

Champlain Society
Meetings / Records

1886-1889

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by Mount Desert Island Historical Society

MMN # 101783
Date: 1886-1889
Description: Champlain Society logbook

CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY.

— RECORDS. —

VOLUME TEN.

MEETINGS etc DURING THE YEARS
1886-7; 1887-8; 1888-9;

Champlain Society

Records

Volume Ten

MEETINGS etc DURING THE YEARS
1886-7; 1887-8; 1888-9;

C.S. DIRECTORY 1886-7

Benjamin E. Bates	New York	29 College House
Henry W. Bliss	Boston	11 Marlborough St.
Walter L. Burrage	Boston	282 Newbury St.
F. Lewis Clark	Spokane Falls.	Spokane Falls W.T.
William M. Davis	Cambridge	2 Bond St.
Heyliger A. de Windt	Chicago	Care C.H. Fargo and Co.
John W. Dickinson	Holyoke
George B. Dunbar	Chicago	380 E. Chicago Ave.
William H. Dunbar	Cambridge	1214 K St. N.W. ^{Washington D.C.}
Morris Earle	Philadelphia	1016 Chestnut St.
Charles Eliot	Cambridge	17 Quincy St.
Samuel A. Eliot	Cambridge	43 Grays
Rev. John McGau Foster	^{Bangor, Me} Lowell
Robert W. Greenleaf	Boston	^{241 Boylston St., Boston} 53 High St. Charlestown
Harry M. Hubbard	Chicago	387 La Salle Ave.
Roland Hayward	Boston	346 Marlborough St.
Gilbert N. Jones	Bangor	24 Mt Vernon St Boston
Henry C. Jones	Boston	" " " "
William C. Lane	Cambridge	19 Oxford St.
Ernest Lovering	Holyoke	Lyman Mills
John Prentiss	Keene N.H.	29 College House
Edward L. Rand	Cambridge	16 Quincy St.

C. S. DIRECTORY 1886-7

Benjamin E. Bates	New York	29 College House
Henry W. Bliss	Boston	11 Marlborough St.
Walter L. Burrage	Boston	282 Newbury St.
F. Lewis Clark	Spokane Falls	Spokane Falls W.T.
William M. Davis	Cambridge	2 Bond St.
Heyliger A. deWindt	Chicago	Care C.H. Fargo and Co.
John W. Dickson	Holyoke
George B. Dunbar	Chicago	380 E. Chicago Ave. Washington
William H. Dunbar	Cambridge	1214 K St. N.W. D.C.
Morris Earle	Philadelphia	1016 Chestnut St.
Charles Eliot	Cambridge	17 Quincy St.
Samuel A. Eliot	Cambridge	43 Grays
Rev. John McGau Foster	Bangor, Me Lowell
Robert W. Greenleaf	Boston	241 Boylston St., Boston
Harry M. Hubbard	Chicago	53 High St. Charlestown
Roland Hayward	Boston	387 La Salle Ave.
Gilbert N. Jones	Bangor	346 Marlborough St.
Henry C. Jones	Boston	24 Mt Vernon St Boston
William C. Lane	Cambridge	" " " "
Ernest Lovering	Holyoke	19 Oxford St.
John Prentiss	Keene N.H.	Lyman Mills
Edward L. Rand	Cambridge	29 College House
		16 Quincy St.

Henry L. Rand	Cambridge	16 Quincy St.
Henry Savage	Boston	431 Beacon St. B.
Marshall P. Slade	Passaic N. J.	Rittenhouse Mfg Co.
Henry M. Spelman	Cambridge	62 Sparks St. 723 Cambridge St., Cambridge
Roland Thaxter	Kittery Point, Me	98 Pinckney St. Boston
Charles W. Townsend	Boston	61 Chestnut St. B.
Frank M. Wakefield	Dedham, Mass
John L. Wakefield	" "	82 Devonshire St. Boston
Julius R. Wakefield	" "	25 Holyoke St. 138 Federal St. care Luce ^ Man- Phila
Robert B. Worthington	" "
Rev. William L. Worcester	Philadelphia	5507 Hamilton St. Phila

Officers 1886-7

President. Charles Eliot.

Vice President. Henry M. Spelman.

Secretary. Edward L. Rand.

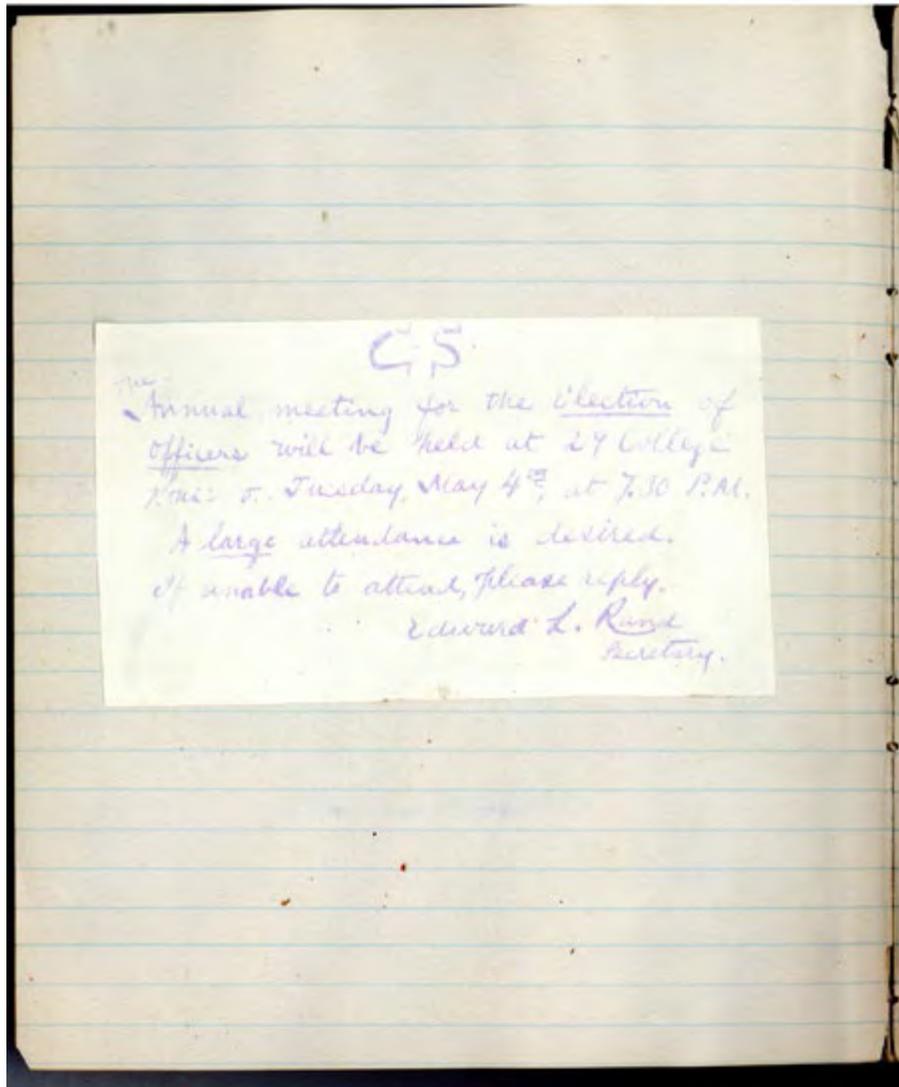

Henry L. Rand	Cambridge	16 Quincy St.
Henry Savage	Boston	431 Beacon St. B.
Marshall P. Slade	Passaic N.J.	Rittenhouse Mfg Co.
Henry M. Spelman	Cambridge	62 Sparks St. 723 Cambridge St., Cambridge
Roland Thaxter	Kittery Point, Me	98 Pinckney St. Boston
Charles W. Townsend	Boston	61 Chestnut St. B.
Frank M. Wakefield	Dedham, Mass
John L. Wakefield	" "	82 Devonshire St. Boston
Julius R. Wakefield	" "	25 Holyoke St. and
Robert B. Worthington	" "	138 Federal St. care Luce ^ Man-
Rev. William L. Worcester	Philadelphia	5507 Hamilton St. Phila

Officers 1886-7

President. Charles Eliot.

Vice President. Henry M. Spelman.

Secretary. Edward L. Rand.

C.S.

Annual meeting for the Election of officers will be held at 29 College
House on Tuesday, May 4th, at 7.30 P.M.

A large attendance is desired.
If unable to attend, please reply.

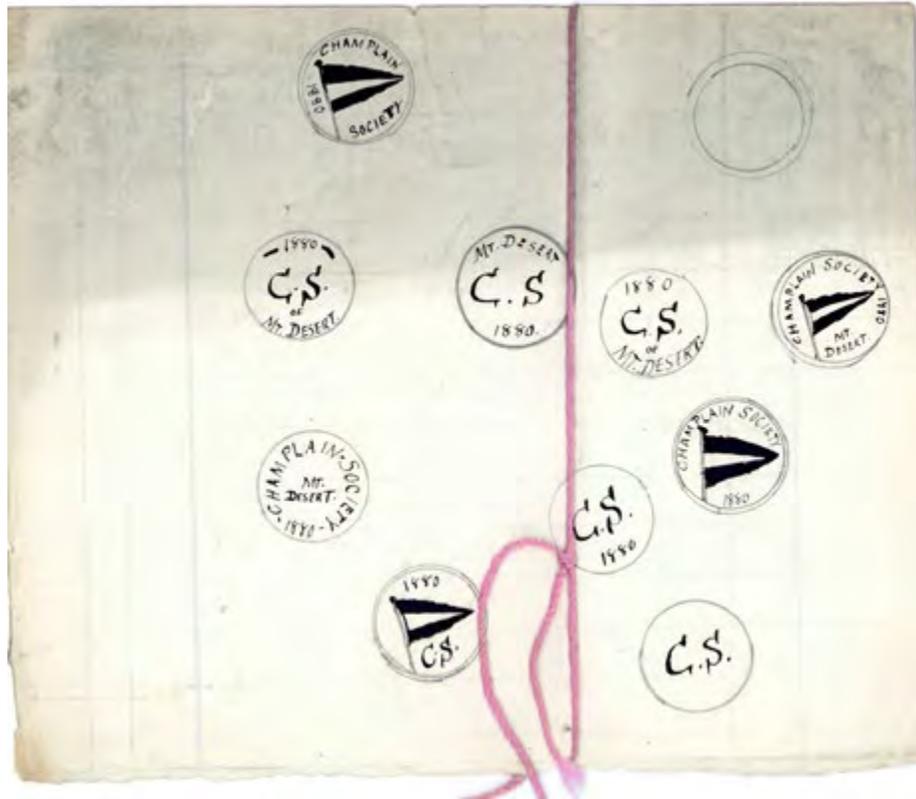

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

C.S.

The Annual meeting for the Election of officers will be held at 29 College
House on Tuesday, May 4th, at 7.30 P.M.

