

Bridgton, Sept. 29th 1828.

Dear Brother,

We were sorry to learn by your last communication that sister Evelina had been so ill. I wish it were in my power to visit her and repay some of the kind attentions she bestowed on me when I was sick. I know not when I shall again have the happiness of seeing her or your dear children; but of this be assured that you have my love and best wishes; you spoke in your last of visiting us, we should indeed be rejoiced to see you when you can consistently leave your family. You will feel anxious to hear particularly from Harriet. She has been very sick since I wrote you last, but is again more comfortable, and much as when I wrote last, she suffers very much from nausea, and nothing seems to help it. She says give her love to you all, and say she shall be glad to see you. Should you come to Bridgton, I wish you would be so kind as to procure for me two yds and a half of golden brown ribbon, an inch and half wide satin ribbon is what I want, and four yards of piping cord of the same colour; I am always asking favours of you, but the kindness and brotherly love, which you have ever shown me is my excuse. Should you not come to B I wish you would send them by the first opportunity. I am with unalterable affection, yours as ever,

Hannah.

Brother Josiah, I wish you to pay the $12-00 out of the money you have in your funds, which you informed me was assessed on my note.

Yours
Ira Crocker

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by and individual through Maine Historical Society
Date: Sep. 29, 1828
Description: Hannah Pierce letter to brother

Bridgton, Sept, 29th 1828,

Dear Brother.

We were sorry to learn by your last communication that sister Evelina has been so ill. I wish it were in my power to visit her and repay some of the kind attentions she bestowed on me when I was sick; I know not when I shall again have the happiness of seeing her or your dear children; but of this be assured that you have my love and best wishes; you spoke in your last of visiting us, we should indeed be rejoiced to see you when you can consistently leave your family. You will feel anxious to hear particularly from Harriet. She has been very sick since I wrote you last, but is again more comfortable, and much as when I wrote last; she suffers very much from nausea, and nothing seems to help it. She says give her love to you all, and say she shall be glad to see you. Should you come to Bridgton, I wish you would be so kind as to procure for me two yds and a half of golden brown ribbon, an inch and half wide satin ribbon is what I want, and four yards of piping cord of the same colour; I am always asking favours of you, but the kindness and brotherly love, which you have ever shown me is my excuse. Should you

^ not come to B I wish you would send them by the first opportunity. I am with unalterable affection, yours as ever,—

Hannah

Brother Josiah , I wish you to pay the $12-00 out of the money you have in your funds, which you informed me[?] was assessed on my note

Yours Ira Crocker