

Washington D.C.
May 14, 1907.
I shook hands with our President at 2:30 this afternoon, and said to him,
"I have left five children to shake hands with you" and he replied, "good citizen, mighty glad to see you" and laughed very heartily. I was one of the first few hundred to hear his address of welcome, and he received two thousand from the Baptist Convention who were admitted by ticket.
I went with Mr Conklin and sister. Had my picture in an Automobile, and will send you one, Annie P. Winslow.