A large attendance is desired.
If unable to attend, please reply.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

[CS stamp designs with a pink string]

Annual Meeting - Tuesday, May 4th 1886
(29 College House)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kindness of Mr. John Prentiss in his room, No. 29 College House. The following named members were present: - Bates; Dunbar, W.H.; Eliot, S.A.; Greenleaf; Hayward; Jones, G.N.; Jones, H.C.; Lane; Prentiss; Rand, E.L.; Rand, H.L.; Spelman; Wakefield, J.L.; Wakefield, J.R.

The early part of the evening was spent in conversation, and in admiring the art treasures possessed by the host, some of which were approved, some loudly condemned. It was nearly nine o'clock before the Society was ready for business, and this was delayed even longer by a unanimous vote that supper be disposed of beforehand. The supper was so effectually disposed of that several late comers were compelled either to "lick the platter clean," or to go without.

About half past nine the Society came to order, and business was begun. The Secretary took the chair, as the President was in Europe and the Vice President was exceedingly tardy in making his appearance. Mr. John L. Wakefield was requested by the Chair to act as Secretary pro tem. - The first business

Annual Meeting—Tuesday, May 4th 1886
(29 College House)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kindness of Mr. John Prentiss in his room, No. 29 College House. The following named members were present: - Bates; Dunbar, W.H.; Eliot, S.A.; Greenleaf; Hayward; Jones, G.N.; Jones, H.C.; Lane; Prentiss; Rand, E.L.; Rand, H.L.; Spelman; Wakefield, J.L.; Wakefield, J.R.

The early part of the evening was spent in conversation, and in admiring the art treasures possessed by the host, some of which were approved, some loudly condemned. It was nearly nine o'clock before the Society was ready for business, and this was delayed even longer by a unanimous vote that supper be disposed of beforehand. The supper was so effectually disposed of that several late comers were compelled either to "lick the platter clean," or to go without.

About half past nine the Society came to order, and business was begun. The Secretary took the chair, as the President was in Europe and the Vice President was exceedingly tardy in making his appearance. Mr. John L. Wakefield was requested by the Chair to act as Secretary pro tem. - The first business was the election of officers for the ensuing year.

This resulted in the reelection of the old board
in the following manner:—

For President. C. Eliot had 10
12 votes cast C.W. Eliot " 1
J.L. Wakefield " 1
and C. Eliot was reelected

For Vice President. H.M. Spelman had 4
12 votes cast J.L. Wakefield " 3
W.C. Lane " 3
H.C. Jones " 1
W.H. Dunbar " 1
and there was no choice

Another ballot was ordered.

H.M. Spelman had 7
J.L. Wakefield " 3
H.C. Jones " 1
W.C. Lane " 1
and H.M. Spelman was reelected

For Secretary. E.L. Rand was reelected by acclamation.

was the election of officers for the ensuing year.
This resulted in the reelection of the old board
in the following manner:—

For President. C. Eliot had 10
2 votes cast C.W. Eliot " 1
J.L. Wakefield " 1
and C. Eliot was reelected

For Vice President. H.M. Spelman had 4
12 votes cast J.L. Wakefield " 3
W.C. Lane " 3
H.C. Jones " 1
W.H. Dunbar " 1
and there was no choice

Another ballot was ordered.

H.M. Spelman had 7
J.L. Wakefield " 3
H.C. Jones " 1
H.C. Lane " 1
and H.M. Spelman was reelected.

For Secretary. E.L. Rand was reelected by acclamation.

As J. Prentiss had made a great deal of trouble during the election by nominating himself for all offices, and soliciting votes, he was rewarded by being reelected "Perpetual Ornament" by acclamation.

During the voting the Secretary produced a mysterious document under seal from De Windt, supposed to contain a vote for officers. By permission it was opened, and was then found to contain a meaningless jumble of words. It was not received as a vote, and a vote of censure was passed.

Previous to the election the Secretary read the record of the last meeting, and also the list of members of the Society.

The Committees appointed at the last meeting were now asked to report. Mr. Lane for his Committee announced that there was no report to be made at present.

Mr. S.A. Eliot reported on the cost etc of chartering a small vessel for a cruise of two months along the coast of Maine, and farther East. His report was listened to with the greatest attention. A brief summary is as follows:

As J. Prentiss had made a great deal of trouble during the election by nominating himself for all offices, and soliciting votes, he was rewarded by being reelected "Perpetual Ornament" by acclamation.

During the voting the Secretary produced a mysterious document under seal from De Windt, supposed to contain a vote for officers. By permission it was opened, and was then found to contain a meaningless jumble of words. It was not received as a vote, and a vote of censure was passed.

Previous to the election the Secretary read the record of the last meeting, and also the list of members of the Society.

The Committees appointed at the last meeting were now asked to report. Mr. Lane for his Committee announced that there was no report to be made at present.

Mr. S.A. Eliot reported on the cost etc of chartering a small vessel for a cruise of two months along the coast of Maine, and farther East. His report was listened to with the greatest attention. A brief summary is as follows:

mittee to investigate the whole matter and make such arrangements as it saw fit. G.N. Jones, S.A. Eliot, Lane, and Spelman were appointed as said committee.

On motion of Spelman, an assessment of twenty five (25.) cents per member was voted to defray expenses for the year present.

The Society then voted to adjourn Time 10.45.

During the evening Mr. Eliot announced the engagement of a fellow member Mr. Earle. It was proposed to pass a vote of congratulation and send it to him, but no definite action was taken.

mittee to investigate the whole matter and make such arrangements as it saw fit. G.N. Jones, S.A. Eliot, Lane, and Spelman were appointed as said committee.

On motion of Spelman, an assessment of twenty five (25.) cents per member was voted to defray expenses for the year present.

The Society then voted to adjourn Time 10.45

During the evening Mr. Eliot announced the engagement of a fellow member Mr. Earle. It was proposed to pass a vote of congratulation and send it to him, but no definite action was taken.

C.S. Cambridge, June 29/86

There will be an all day excursion down the Harbor on sloop "Siesta" on Monday July 5th. Each member must bring his own dinner, but by order of the Committee, must not bring any lady or ladies. Mr. H.M. Spelman 62 Sparks St, Cambridge will furnish further information as to time and place of meeting etc, to all members intending to join the party. Please reply at once to him stating ability or inability to go.

Will all members please notify the Secretary at once of any change of address? Edward L. Rand Secretary.

C.S. Cambridge, June 29/86

There will be an all day excursion down the Harbor on sloop "Siesta" on Monday, July 5th. Each member must bring his own dinner but by order of the Committee, must not bring any lady or ladies. Mr. H.M. Spelman 62 Sparks St, Cambridge will furnish further information as to time and place of meeting etc, to all members intending to join the party. Please reply at once to him stating ability or inability to go.

Will all members please notify the Secretary at once of any change of address? Edward L. Rand

Secretary

Monday, July 5th 1886.

Excursion in Boston Bay.

In accordance with the notice set forth on the opposite page, all members of the C.S. who had signified their intention of taking part in the all day excursion on the "Siesta," were furnished with the further information that instead of making a voyage "down the Harbor," it had been found necessary to start from Magnolia and thence sail up to the City, and that it was proposed to leave Boston on the 8.10 train.

By nine minutes past eight the C.S. party consisting of S.A. Eliot, Bates, Prentiss, Townsend, Greenleaf, H.L. Rand, F.M. and J.L. Wakefield - had assembled at the Eastern depot laden with bags, baskets and bundles. At Beverly they were joined by Spelman, so that all told the officers, crew and passengers for the "Siesta" were nine souls. The few incidents of the trip to Magnolia are quickly told. As the slight formality of purchasing tickets had been omitted for want of time, it became necessary gently to bulldoze the conductor in order

Monday, July 5th 1886.

----- Excursion in Boston Bay -----

In accordance with the notice set forth on the opposite page, all members of the C.S. who had signified their intention of taking part in the all day excursion on the "Siesta," were furnished with the further information that instead of making a voyage "down the Harbor," it had been found necessary to start from Magnolia and thence sail up to the City, and that it was proposed to leave Boston on the 8.10 train.

By nine minutes past eight the C.S. party consisting of S.A. Eliot, Bates, Prentiss, Townsend, Greenleaf, H.L. Rand, F.M. and J.L. Wakefield had assembled at the Eastern depot laden with bags, baskets and bundles. At Beverly they were joined by Spelman, so that all told the officers, crew and passengers for the "Siesta" were nine souls. The few incidents of the trip to Magnolia are quickly told. As the slight formality of purchasing tickets had been omitted for want of time, it became necessary gently to bulldoze the conductor in order to avoid paying cash fares. This was accomplished satisfactorily. The only other ripples of excitement were Spelman's reception when he boarded the train, and Townsend's humane endeavors to secure the safety of a drunken imbecile who insisted on performing acrobatic feats on the car platform.

It had been an extremely hot morning in Boston, but on leaving the train at Magnolia we were greeted by a fresh easterly breeze which had cooled the air and seemed to promise good sailing weather. Some little difficulty was experienced at this point in finding room for six or eight more people than the little barge which was to take us to the point was ever intended to carry, and a short delay was caused by financial agent Rand's protracted efforts to arrange with the station master about payment for tickets. Just as some elderly females were preparing to hold an indignation meeting, everything and everybody was happily adjusted, and we started on our three mile drive through the woods and marshes. The recorder in trying to manipulate the brake while holding a dozen or more packages contrived to deposit a bag of choice fruit by the

to avoid paying cash fares. This was accomplished satisfactorily. The only other ripples of excitement were Spelman's reception when he boarded the train, and Townsend's humane endeavors to secure the safety of a drunken imbecile who insisted on performing acrobatic feats on the car platform.

It had been an extremely hot morning in Boston, but on leaving the train at Magnolia we were greeted by a fresh easterly breeze which had cooled the air and seemed to promise good sailing weather. Some little difficulty was experienced at this point in finding room for six or eight more people than the little barge which was to take us to the point was ever intended to carry, and a short delay was caused by financial agent Rand's protracted efforts to arrange with the station master about payment for tickets. Just as some elderly females were preparing to hold an indignation meeting, everything and everybody was happily adjusted, and we started on our three mile drive through the woods and marshes. The recorder in trying to manipulate the brake while holding a dozen or more packages contrived to deposit a bag of choice fruit by the roadside, but without further mishap we reached our destination, and found the "Siesta" riding quietly at her anchorage in the cove behind Kettle Island. Before going on board it was considered prudent to take account of stock, and as the liquid supplies appeared to be hardly equal to the probable demands, a large committee visited the store - which, by the way, was conducted on strictly temperance principles - and purchased many bottles of Apollinaris and ginger beer.

