we then went through the drill as if board a vessel

Description: Letter written by John M. Dillingham to his mother Margaret

I am first border we first tried to board and were repulsed we then fell back of the pickemen who drove them back we then boarded in fine stile when we were through the Captain said he was very much pleased with us if it was the first time about our clothes they were left in the rendezvous where we got our fit out. Anger will write to his uncle Able about them tell the young folks I should like to be at home to go to some sprees this fall. it is now on Sat Sept 6th

I tried to finish my letter last night but could not before nine o'clock and all the lights have to be put out then. so if I dont get called away in the boat I will now.

tell the girls I am ever so much obliged for that spirit, but hope I shall not have to use it Anger has just gone ~~away~~ away on a boat expedition for practice. we are ordered to be ready for sea to night but I don't think we shall kiss Bertha for me and tell her not to forget myself tell Bill he should have been here to see us go through that boarding drill it was as much as I could keep from laughing it put me in mind of little boys playing but I must close now if I have a chance I will write to morrow
