

Bowdoin Coll February, last day
Dear Sarah and Harriet, as there has been five Sundays in this month, it seems as if it would be no more than right to employ me in scribbling a letter to the folks at home. Daniel called on me last Tuesday & also Wednesday - the poor "little man" must have had a doleful cold ride home, but it is said that all is easy in travelling towards love or glory, so I feel but a moderate degree anxiety for him. My chumb returned the same day that I did, we both arrived in safety and good humor - chumb has had such an incomprehensible number of stories to tell about his school - how he flogged the boys and what beautiful damsels there were, and what a complete jurisdiction he maintained over the whole, that he has hardly been able to study as yet.

Bowdoin Coll February, last day
Dear Sarah and Harriet, as there has been five Sundays in this month, it seems as if it would be no more than right to employ me in scribbling a letter to the folks at home. Daniel called on me last Tuesday & also Wednesday - the poor "little man" must have had a doleful cold ride home; but it is said that all
is easy in travelling towards love or glory, so I feel but
a moderate degree anxiety for him. My chumb returned the same day that I did, we both arrived in safety and good humor - chumb has have such an incomprehensible number of stories to tell about
his school - how he flogged the boys and what beautiful
damsels there were, and what a complete jurisdiction
he maintained over the whole, that he has hardly
been able to study as yet.

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by an individual through Maine Historical Society
MMN #28377
Date: Feb. 29, 1824
Description: G.W. Pierce letter to sisters

This is one of the most laborious and interesting terms of a whole college life; our studies are difficult but they are very important, which consideration naturally inclines us to be diligent. The chemical lectures are very amusing then are the first our class have ever attended, and the first of doings with Professor Cleaveland, this we consider a kind of eventful moment, for as he is undoubtedly the greatest man among the government, he is supposed to have the greatest influence in all government concerns. Mr Mead's good fortune is deeply regretted by the students, and indeed I think that every "respectable person" sympathizes with them. It is a dreadful thing, and ought to cast a gloomy shadow over the community at large. I have been reading the Pilot, by the author of the Spy, 'tis an admirable novel and one of the most instructing that I ever read, the scene is on the German Ocean and the coast of England, the instruction I speak of, relates the nautical manners, and the situation of seaman on board a man of war. The description of a storm, shipwreck, and several naval battles

This is one of the most laborious and interesting terms of a whole college life; our studies are difficult, but they are very important, which consideration naturally inclines us to be diligent. The chemical lectures are very amusing these are the first our class have ever attended, and the first of doings with Professor Cleaveland, this we consider a kind of eventful moment, for he is undoubtedly the greatest man among the government, he is supposed to have the greatest influence in all government concerns. Mr Mead's good fortune is deeply regretted by the students, and indeed I think that every "respectable person" sympathizes with them. It is a dreadful thing and ought to & does cast a gloomy shadow over the community at large. I have been reading the Pilot; by the author of the Spy, 'tis an admirable novel and one of the most instructing, that I ever read, the scene is on the German Ocean and the coast of England, the instruction I speak of relates the nautical manners and the situation of seaman on board a man of war. The description of a storm, shipwreck, and several naval battles

compose the most valuable part of the book, as for the
'love and murder' part, it seems only a useless appendage and is not half so interesting as the spy. There is nothing new in college - the town is over run with Medical students the ever punctual Dr Smith has not yet arrived - From your Brother George Give my love to all the family - Compliments to Mrs Hurd -

compose the most valuable part of the book, as for the
"love and murder" part, it seems only a useless appendage
and is not half so interesting as the spy. There is nothing new in college - the town is over run with Medical students
the ever punctual Dr Smith has not yet arrived —

From your Brother George
Give my love to all the family - compliments to Mrs Hurd —