The anchor was weighed soon after half past ten. At first the wind though still easterly was rather light, but it soon freshened and held well all day. The weather was delightful, the "Siesta" went rapidly enough to keep everyone in good spirits, occasional brushes with fishermen - in which we were not uniformly victorious - furnished some amusement, and with many songs and occasional sweet strains from Greenleaf's zither the morning passed very pleasantly. About half past twelve preparations for dinner were begun. At this time we were in the neighborhood of Egg Rock and there was sufficient sea on to give the roadside, but without further mishap we reached our destination, and found the "Siesta" riding quietly at her anchorage in the cove behind Kettle Island. Before going on board it was considered prudent to take account of stock, and as the liquid supplies appeared to be hardly equal to the probable demand, a large committee visited the store - which, by the way, was conducted on strictly temperance principles - and purchased many bottles of Apollinaris and ginger beer.

The anchor was weighed soon after half past ten. At first the wind though still easterly was rather light, but it soon freshened and held well all day. The weather was delightful, the "Siesta" went rapidly enough to keep everyone in good spirits, occasional brushes with fishermen - in which we were not uniformly victorious - furnished some amusement and with many songs and occasional sweet strains from Greenleaf's zither the morning passed very pleasantly. About half past twelve preparations for dinner were begun. At this time we were in the neighborhood of Egg Rock and there was sufficient sea on to give the boat a decided roll. Rand and F. M. Wakefield, who were below, suddenly concluded that they preferred the pure air of heaven, and refused to perform further duty as stewards. Bates curled up in the stern sheets and declared with a sad smile that he was not hungry, and several of the others for a time seemed to lose much of their appetite for the delicacies before them. As nothing but some crackers and Apollinaris was left at the close of the feast however, out of an abundant supply, it is probable that no one suffered seriously. By 1.30 the "Siesta" was off the mouth of the Harbor, but instead of sailing directly up to the city, it was decided to stand on through Shirley Gut. The next hour and a half was spent in cruising up and down the Harbor and watching the city yacht race. Before half past three we had moored among the hundreds of small craft off City Point, and soon after landed near the South Boston Yacht Club float. Our "Siesta" excursion was over, and one more delightful day was added to our long list of C.S. memories.

John L. Wakefield.
Recorder pro tem.

boat a decided roll. Rand and F.M. Wakefield, who were below, suddenly concluded that they preferred the pure air of heaven, and refused to perform further duty as stewards. Bates curled up in the stern sheets and declared with a sad smile that he was not hungry, and several of the others for a time seemed to lose much of their appetite for the delicacies before them. As nothing but some crackers and Apollinaris was left at the close of the feast however, out of an abundant supply, it is probable that no one suffered seriously. By 1.30 the "Siesta" was off the mouth of the Harbor, but instead of sailing directly up to the city, it was decided to stand on through Shirley Gut. The next hour and a half was spent in cruising up and down the Harbor and watching the city yacht race. Before half past three we had moored among the hundreds of small craft off City Point, and soon after landed near the South Boston Yacht Club float. Our "Siesta" excursion was over, and one more delightful day was added to our long list of C.S. memories.

John L. Wakefield
Recorder pro tem.

Summer of 1886

During the month of July J.L. Wakefield and E.L. Rand made many efforts to organize an expedition to Mt. Desert, more from a desire to secure a pleasant party than to do scientific work. There were no rooms to be had at any of the hotels at Northeast Harbor, so it was necessary for any members who wished to revisit the old haunts of the C.S. to establish Camp Asticou as a shelter, if for no other purpose. For many reasons it was extremely hard to organize a party this summer, so that in consequence Wakefield and Rand received few responses to their invitation. Enough responded, however, to secure the establishment of a camp. The small tent was not needed for the two large tents and the parlor tent furnished all necessary accommodation to members.

Summer of 1886

During the month of July J.L. Wakefield and E.L. Rand made many efforts to organize an expedition to Mt. Desert, more from a desire to secure a pleasant party than to do scientific work. There were no rooms to be had at any of the hotels at Northeast Harbor, so it was necessary for any members who wished to revisit the old haunts of the C.S. to establish Camp Asticou as a shelter, if for no other purpose. For many reasons it was extremely hard to organize a party this summer, so that in consequence Wakefield and Rand received few responses to their invitation. Enough responded, however, to secure the establishment of a camp. The small tent was not needed for the two large tents and the parlor tent furnished all necessary accommodation to members.

It may be here mentioned that the Committee appointed on May 4th to investigate the plan of a Summer Cruise, had abandoned the project for want of encouragement.

The members of the C. S. present at Mt. Desert during the summer of 1886 were the following: -

Henry M. Spelman.
 Samuel A. Eliot.
 Frank M. Wakefield
 Henry L. Rand
 John L. Wakefield
 Edward L. Rand
 Walter C. Burrage
 John Prentiss
 Benj. E. Bates
 Gilbert N. Jones
 and probably John McG. Foster.

If all these members had joined the camp the expedition would have been most successful, but as a matter of fact only six of them were campers. The latter part of July S.A. Eliot and

It may be here mentioned that the committee appointed on May 4th to investigate the plan of a Summer Cruise, had abandoned the project for want of encouragement.

The members of the C.S. present at Mt. Desert during the summer of 1886 were the following: —

Henry M. Spelman
 Samuel A. Eliot
 Frank M. Wakefield
 Henry L. Rand
 John L. Wakefield
 Edward L. Rand
 Walter C. Burrage
 John Prentiss
 Benj. E. Bates
 Gilbert N. Jones

and probably John McG. Foster

If all these members had joined the camp the expedition would have been most successful, but as a matter of fact only six of them were campers.

The latter part of July S.A. Eliot and Spelman in company with friends arrived at N.E. Harbor in the "~~Siesta~~", - ~~this the annual cruise from Boston.~~ Spelman remained at the "Ancestral" ^{about two weeks, including time spent in cruising,} for ~~several days~~ and then returned to Boston. S.A. Eliot remained during August.

About the same time F.M. Wakefield arrived at S.W. Harbor. He spent a couple of weeks there. About the time of his departure H.L. Rand came to S.W. Harbor, and stayed there until Aug. 23rd. He spent most of his time cruising in his new and swift yacht "Lanita". The campers have to thank him for an afternoon of pleasant drifting off the mouth of the Harbor. He visited camp frequently during his stay.

Forster was supposed to be at Bar Harbor the middle of the summer, but nothing definite is known concerning his stay.

On Saturday, Aug. 7th J.L. Wakefield and E.L. Rand arrived on the "Mt. Desert" after a foggy morning sail from Rockland. They were formally welcomed to the Island by F.M. Wakefield, who met them on the wharf at S.W. Harbor. Soon, however, a fair maiden carried him from their sight,

Spelman in company with friends arrived at N.E. Harbor in the "Siesta,"—~~this the annual cruise from Boston.~~ Spelman remained at the "Ancestral" about two weeks, including time spent in cruising, for several days ^ and then returned to Boston. S.A. Eliot remained during August.

About the same time F.M. Wakefield arrived at S.W. Harbor. He spent a couple of weeks there. About the time of his departure H.L. Rand came to S.W. Harbor, and stayed there until Aug. 23rd. He spent most of his time cruising in his new and swift yacht "Lanita". The campers have to thank him for an afternoon of pleasant drifting off the mouth of the Harbor. He visited camp frequently during his stay.

On Saturday, Aug. 7th J.L. Wakefield and E.L. Rand arrived on the "Mt. Desert" after a foggy morning sail from Rockland. They were formally welcomed to the Island by F.M. Wakefield, who met them on wharf at S.W. Harbor. Soon, however, a fair maiden carried him from their sight, and they were obliged to embark on the catboat "Asticou" alone. They reached the Head of the Harbor about dinner time, so were able to do little until dinner was over. It was a great shock to find that the "camp table" was a thing of the past, and that the campers were forced to occupy a table with five ladies!

The afternoon was warm and bright, - a most suitable day for pitching camp. Directly after dinner a jigger was procured, and the tents, furniture, etc., conveyed to the field. Then came work and toil worthy to be sung in song! The two veteran campers worked on without intermission until after sunset, aided only for a short time by two or three boys from the hotel. When darkness came they had their sleeping tent pitched and furnished, and the parlor tent pitched and partly furnished, - splendid reward of their toil! - Of course it rained during the night, and the unfortunate Rand was obliged to go forth and loosen ropes!

The next day, Sunday, they rested. On Monday Aug. 9th, they pitched the other large sleeping tent. On Tuesday Aug. 10 the great fisherman

and they were obliged to embark on the catboat "Asticou" alone. They reached the Head of the Harbor about dinner time, so were able to do little until dinner was over. It was a great shock to find that the "camp table" was a thing of the past, and that the campers were forced to occupy a table with five ladies!

The afternoon was warm and bright - a most suitable day for pitching camp. Directly after dinner a jigger was procured, and the tents, furniture, etc., conveyed to the field. Then came work and toil worthy to be sung in song! The two veteran campers worked on without intermission until after sunset, aided only for a short time by two or three boys from the hotel. When darkness came they had their sleeping tent pitched and furnished, - splendid reward of their toil! - Of course it rained during the night, and the unfortunate Rand was obliged to go forth and loosen ropes!

The next day, Sunday, they rested. On Monday Aug. 9th, they pitched the other large sleeping tent. On Tuesday Aug. 10 the great fisherman

Master Percy A. Rand with his friend George Derby, arrived, and spent two days in camp.

On Thursday the campers rowed to S.W. Harbor and dined there with friends. When they returned they brought Mr. Harry L. Rand back with them. He spent two days at camp. On Friday Aug 13 the famous ascent of Sargent Mt. was made by the campers, and was most remarkable for the discovery of the "Maple Spring,"—an abundant supply of the clearest, coldest water. This Spring was discovered by H. L. Rand in 1885, and he acted as guide on this occasion. On the summit S. A. Eliot and Mr. Nutter with a female retinue were met, and escorted to the Spring. Here the two parties lunched together, and then parted.—The ascent was made via the Amphitheatre, the descent via the Gorge and Hadlock Pond. The Gorge was found in a very bad condition for traveling.

Saturday, Aug 14th H. L. Rand returned to S. W. Harbor, and Burrage arrived, bringing with him much lime juice and raspberry vinegar.

On Saturday night the fog cleared away suddenly, and a N.W. gale sprung up. Burrage

Master Percy A. Rand with his friend George Derby, arrived, and spent two days in camp.

On Thursday the campers rowed to S.W. Harbor and dined there with friends. When they returned they brought Mr. Harry L. Rand back with them. He spent two days at camp. On Friday Aug 13 the famous ascent of Sargent Mt. was made by the campers, and was most remarkable for the discovery of the "Maple Spring,"—an abundant supply of the clearest, coldest water. This spring was discovered by H. L. Rand in 1885, and he acted as guide on this occasion. On the summit S. A. Eliot and Mr. Nutter with a female retinue were met, and escorted to the Spring. Here the two parties lunched together, and then parted.—The ascent was made via the Amphitheatre, the descent via the Gorge and Hadlock Pond. The Gorge was found in a very bad condition for traveling.

Saturday, Aug 14th H. L. Rand returned to S. W. Harbor, and Burrage arrived, bringing with him much lime juice and raspberry vinegar.

