Dear Sister Peerse

It has been some time since I wrote I thought I would sit down and scribble you a few lines so that you would not forget me intirely. I have had pretty hard time lately I have been sick for the last six weeks althouh I have not been of duty but a week.
I have had several severe spells of the chills and feaver which have reduced me down pretty low. I have about broaken up the chills. I have a slow feaver which makes me very weak so that I am not able to sit

Description: J.E. Mitchell to Persis Blanchard up more than two hairs at a time I have had paines in my head night so that I cant sleep at all.

I was on the rail-road three days and three nights doing patrol duty looking out for deserters between Baltimore and Washing ton I did not sleep a wink the whole time it was a little to much for me I dont think I will do it again.
I suppose you would like to hear something besides my aches and paines. We have been building barracks we moved into ours last tuesday is a building for a company is 60 ft long 20 ft wide two stories high the bunks are built up stairs the gun racks and tables below the officers have a room in one end and the sergeants in the other.

It was the coldest night we have had last night there was quite a snow storm night before last the snow has about gone it cannot stay on the ground long in this country. I expect that we shall go up the line soon and relieve Co.
A. It will be rather tough for the boys walking there beat four hours these colde nights a good meny of them has not sufficient under clothes. Sergt. Randall of Co.
D. died last night one of Co. A's died of typhoid fever last friday night this makes eight men we have lost sence we have been here. It seems ~~kind~~ hard to see the poor fellows die away from home and friends I think I shall write to Maria tomorrow if I have strength

It is reported that we are going in Burnside's expedition which leaves Annapolis soon.
I guess it is all talk though.
I wish we might. I think a trip to sea would do me good. I saw General Burnside at Annapolis Junction last week. He is a noble looking man. I can tell you 6 feet 4 inches high and built in proportion.
I shall not be able to write any more now. Please answer this poor apology for a letter.
Address as before.
