

29 Duke St. St. James
London Eng.
8 June 1883

My dear Lewis: I tried to see your brother the other day but unhappily he had gone to Russia. He is expected home soon and as I am very likely to stay here some time I shall call on him again.

You were right in thinking I should enjoy London.
The first week I nearly wore myself to death on the streets I tried every means in my power to comprehend the immensity of the greatest City the world has ever seen. I have kept on trying ever since but as I look

29 Duke St. St. James
London Eng.
8 June 1883

My Dear Lewis:

I tried to see
your brother the other day
but unhappily he had gone
to Russia. He is expected home
soon and as I am very likely
to stay here some time I shall
call on him again.

You were right in thinking I should enjoy London.
The first week I nearly wore
myself to death on the streets
I tried every means in my
power to comprehend the
immensity of the greatest
City the world has ever
seen. I have kept on trying
ever since but as I look

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by an individual through Maine Historical Society

MMN #36065

Date: June 8, 1883

Description: Thomas Brakett Reed letter from London over the map and see how little of it I have traversed I confess myself a little overawed. It is true that I am getting used to lounging down the strand to St Pauls or up Holborn or Regent street and am beginning to see where localities connect but I am sure it would take years to have any idea of London as a whole. I shall probably not see Rome but am reconciled somewhat

by the prospect of a quiet stay here with business enough to prevent pleasure from tiring me. I may stay here a couple more of weeks

over the map and see how
little of it I have traversed
I confess myself a little
overawed. It is true that I am getting used to lounging
down the strand to St. Pauls
or up Holborn or Regent
street and am beginning
to see where localities connect
but I am sure it would
take years to have any idea
of London as a whole. I shall
probably not see Rome but
am reconciled somewhat
by the prospect of a quiet
stay here with business
enough to prevent pleasure
from tiring me. I may stay
here a couple more of weeks

or a couple of months. I went first to Mrs Barnets Craven St as you advised and found myself just where I ought to have been. I could go any where from there. The other day I took lodgings here and am very comfortable indeed. What wonderfully quiet ways servants have in England!

I have been to Simpson's in the Strand and otherwise done as I have been told.
I have climbed every where I ought to have climbed and have been to a

or a couple of months. I went
first to Mrs Barnets Craven
St as you advised and found
myself just where I ought to
have been. I could go any
where from there. The other
day I took lodgings here
and am very comfortable
indeed. What wonderfully
quiet ways servants have
in England!

I have been to Simpson's
in the Strand and otherwise
done as I have been told.
I have climbed everywhere
I ought to have climbed
and have been to a great many places which bored me much. but the streets of London have always been balm

and comfort. Places you have seen in your dreams are all there and give almost every street an air of half recognition.
I wish I had had my Letter of Credit on the Balings. It would have been very useful but one can't anticipate business when they start for pleasure Lewis Pierce Er Yours ever T. B Reed

great many places which
bored me much. but the
streets of London have
always been balm
and comfort. Places you have been in your dreams
are all there and give
almost every street an
air of half recognition
I wish I had had my
Letter of Credit on the
Balings. It would have been very useful but one
can't anticipate business
when they start for pleasure
Yours ever T. B Reed
Lewis Pierce Er