On Saturday night the fog cleared away suddenly, and a N. W. gale sprung up. Burrage and Wakefield took a pleasure row down the Harbor while Rand held on to the tents. After the return of the boating party Rand and Wakefield took turns in watching over the camp until the gale abated as suddenly as it had arisen. This was about 3 A.M.

On Monday, Aug. 16 Burrage and Rand ascended Brown Mt.

On Wednesday, Aug. 18. Burrage, Wakefield, and Rand went to Bar Harbor on the "Silver Star", dined at the "Grand Central", made some calls, and returned to camp on foot via Otter Creek. For the first mile or two slow walking was the rule, but during the remaining ten miles the campers made a break. Burrage ran most of the way, Wakefield and Rand walked. The former reached the Head of the Harbor, 2 hours, 25 minutes from Bar Harbor; the others arrived between ten and fifteen minutes later.

On Thursday Aug. 19 a "Hop" was given at Savage's which was attended by all the campers, including Bates and Prentiss who arrived late Wednesday afternoon. After the hop, a grand bonfire and celebration was held at camp in honor of

and Wakefield took a pleasure row down the Harbor while Rand held on to the tents. After the return of the boating party Rand and Wakefield took turns in watching over the camp until the gale abated as suddenly as it had arisen. This was about 3 A.M.

On Monday, Aug 16 Burrage and Rand ascended Brown Mt.

On Wednesday, Aug 18. Burrage, Wakefield, and Rand went to Bar Harbor on the "Silver Star," dined at the "Grand Central," made some calls, and returned to camp on foot via Otter Creek. For the first mile or two slow walking was the rule, but during the remaining ten miles the campers made a break. Burrage ran most of the way, Wakefield and Rand walked. The former reached the Head of the Harbor, 2 hours, 25 minutes from Bar Harbor; the others arrived between ten and fifteen minutes later.

On Thursday Aug. 19 a "Hop" was given at Savage's which was attended by all the campers, including Bates and Prentiss who arrived late Wednesday afternoon. After the hop, a grand bonfire and celebration was held at camp in honor of Rand's departure on the following day. It was after two o'clock A.M. before all hands retired.

At noon on Friday, Aug 20th Rand left camp, was escorted in the camp boat "Anita" to S.W. Harbor, by Wakefield and Burrage, and thence departed on the "Mt. Desert" for Boston.

The day after his departure G.N. Jones arrived by canoe, and joined the camp.

Wakefield left camp on Monday, Aug. 23rd. Burrage left about the end of the same week. Prentiss departed a few days ^{later}, leaving Bates and Jones to strike camp, or rather the one tent remaining, as soon as a favorable day came. The last named members are therefore responsible for storing, etc.

The only remarkable event reported during the last week or so of camp was Jones' unexpected and most graceful tumble out of his canoe just off the float, before an enthusiastic but silent company of friends.

As might have been expected no scientific work was done worthy of mention. The long drought in the early summer made botanical researches of little avail.

Rand's departure on the following day. It was after two o'clock A.M. before all hands retired.

At noon on Friday, Aug 20th Rand left camp, was escorted in the camp boat "Anita" to S.W. Harbor, by Wakefield and Burrage, and thence departed on the "Mt. Desert" for Boston.

The day after his departure G.N. Jones arrived by canoe, and joined the camp.

Wakefield left camp on Monday, Aug. 23rd. Burrage left about the end of the same week. Prentiss departed a few days ^{later}, leaving Bates and Jones to strike the camp, or rather the one tent remaining, as soon as a favorable day came. The last named members are therefore responsible for storing, etc.

The only remarkable event reported during the last week or so of camp was Jones' unexpected and most graceful tumble out of his canoe just off the float, before an enthusiastic but silent company of friends.

As might have been expected no scientific work was done worthy of mention. The long drought in the early summer made botanical researches of little avail.

Socially, the summer was not as pleasant as that of 1885, for the people at Savage's were not as interesting. While the Secretary was in camp there was enough time spent in camp and on camp expeditions to make it seem a little like old times. After his departure more "girling" was indulged in, and the camp was more deserted. It is reported that Prentiss (P.O.) was not admired as much as the previous year, and that he considers womankind ungrateful.

Hot lime juice, brewed under the direction of Wakefield and Rand, was a great attraction during the camping season. Crackers, marmalade and raspberry vinegar were also often met with at the evening feasts. All these luxuries added greatly to the comfort of camp life. Rand's alcohol "Aetna" was too small, however, to meet the great demands upon its capacity.

So ended the season of 1886. Camp Asticou stood for ~~over~~ three weeks, and was occupied during that time by six campers, and three invited guests.

Socially, the summer was not as pleasant as that of 1885, for the people at Savage's were not as interesting. While the Secretary was in camp there was enough time spent in camp and on camp expeditions to make it seem a little like old times. After his departure more "girling" was indulged in, and the camp was more deserted. It is reported that Prentiss (P.O.) was not admired as much as the previous year, and that he considers womankind ungrateful.

Hot lime juice, brewed under the direction of Wakefield and Rand, was a great attraction during the camping season. Crackers, marmalade and raspberry vinegar were also often met with at the evening feasts. All these luxuries added greatly to the comfort of camp life. Rand's alcohol "Aetna" was too small, however, to meet the great demands upon its capacity.

So ended the season of 1886. Camp Asticou stood for over three weeks, and was occupied during that time by six campers, and three invited guests.

Meeting, November 18th 1886
(25 Holyoke St.)

By invitation of Messrs. J.L. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, E.L. Rand, and J.R. Wakefield the Society met on the above date at the room of the last-named, at 25 Holyoke St., Cambridge. The meeting was in honor of the return of Charles Eliot, the honored President, from foreign parts. At 7.30 he was escorted to the bright and cheerful room of Mr. Wakefield by the Secretary, F.M. Wakefield, and S.A. Eliot. When they arrived few members were present, but it was not long before they began to come. Until nine o'clock the time was spent in talking and in welcoming the long-absent Captain. At that time Vice President, Spelman, called the meeting to order, then after a few well chosen words resigned the chair to the President. Great applause followed, for which Capt. Eliot modestly returned thanks. On motion the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Prentiss tried to find fault with some remarks relating to him, but S.A. Eliot testified to the truth of

Meeting, November 18th 1886
(25 Holyoke St.)

By invitation of Messrs. J.L. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, E.L. Rand, and J.R. Wakefield the Society met on the above date at the room of the last-named, at 25 Holyoke St., Cambridge. The meeting was in honor of the return of Charles Eliot, the honored President, from foreign parts. At 7.30 he was escorted to the bright and cheerful room of Mr. Wakefield by the Secretary, F.M. Wakefield, and S.A. Eliot. When they arrived few members were present, but it was not long before they began to come. Until nine o'clock the time was spent in talking and in welcoming the long-absent Captain. At that time Vice President, Spelman, called the meeting to order, then after a few well chosen words resigned the chair to the President. Great applause followed, for which Capt. Eliot modestly returned thanks. On motion the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Prentiss tried to find fault with some remarks relating to him, but S.A. Eliot testified to the truth of such statements, and his objection was therefore disregarded. On motion J.L. Wakefield was appointed to write an account of the Cruise on July 5th in the Records. (see ante p. 8)

A discussion then followed as to the Mt. Desert camping ground, etc, but no definite action was taken as to any change of location.

The Captain was requested to relate his experiences at the grounding of the "Pavonia," on which steamship he was a passenger, but he refused. Later, however, he held forth on the subject to many interested hearers. — The meeting then devoted itself to a discussion of the refreshments provided for its entertainment. For an hour the members enjoyed conversation and reminiscences, both scientific and otherwise, and then adjourned about 10.30 P.M. It had been intended to have music as a part of the entertainment, but the time was so fully occupied that it was omitted.

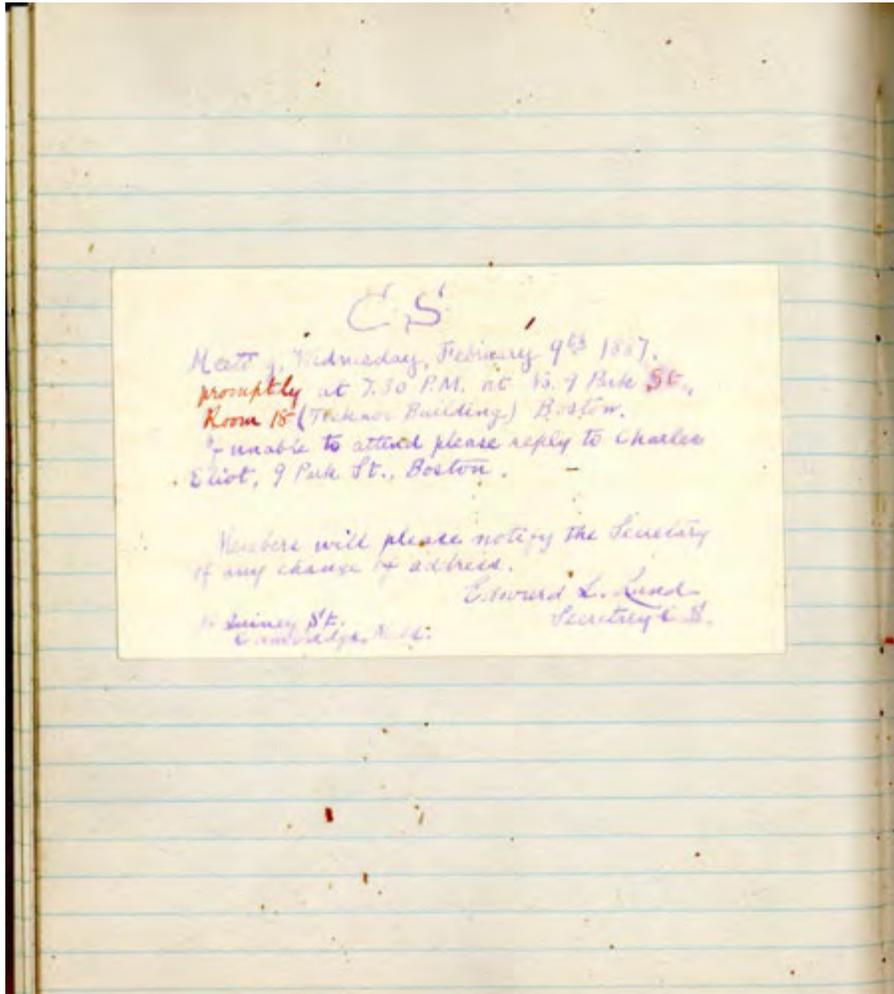

Present. C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, Thaxter, Townsend, Spelman, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, Prentiss, Davis, Bates, J.L. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, and E.L. Rand

such statements, and his objection was therefore disregarded. On motion J.L. Wakefield was appointed to write an account of the Cruise on July 5th in the Records. (see ante p. 8)

A discussion then followed as to the Mt. Desert camping ground, etc, but no definite action was taken as to any change of location.

