Before the Enemy
Near Petersburg Va June 18th / 64

My Dear Father

Every battle that I have been in makes me to believe the impression I had on coming into the service that I should not be injured I have been now two days in full sight of the Rebs and have had hard fighting the 31st made a charge on breast works and captured two guns and will you believe it I walked through the Rebel works and took a Rebel Col and brought him out and carried him to the commander of our brigade of course he gave me his sword and I thought I could not send it home so I carried it to Genl Patten comd'g our Division saluted him and asked the pleasure of presenting him with the sword of the Rebel Col who was in command of the post we had captured the night before the genl took the sword and thanked me very kindly for it and for my services I wish you could have seen me about that time I almost imagined I could see a "Silver Eagle" on each shoulder I need not tell you that I have made myself popular among both officers and men of the 31st when the boys began to build breast works yesterday I took off my coat

Description: John P. Sheahan on nearing Petersburg and went to work the boys all sent up a shout and said that's the style — Henry and Ned are all right and so am I I must close, Petersburg is in full sight and down she has got to come down