The Captain was requested to relate his experiences at the grounding of the "Pavonia," on which steamship he was a passenger, but he refused. Later, however, he held forth on the subject to many interested hearers. — The meeting then devoted itself to a discussion of the refreshments provided for its entertainment. For an hour the members enjoyed conversation and reminiscences, both scientific and otherwise, and then adjourned about 10.30 P.M. It had been intended to have music as a part of the entertainment, but the time was so fully occupied that it was omitted.

Present. C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, Thaxter, Townsend, Spelman, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, Prentiss, Davis, Bates, J.L. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, and E.L. Rand

C.S.
Meeting, Wednesday, February 9th 1887, promptly at 7.30 P.M. at No. 9 Park St.,
Room 18 (Ticknor Building) Boston.
If unable to attend please reply to Charles Eliot, 9 Park St., Boston.

Members will please notify the Secretary of any change of address.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.
16 Quincy St.
Cambridge, Mass.

Meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 9/87
(9 Park St, Boston.)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kind invitation of its President, Charles Eliot, in his office, No. 9. Park St., Boston. As this was the first meeting of the Society in Boston there was naturally some doubt as to the probable attendance of members, but the result showed the great wisdom of the new departure.

The following named members were present:
C. Eliot, Spelman, E. L. Rand, Greenleaf, Townsend, J. L. Wakefield, F. M. Wakefield, J. R. Wakefield, Davis, Lane, G. N. Jones, H. C. Jones, Burrage, Prentiss, H. L. Rand, and Bliss.

About eight o'clock the President called the meeting to order. By his request John L. Wakefield read the account of the Excursion in Boston Bay on July 5/86 (Page 8 ante). It was listened to with great interest and received much applause. The Secretary then read by request the minutes of the Summer of 1886, which will be found on page 12 of the present volume. As the Society by this time had had enough reading of records it was

Meeting, Wednesday, Feb. 9/87
(9 Park St, Boston.)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kind invitation of its President, Charles Eliot, in his office, No. 9. Park St., Boston. As this was the first meeting of the Society in Boston there was naturally some doubt as to the probable attendance of members, but the result showed the great wisdom of the new departure.

The following named members were present:
C. Eliot, Spelman, E. L. Rand, Greenleaf, Townsend, J. L. Wakefield, F. M. Wakefield, J. R. Wakefield, Davis, Lane, G. N. Jones, H. C. Jones, Burrage, Prentiss, H. L. Rand, and Bliss.

About eight o'clock the President called the meeting to order. By his request John L. Wakefield read the account of the Excursion in Boston Bay on July 5/86 (page 8 ante). It was listened to with great interest and received much applause. The Secretary then read by request the minutes of the Summer of 1886, which will be found on page 12 of the present volume. As the Society by this time had had enough reading of records it was

(copy)

In accordance with a vote of the Champlain Society at a late meeting, the committee appointed for that purpose expresses to the Reverend John McGau Foster the heartiest congratulations of the Society on his recent marriage, and its sincerest wishes for his happiness in the new relations into which he has entered.

Henry Champion Jones
Edward L. Rand.

(The other member of the Committee, John Prentiss, offered in the first instance to draw up the resolutions, but after delaying on various pretexts for two months, refused to do so. The other members of the Committee were obliged therefore to draw up the above expression of congratulation and goodwill, and send it in haste. Prentiss was given opportunity to sign, but did not do so.)

(copy)

In accordance with a vote of the Champlain Society at a late meeting, the committee appointed for that purpose expresses to the Reverend John McGau Foster the heartiest congratulations of the Society on his recent marriage, and its sincerest wishes for his happiness in the new relations into which he has entered.

Henry Champion Jones
Edward L. Rand.

(The other member of the Committee, John Prentiss, offered in the first instance to draw up the resolutions, but after delaying on various pretexts for two months refused to do so. The other members of the Committee were obliged therefore to draw up the above expression of congratulation and goodwill, and send it in haste. Prentiss was given opportunity to sign, but did not do so.)

voted to accept the records of the last meeting (on Nov. 18/86) without reading. Spelman made a few corrections in the account (as given on page 14) of his summer stay at Mt. Desert, which will be found noted in the proper place.

The Secretary then announced the marriage of a member, the Rev. John McGau Foster, now of Bangor, Me., and asked that appropriate action be taken on this happy event. The President appointed Prentiss (who had previously moved that he should be appointed!), H.C. Jones, and E.L. Rand, a Committee to prepare suitable resolutions.

The President then read a most interesting paper on the English and French Trading Posts on the coast of New England, etc., being No VII of his Notes on the History of the Coast, and of Mt. Desert in particular. This paper was listened to with the greatest interest, and accepted with thanks. It is of course impossible in this place to do justice to these valuable historical notes that our worthy Captain has prepared with so much real love and care; when examined they speak for themselves. That voted to accept the records of the last meeting (on Nov. 18/86) without reading. Spelman made a few corrections in the account (as given on page 14) of his summer stay at Mt. Desert, which will be found noted in the proper place.

The Secretary then announced the marriage of a member, the Rev. John McGau Foster, now of Bangor, Me., and asked that appropriate action be taken on this happy event. The President appointed Prentiss (who had previously moved that he should be appointed!) H.C. Jones, and E.L. Rand, a committee to prepare suitable resolutions.

The President then read a most interesting paper on the English and French Trading Posts on the coast of New England, etc., being No VII of his Notes on the history of the Coast, and of Mt. Desert in particular. This paper was listened to with the greatest interest, and accepted with thanks. It is of course impossible in this place to do justice to these valuable historical notes that our worthy Captain has prepared with so much real love and care; when examined they speak for themselves. That they are much appreciated by the members is shown by the many questions that are asked. The Captain by many maps and his well-known store of coast-lore makes his papers vivid and instructive in the highest degree.

24.

At the conclusion of this paper, the President and the Secretary made an appeal for original papers from members on subjects of interest to the Society, and for contributions of books, especially all published papers and works by members, for the Society Library. The Secretary announced that since the last meeting he had received from C. Eliot the gift of one book and three pamphlets for the Library: -

Constance of Acadia (novel) ?
 The SpHINGIDAE of New England, C.H. Fernald
 The Butterflies of Maine "
 Maverick's View of New England.

The business meeting then adjourned.

With the assistance of Caterer H.L. Rand and other members the Captain then spread forth a banquet on the large drawing table in the centre of the office. The menu consisted of raw oysters

they are much appreciated by the members is shown by the many questions that are asked. The Captain by many maps and his well-known store of coast-lore makes his papers vivid and instructive in the highest degree.

At the conclusion of this paper, the President and the Secretary made an appeal for original papers from members on subjects of interest to the Society, and for contributions of books, especially all published papers and works by members, for the Society Library. The Secretary announced that since the last meeting he had received from C. Eliot the gift of one book and three pamphlets for the Library: -

Constance of Acadia (novel) ?
 The SpHINGIDAE of New England, C.H. Fernald
 The Butterflies of Maine "
 Maverick's View of New England

The business meeting then adjourned.

With the assistance of Caterer H.L. Rand and other members the Captain then spread forth a banquet on the large drawing table in the centre of the office. The menu consisted of raw oysters an can with the usual "fixings", sandwiches, crackers, ice cream and cake, and cider as a beverage. Everything was duly appreciated judging from the havoc made in all the supplies set forth. Thrilling adventures with ice cream tubs were reported by those volunteering to manage the ice cream. They concluded that the combination of salt and ice could not be comfortably handled without gloves.

For over an hour the members talked and laughed together enjoying every moment. All were loath to take their departure, and it was after ten o'clock before anyone left the pleasant room. It was freely suggested that Room 18, 9 Park St, Boston, was the best place possible for the Society headquarters, and that all the meetings should be there held! The Captain did not express his opinion, but hinted that some arrangement might be made. So many of the C.S. members either live in Boston, or are in town every day that it may well be that Boston is a more favorable place to meet than Cambridge.

About half past ten the Cambridge party

au can with the usual "fixings," sandwiches, crackers, ice cream and cake, and cider as a beverage. Everything was duly appreciated judging from the havoc made in all the supplies set forth. Thrilling adventures with ice cream tubs were reported by those volunteering to manage the ice cream. They concluded that the combination of salt and ice could not be comfortably handled without gloves.

For over an hour the members talked and laughed together, enjoying every moment. All were loath to take their departure, and it was after ten o'clock before anyone left the pleasant room. It was freely suggested that Room 18, 9 Park St, Boston, was the best place possible for the Society headquarters, and that all the meeting should be there held! The Captain did not express his opinion, but hinted that some arrangement might be made. So many of the C.S. Members either live in Boston, or are in town every day that it may well be that Boston is a more favorable place to meet than Cambridge.

About half past ten the Cambridge party

started for home. Owing to a most unreasonable and infamous strike on the Cambridge horse railroad, the unfortunate members were obliged either to wait until 11.20 for a train, or walk home. It was a glorious night, bright moonlight, and cool air, so that the walkers were well rewarded for their pains. Prentiss was too feeble, or too lazy, to take so much exercise so that he was conveyed home in either a barge or an express wagon.

The walking party was unfortunate enough to become separated, so that Davis and J. N. Wakefield formed the first division, followed by two other divisions, one consisting of Lane and E. L. Rand, the other of Spelman and H. L. Rand. Harvard Square was reached about quarter past eleven.

On this occasion H. L. Rand rendered great service as caterer, etc., and aided the worthy Captain in his successful efforts to minister to the bodily comfort of the many members present at this most pleasant and memorable meeting.

started for home. Owing to a most unreasonable and infamous strike on the Cambridge horse railroad, the unfortunate members were obliged either to wait until 11.20 for a train, or walk home. It was a glorious night, bright moonlight, and cool air, so that the walkers were well rewarded for their pains. Prentiss was too feeble, or too lazy, to take so much exercise so that he was conveyed home in either a barge or an express wagon.

The walking party was unfortunate enough to become separated, so that Davis and J. R. Wakefield formed the first division, followed by ^{of} two other divisions, one consisting ~~one~~ of Lane and E. L. Rand, the other of Spelman and H. L. Rand. Harvard Square was reached about quarter past eleven.

On this occasion H. L. Rand rendered great service as caterer, etc., and aided the worthy Captain in his successful efforts to minister to the bodily comfort of the many members present at this most pleasant and memorable meeting.

C.S.

Meeting, Friday, March 11th promptly at 7.30 P.M. at the house of Prof. Davis, 2 Bond
St. Corner of Concord Ave., Cambridge.

A paper is expected.

If unable to attend please reply as soon
as possible to Wm. M. Davis at above address.

16 Quincy St.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary

C.S.

Meeting, Friday, March 11th promptly at
7.30 P.M. at the house of Prof. Davis, 2 Bond
St. (corner of Concord Ave.), Cambridge.
A paper is expected.

If unable to attend, please reply as soon
as possible to Wm. M. Davis at above address.

16 Quincy St.
Cambridge

Edward L. Rand
Secretary

Meeting, Friday March 11th 1887
(2 Bond St. Cambridge.)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kind invitation of Prof. Davis at his house, 2 Bond St, Cambridge. Owing to the threatening skies, the cold blustering March wind, and the snow and ice underfoot the attendance was not very large. The members who did venture forth, however, were amply repaid for any ⁱⁿ⁻convenience they may have suffered. Seldom has the Society had a more attractive meeting, perhaps never under such pleasant auspices.

Soon after eight o'clock the members present, C. Eliot, Bates, J.R. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, Bliss, Townsend, H.C. Jones, E.L. Rand, and the host Mr. Davis, gathered around two large tables to inspect a number of most interesting maps, both foreign and domestic. Mr. Davis explained the different topographical methods, pointed out features of special interest, more particularly those relating to the geology of the country. After showing maps of parts of Norway, England, France, Switzerland, and Finland, the lecturer passed to a number of the Government

27

Meeting, Friday March 11th 1887
(2 Bond St. Cambridge)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kind invitation of Prof. Davis at his house, 2 Bond St, Cambridge. Owing to the threatening skies, the cold blustering March wind, and the snow and ice underfoot the attendance was not very large. The members who did venture forth, however, were amply repaid for any ⁱⁿ⁻convenience they may have suffered. Seldom has the Society had a more attractive meeting, perhaps never under such pleasant auspices.

Soon after eight o'clock the members present, C. Eliot, Bates, J.R. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, Bliss, Townsend, H.C. Jones, E.L. Rand, and the host Mr. Davis, gathered around two large tables to inspect a number of most interesting maps, both foreign and domestic. Mr. Davis explained the different topographical methods, pointed out features of special interest, more particularly those relating to the geology of the country. After showing maps of parts of Norway, England, France, Switzerland, and Finland, the lecturer passed to a number of the Government

maps, as yet not issued to the public, of various parts of the States and territories. In the short time that could be devoted to this inspection, all members must have gained a clearer idea of many features of the country than they had ever had before.

Soon after nine o'clock supper was announced, and, to the great pleasure of all the members, Mrs. Davis joined them. The C.S. has been famous for its keen appreciation of the good things of this life, especially in the way of food, and did justice to what was now set before it. The Secretary must needs here record that nowhere in the annals of the Society is there mention of such a banquet. Oysters, clams, rolls, crackers, ice cream, cake, "fly biscuit" (a name given by Dr. Townsend!), coffee, and the ever welcome "Polly" water made a feast fit for kings. The supper time passed most pleasantly in every way, no small part of the pleasure coming from the presence of Mrs. Davis.

It was after ten o'clock before the party left the pleasant dining room and returned to the parlor. The usual spirit of unrest unfortunately then took possession of some of the members, maps, as yet not issued to the public, of various parts of the states and territories. In the short time that could be devoted to this inspection, all members must have gained a clearer idea of many features of the country than they had ever had before.

Soon after nine o'clock supper was announced, and, to the great pleasure of all the members, Mrs. Davis joined them. The C.S. has been famous for its keen appreciation of the good things of this life, especially in the way of food, and did justice to what was now set before it. The Secretary must needs here record that nowhere in the annals of the Society is there mention of such a banquet. Oysters, clams, rolls, crackers, ice cream, cake, "fly biscuit" (a name given by Dr. Townsend!) coffee, and the ever welcome "Polly" water made a feast fit for kings. The supper time passed most pleasantly in every way, no small part of the pleasure coming from the presence of Mrs. Davis.

It was after ten o'clock before the party left the pleasant dining room and returned to the parlor. The usual spirit of unrest unfortunately then took possession of some of the members, and finally led all the Boston-bound members to depart in a body. Soon afterwards H.L. Rand was obliged to go, thus reducing the party to the host, J.R. Wakefield, Bates, and E.L. Rand. These looked over maps for half an hour longer, and were well repaid for remaining. At 10.30 or soon afterwards the meeting adjourned.

No formal business meeting was held, and the reading of the record of the last meeting was not called for.

Thus ended a most pleasant and instructive meeting. It is very noticeable that some paper or informal talk on a scientific or historical subject adds very much to the interest felt in the Society and its meetings. The Secretary therefore desires to call especial attention to the request for papers, essays, etc., made by the President at the meeting on Feb. 9th last.

and finally led all the Boston-bound members to depart in a body. Soon afterwards H.L. Rand was obliged to go, thus reducing the party to the host, J.R. Wakefield, Bates, and E.L. Rand. These looked over maps for half an hour longer, and were well repaid for remaining. At 10.30 or soon afterwards the meeting adjourned.

No formal business meeting was held, and the reading of the record of the last meeting was not called for.

Thus ended a most pleasant and instructive meeting. It is very noticeable that some paper or informal talk on a scientific or historical subject adds very much to the interest felt in the Society and its meetings. The Secretary therefore desires to call especial attention to the request for papers, essays, etc., made by the President at the meeting on Feb. 9th last.

C.S.

Meeting, Wednesday, April 13th 7.30 P.M.
at the house of Walter L. Burrage,
282 Newbury St., Boston.

Historical paper - "St. Sauveur."
If unable to attend, please, reply to Walter
L. Burrage at above address.
Edward L. Rand
Sec. C.S.

C.S.

Meeting, Wednesday, April 13th, 7.30 P.M.
at the house of Walter L. Burrage,
282 Newbury St. Boston.

Historical paper—"St. Sauveur."

If unable to attend, please reply to Walter
L. Burrage at above address.

Edward L. Rand

Sec. C.S.

Meeting, Wednesday, April 13th 1887
 (282 Newbury St., Boston.)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kind invitation of Mr. Walter L. Burrage at his residence, No. 282 Newbury St., Boston. This was the second of the Boston meetings, and was a disappointment as far as attendance was concerned. Every inducement had been offered to the Boston members, but few, only four, were present. It is deserving of severe censure that most of the members who did not appear were not polite enough to notify their host of their inability to be present, - a practice that much to the regret of many of the members seems to be steadily gaining ground.

The members present were Burrage, C. Eliot, Lane, Bates, J. L. Wakefield, F. M. Wakefield, G. N. Jones, H. C. Jones, Greenleaf, and E. L. Rand. They were made most comfortable in the bright, spacious library used on this occasion as a meeting place.

Soon after eight the President, C. Eliot,

Meeting, Wednesday, April 13th 1887
 (282 Newbury St., Boston.)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by the kind invitation of Mr. Walter L. Burrage at his residence, No. 282 Newbury St., Boston. This was the second of the Boston meetings, and was a disappointment as far as attendance was concerned. Every inducement had been offered to the Boston members, but few, only four, were present. It is deserving of severe censure that most of the members who did not appear were not polite enough to notify their host of their inability to be present, - a practice that much to the regret of many of the members seems to be steadily gaining ground.

The members present were Burrage, C. Eliot, Lane, Bates, J. L. Wakefield, F. M. Wakefield, G. N. Jones, H. C. Jones, Greenleaf, and E. L. Rand. They were made most comfortable in the bright, spacious library used on the occasion as a meeting place.

Soon after eight the President, C. Eliot,

31

read a most interesting paper on St. Sauveur, the Jesuits and their colonization of Mt. Desert. It was to many the most interesting historical paper that he has read thus far, - and this in itself is no small praise, as anyone who has heard all of the series can testify. It was listened to with the closest attention, and at its close received great applause. Our Historian finds little difficulty in identifying St. Sauveur with Fernaldi Point near the mouth of the Sound.

When the essay had been read, the members were invited by the host to proceed to the dining-room where supper awaited them. The supper was the most bountiful in every way that the Society has ever had at its meetings. Raw oysters, salad, ice-creams, fruit ices, rolls, cake, candied fruits, chocolate lemonade, etc. made the C.S. happy for some time. The display of floral decoration was welcomed by the members of the botanical department as a sign of its extending influence. As one of the read a most interesting paper on St. Sauveur, - the Jesuits and their colonization of Mt. Desert. It was to many the most interesting historical paper that he has read thus far, - and this in itself is no small praise, as anyone who has heard all of the series can testify. It was listened to with the closest attention, and at its close received great applause. Our Historian finds little difficulty in identifying St. Sauveur with Fernald's Point near the mouth of the Sound.

31

When the essay had been read, the members were invited by the host to proceed to the dining room where supper awaited them. The supper was the most bountiful in every way that the Society has ever had at its meetings. Raw oysters, salad, ice-creams, fruit ices, rolls, cake, candied fruits, chocolate, lemonade, etc. made the C.S. happy for some time. The display of floral decoration was welcomed by the members of the botanical department as a sign of its extending influence. As one of the members remarked "the supper was no picnic," for, lo, everything was of the best and served on the ancestral silver and china of the house of Burrage!

After the princely banquet was over, by invitation of the host the members adjourned to his quarters at the top of the house. Here they found cigars, cigarettes, and the C.S. drink, ginger ale awaiting them. For half an hour or more all talked together of many things, and found it hard to adjourn the meeting. At last, however, soon after 10.30 they bade good night to their charming host and wended their way, each to his home.

Just as they were leaving the house the door bell rang, and in marched Mr. Prentiss, who it was said had been passing the evening with some charmer, had let the time slip by, and now had the bad taste to appear without any good excuse for his conduct. The host, however, with true courtesy welcomed him and gave him a cigarette. He did not remain, but at once departed with the others.

members remarked "the supper was no picnic," for, lo, everything was of the best and served on the ancestral silver and china of the house of Burrage!

After the princely banquet was over, by invitation of the host the members adjourned to his quarters at the top of the house. Here they found cigars, cigarettes, and the C.S. drink, ginger ale awaiting them. For half an hour or more all talked together of many things, and found it hard to adjourn the meeting. At last, however, soon after 10.30 they bade good night to their charming host and wended their way, each to his home.

Just as they were leaving the house the door bell rang, and in marched Mr. Prentiss, who it was said had been passing the evening with some charmer, had let the time slip by, and now had the bad taste to appear without any good excuse for his conduct. The host, however, with true courtesy welcomed him and gave him a cigarette. He did not remain, but once departed with the others.

C.S.

The annual meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year and for the transaction of other business, will be held at the office of Charles Eliot, 9 Park St., Boston, room 18, on Thursday, May 19th 1887 punctually at 7.30 P.M.

A Report is expected. A large attendance is especially desired.
If unable to attend, please reply without fail to C. Eliot at above address.

Edward L. Rand
Sec.

C.S.

The annual meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year and for the transaction of other business will be held at the office of Charles Eliot, 9 Park St., Boston, room 18 on Thursday, May 19th 1887 punctually at 7.30 P.M.

A Report is expected. A large attendance is especially desired.

If unable to attend, please reply without fail to C. Eliot at above address.

Edward L. Rand
Sec.

ANNUAL MEETING

May 19th 1887

(9 Park St. Room 18, Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the time and place therein stated. The kindness of Mr. C. Eliot in offering the use of his office, and that of Mr. Spelman in providing food and drink were much appreciated by all. A large attendance was expected since only a few members had sent "regrets," but as usual there were many backsliders when the time came. Present: - C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, Lane, Greenleaf, Davis, Bliss, Spelman, Bates, S.N. Jones, H.C. Jones, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, Worthington, and E.L. Rand. The members expected who did not reply or appear were Hayward, Prentiss, Savage, Thaxter, Townsend, and F.M. Wakefield. Of these Prentiss was excusable, - being at home sick with the measles, - and Dr. Townsend presumably so excusable.

About eight o'clock the meeting was called to order by the President, C. Eliot. There was then some call, especially from Lane and S.A. Eliot, for the reading of the records of the last meeting. The

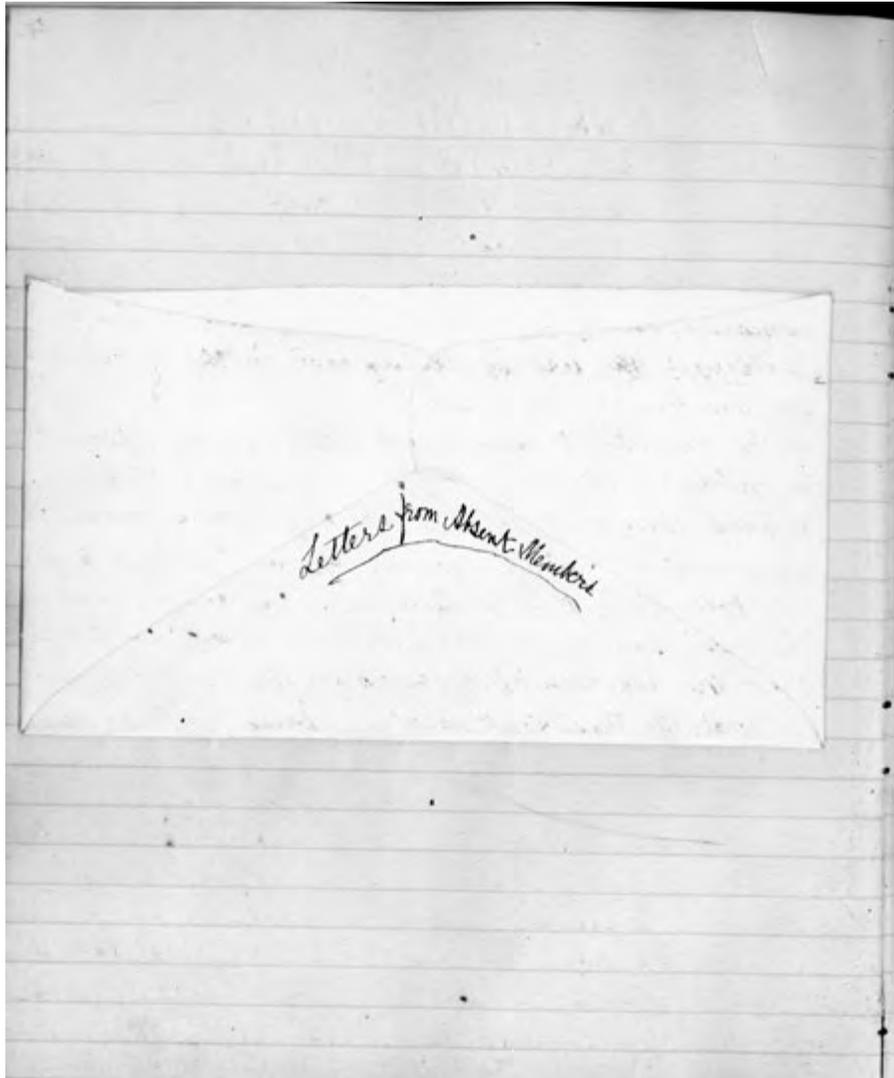

ANNUAL MEETING

May 19th 1887

(9 Park St. Room 18, Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the time and place therein stated. The kindness of Mr. C. Eliot in offering the use of his office, and that of Mr. Spelman in providing food and drink were much appreciated by all. A large attendance was expected since only a few members had sent "regrets," but as usual there were many backsliders when the time came. Present: - C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, Lane, Greenleaf, Davis, Bliss, Spelman, Bates, G.N. Jones, H.C. Jones, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, Worthington, and E.L. Rand. The members expected who did not reply or appear were Hayward, Prentiss, Savage, Thaxter, Townsend, and F.M. Wakefield. Of these Prentiss was excusable, - being at home sick with the measles, - and Dr. Townsend presumably so excusable.

About eight o'clock the meeting was called to order by the President, C. Eliot. There was then some call, especially from Lane and S.A. Eliot, for the reading of the records of the last meeting. The

Letters from Absent Members

C.H. Fargo & Co.
Manufacturers & Jobbers
of Boots & Shoes.

C.H. Fargo C.E. Fargo S.M. Fargo F.M. Fargo

Chicago, May 13 - 1887

To the Rt. Hon. Pres. C. S. Charles Eliot.

My dear Sir:

I have notice
of the an. meeting of the C.S. now set for the 19th. I am indeed sorry to say that my duties as "cobbler" in the West will not permit me to come to the meeting.

Very truly yours,
H.A. deWindt

C.H. Fargo C.E. Fargo S.M. Fargo F.M. Fargo
C.H. Fargo & Co.
Manufacturers & Jobbers
of Boots & Shoes

Chicago May 13 - 1887

To the Rt. Hon. Pres. C.S. Charles Eliot
My dear Sir:

I have notice
of the an. meeting of the C.S. now set for the 19th. I am indeed sorry to say that my duties as "cobbler" in the West will
not permit me to come to the meeting.

Very truly yours, H.A. deWindt

Washington.
May
D. je C.
14th.

Mr. William H. Dunbar presents his compliments to the Honorable
The Champlain Society.
Mr. Dunbar regrets
that his inability as yet
to sever the spirit from the flesh will prevent his

Washington
May
D. je C.
14th

Mr. William H. Dunbar

presents his compliments to

the Honorable

The Champlain Society.

Mr. Dunbar regrets

that his inability as yet

to sever the spirit from the

flesh will prevent his

attending the Annual Meeting
the honorable body mentioned.

By way of suggestion

Mr. Dunbar desires to intimate that the natural history of Washington has not as yet developed the startling peculiarities attributed to it
in Boston, as for example, the ability of transforming

attending the Annual Meeting

the honorable body mentioned.

By way of suggestion

Mr. Dunbar desires to intimate

that the natural history of Washington has not yet

developed the startling pe-

culiarities attributed to it

in Boston, as for example,

the ability of transforming

respectable silk hats in disreputable black dogs, and Mr. Dunbar desires to point out that an investigation into the relative degrees of imagination possessed by some of the members of the honorable body mentioned would not be without ~~the~~ profit and interest.

[sideways on page]

respectable silk hats in disreputable black
dogs, and Mr. Dunbar desires to point out that an investigation into the relative
degrees of imagination possessed by some of
of
the members of the honorable body mentioned would not be without mention profit
and interest.

In conclusion Mr. Dunbar
begs to express his kindest regards for each and all the members of the Hon. C. S. and to assure ^{them} that he hopes
on Thursday Eve. next to get an opportunity to become as inebriated as he knows that their esteemed and highly beloved Captain will be on the same evening.

R. I. P.

In conclusion Mr. Dunbar
begs to express his kindest
regards for each and all the members of the Hon. C. S.
and to assure ^{them} that he hopes
on Thursday Eve. next to get an opportunity to become
as inebriated as he knows that their esteemed and highly beloved Captain will be on the same evening.

R.I.P.

Secretary obeyed, and the call was again repeated. Thus the hard-worked official was compelled to read nearly all the records of the year before he escaped from his duty. The records of the various meetings were then accepted, after Lane had made some remarks on their grandiloquence, and Davis had criticized the use of "dining room" in the account of the meeting at his house.

The President then read letters from absent members with the ambiguous remark that he wished "they were more." The letters from W.H. Dunbar and deWindt will be found on the opposite page.

Following these preliminary exercises came the business of the evening, - the reading of Reports and the election of officers for the ensuing year.

First: the President made a brief address giving a summary of the work done by the Society during the ~~seven~~ years of its existence. His statements called out many questions and explanations, and were found most interesting by all. Our worthy Captain, it seems, considers the work of the present Society as over forever, and suggests that younger men should be encouraged to continue the work by counsel, aid, and if necessary by a loan of the tents. (For a summary of his

Secretary obeyed, and the call was again repeated. Thus the hard-worked official was compelled to read nearly all the records of the year before he escaped from his duty. The records of the various meetings were then accepted, after Lane had made some remarks on their grandiloquence, and Davis had criticized the use of "dining room" in the account of the meeting at his house.

The President then read letters from absent members with the ambiguous remark that he wished "they were more." The letters from W.H. Dunbar and deWindt will be found on the opposite page.

Following these preliminary exercises came the business of the evening, - the reading of Reports and the election of officers for the ensuing year.

First: the President made a brief address giving a summary of the work done by the Society during the seven years of its existence. His statements called out many questions and explanations, and were found most interesting by all. Our worthy Captain, it seems, considers the work of the present Society as over forever, and suggests that younger men should be encouraged to continue the work by counsel, aid, and if necessary by a loan of the tents. (For a summary of his

C. S.

A Summary of the work of members of the Champlain Society - down to 1887.

- I Botany. 5 pamphlets of Reports by Rand who was greatly assisted by Dunbar, Wakefield, Burrage, Greenleaf, H. C. Jones, Lane, Worcester, Lovering, and in a less degree by Earle, Foster, and C. Eliot. Also List of Mt. Desert Flora edited by Rand.
- II Geology. 1 Report by Hubbard etc in 1881 (lost) "Notes" by Davis, who was assisted by de Windt, Hubbard, Clark. In later years Bates, G. N. Jones, and Prentiss worked, - but ended by losing Notes and Maps and reporting nothing. S. A. Eliot, - assisted by Bliss and Spelman made a brief report on the depths of some ponds.
- III Meteorology. Incomplete report of first year's work by S. A. Eliot, - who was assisted in taking observations by several members. A scheme of obtaining records of observations in different parts of the Island was partially carried out, but never reported on.
- (over)

C.S.

A Summary of the work of members of the Champlain Society - down to 1887.

- I. Botany. 5 pamphlets of Reports by Rand who was greatly assisted by Dunbar, Wakefield, Burrage, Greenleaf, H. C. Jones, Lane, Worcester, Lovering, and in a less degree by Earle, Foster, and C. Eliot. Also List of Mt. Desert flora edited by Rand.
- II. Geology. 1 Report by Hubbard etc. in 1881 (lost) "Notes" by Davis, who was assisted by de Windt, Hubbard, Clark. In later years Bates, G. N. Jones, and Prentiss worked, - but ended by losing Notes and Maps and reporting nothing. S. A. Eliot, - assisted by Bliss and Spelman made a brief report on the depths of some ponds.
- III. Meteorology. Incomplete report of first year's work by S. A. Eliot, - who was assisted in taking observations by several members. A scheme of obtaining records of observations in different parts of the Island was partially carried out, but never reported on.
- (over)

statements see opposites pages 35-7)

The Secretary then read his Report for the year 1886-7, giving a general summary of meetings etc. His financial statement showed receipts of $3.85: expenditures of $3.25: balance on hand $.60. He took occasion to rebuke the lack of courtesy shown by not replying to the host when a member was not able to attend, and exhorted all to be more careful in this respect. He asked for the usual assessment, and for authority to purchase a new hectograph. (The authority asked was given, and an assessment of twenty five cents per member was voted.) Appended to the Report was a provisional catalogue of the Library.

This report was accepted.

The Report of the Botanical Department for the years 1884-'5-'6 was then read by the director of the Department, Edw. L. Rand. It was somewhat long, much inclined to attack apostate and lazy members of the Department, and all seemed to be glad when it was finished, to judge from the applause! The results of the botanical work for the last three years have not been great, but are not without interest. For statements see opposites pages 35-7)

The Secretary then read his Report for the year 1886-7, giving a general summary of meetings etc. His financial statement showed receipts of $3.85: expenditures of $3.25: balance on hand $.60. He took occasion to rebuke the lack of courtesy shown by not replying to the host when a member was not able to attend, and exhorted all to be more careful in this respect. He asked for the usual assessment, and for authority to purchase a new hectograph. (The authority asked was given, and an assessment of twenty five cents per member was voted.) Appended to the Report was a provisional catalogue of the Library. This report was accepted.

The Report of the Botanical Department for the years 1884-'5-'6 was then read by the director of the Department, Edw. L. Rand. It was somewhat long, much inclined to attack apostate and lazy members of the Department, and all seemed to be glad when it was finished, to judge from the applause! The results of the botanical work for the last three years have not been great, but are not without interest. For

(Continued)

IV Zoology

- A. Ornithology. A Report by Spelman, who was assisted by Townsend, J.R. Wakefield, and Worthington did good work in later years and a corrected report was issued embodying their results.
- B. Marine Invertebrates. Two Reports by Townsend on work of his own. G.B. Dunbar did some independent work which was not reported.
- C. Ichthyology. A Report by E.L. Rand
- D. Entomology. No Report; but good work done by Thaxter, Hayward and Savage.

V. Archaeology. Two Reports on "Shellheaps" by Townsend on work of his own.

VI. Photography. Many views of the Island and of camp scenes by Slade (who was assisted in getting about by C. Eliot), - and many others in a late year by Thaxter.

VII. History. 4 pamphlets of "Notes" by C. Eliot

VIII. "The Signal Service of Camp Pemetic," of which Lovering and Rand were directors. (over)

(continued)

IV Zoology

- A. Ornithology: A Report by Spelman, who was assisted by Townsend, J.R. Wakefield, and Worthington did good work in later years and a corrected report was issued embodying their results.
- B. Marine Invertebrates: Two Reports by Townsend on work of his own. G.B. Dunbar did some independent work which was not reported.
- C. Ichthyology: A Report by E.L. Rand
- D. Entomology: No Report; but good work done by Thaxter, Hayward and Savage.

V. Archaeology. Two Reports on "Shellheaps" by Townsend on work of his own.

VI. Photography. Many views of the Island and of camp scenes by Slade (who was assisted in getting about by C. Eliot), - and many others in a late year by Thaxter.

VII. History 4 pamphlets of "Notes" by C. Eliot

VIII. "The Signal Service of Camp Pemetic," of which Lovering and Rand were directors. (over)

36

a further account of this Report, special reference is made to the Report itself. At its close the Director stated that it was very doubtful whether he could continue the work he had been engaged in for the last summer, but expressed his hope that others would be found to continue the work so well begun. He pointed with some pride to the seven Reports, and to the list of Mt. Desert flora, - the results of the work of the Botanical Department, results unapproached by any other department of the Society.

This Report was accepted with much applause. The Society then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. Several motions were made, all to the effect that the present officers be reelected. The Secretary stated that Burrage had sent a sealed ballot, and in his opinion it should be considered. It was then voted to accept the ballot of Burrage as the sentiment of the meeting, provided the ballot should prove to be comprehensible and not frivolous. The Secretary then amid much anxiety and a general silence opened the

a further account of this Report, special reference is made to the Report itself. At its close the Director stated that it was very doubtful whether he could continue the work so well begun. He pointed with some pride to the seven Reports and to the list of Mt. Desert flora, - the results of the work of the Botanical Department, results unapproached by any other department of the Society.

This Report was accepted with much applause. The Society then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. Several motions were made, all to the effect that the present officers be reelected. The Secretary stated that Burrage had sent a sealed ballot, and in his opinion it should be considered. It was then voted to accept the ballot of Burrage as the sentiment of the meeting, provided the ballot should prove to be comprehensible and not frivolous. The Secretary then amid much anxiety and a general silence opened the

(ca)
Vote of
W. L. Burrage
for officers of
C. S. for 1887-8.

(continued)

IX "The Yacht," - Marine Department, - of which
C. Eliot was Captain; sometimes replaced by
J. A. Eliot in later years. H. L. Rand and Spelman were perhaps the most indefatigable members of the ever changing crew.

C. S.

For President - Char. Eliot.

For Vice Pres. H. M. Spelman

For Secretary E. L. Rand.

Vote of
W. L. Burrage
for officers of
C. S. for 1887-8.

(continued)

IX "The Yacht," - Marine Department, - of which
C. Eliot was Captain; sometimes replaced by
S. A. Eliot in later years. H. L. Rand and Spelman were perhaps the most indefatigable members
of the ever changing crew.

C. S.

For President - Charles Eliot

For Vice Pres. H. M. Spelman

For Secretary E. L. Rand.

envelope, and declared the result:

	C.S.
For President	Chas. Eliot	(applause)
For Vice Psent	H.M. Spelman	(applause)
For Secretary	E.L. Rand	(applause)

The meeting seemed completely satisfied, and unanimously ratified the vote.

The President then stated that if it should be the pleasure of the Society it was his wish that his office should be considered the headquarters of the Society, where its library might be kept, and its meetings held when agreeable to the members. This exceedingly kind offer was gratefully accepted by a unanimous vote. It was then suggested that it might be well to increase the assessment, and thus allow the Society in general to pay for the refreshments and the other expenses of each meeting. The Secretary, however, stated that it might be well to vary the place of meeting from time to time, so that all meetings would not be held at the headquarters on Park St., and that when meetings were held there he thought envelope, and declared the result:

	C.S.
For President	Chas. Eliot	(applause)
For Vice Psent	H.M. Spelman	(applause)
For Secretary	E.L. Rand	(applause)

The meeting seemed completely satisfied, and unanimously ratified the vote.

The President then stated that if it should be the pleasure of the Society it was his wish that his office should be considered the headquarters of the Society, where its Library might be kept, and its meetings held when agreeable to the members. This exceedingly kind offer was gratefully accepted by a unanimous vote. It was then suggested that it might be well to increase the assessment, and thus allow the Society in general to pay for the refreshments and the other expenses of each meeting. The Secretary, however, stated that it might be well to vary the place of meeting from time to time, so that all meetings would not be held at the headquarters on Park St., and that when meetings were held there he thought

C.S. Treasurer's Acc't
1886-7

Received Assessments, voted May 4/86

May 4/86	From.	Lane	.25
		S.A. Eliot	.25
		Hayward	.25
		Spelman	.25
		Bates	.25
		J.R. Wakefield	.25
		W.H. Dunbar	.25
		J.L. Wakefield	.25
		F.M. "	.25
		E.L. Rand	.25
		H.L. "	.25
Nov 5/86		H.C. Jones	.25
"		Davis	.25
"		Townsend	.25
"		Thaxter	.25
May 4/86		Prentiss	10	3.85

Expended

1886	April	for post cards	.50
	May	" Record book	.50
	June 28	" post cards	1.00	2.00
1887	Jan 1	- stamps, stationary, etc	.25
	April 7	- 100 post cards	1.00	3.25
		Cash on hand		.60

C.S. Treasurer's Acc't
1886-7

Received Assessments, voted May 4/86
May 4/86

From	Lane	25
	S.A. Eliot	25
	Hayward	25
	Spelman	25
	Bates	25
	J.R. Wakefield	25
	W.H. Dunbar	25
	J.L. Wakefield	25
	F.M. "	25
	E.L. Rand	25
	H.L. "	25
Nov 18/86	H.C. Jones	25
"	Davis	25
"	Townsend	25
"	Thaxter	25
May 4/86	Prentiss	10 3.85

Expended

1886	April	for post cards	.50
	May	" Record book	.50
	June 28	" post cards	1.00	2.00
1887	Jan 1	" stamps, stationary, etc.
		to date	.25
	April 7	" 100 post cards	1.00	1.25 3.25
		cash on hand		.60

there would be no lack of volunteers to pay the expenses of the meeting, for there were many members who could only do their share in entertaining the Society in some such way. Lane agreed that this was the best way to leave the matter, and several others reaffirmed his sentiments. The proposed action therefore was not taken, and the matter of meetings and entertainment was left in control of the Executive Committee, as formerly.

The business meeting then adjourned. The remainder of the evening was given up to feasting and to social enjoyment. As several members appear to object to setting out the bill of fare in the Records, the Secretary will merely state that the supper was very good, and the cider and "Polly" water extremely refreshing this warm evening. The supper was provided by Spelman, and served with the aid of a most efficient corps of aids, chief among whom were C. Eliot and H.L. Rand. S.A. Eliot officiated with much dexterity over the bottle opening department. It was half past ten before the table was cleared, and the Society sufficiently refreshed

there would be no lack of volunteers to pay the expenses of the meeting, for there were many members who could only do their share in entertaining the Society in some such way. Lane agreed that this was the best way to leave the matter, and several others reaffirmed his sentiments. The proposed action therefore was not taken, and the matter of meetings and entertainment was left in control of the Executive Committee, as formerly.

The business meeting then adjourned. The remainder of the evening was given up to feasting and to social enjoyment. As several members appear to object to setting out the bill of fare in the Records, the Secretary will merely state that the supper was very good, and the cider and "Polly" water extremely refreshing this warm evening. The supper was provided by Spelman, and served with the aid of a most efficient corps of aids, chief among whom were C. Eliot and H.L. Rand. S.A. Eliot officiated with much dexterity over the bottle opening department. It was half past ten before the table was cleared, and the Society sufficiently refreshed and strengthened after its long and somewhat dry business meeting. A short time was then spent in conversation, and then, - soon after eleven o'clock, - the lights were extinguished and the meeting was over.

At this meeting all were much rejoiced to welcome S.A. Eliot back again from his long stay at the Sunny South. He has been much missed, and it is hoped will not be obliged to be away from us another winter.

No action was taken as to any summer plans, - no one apparently feeling enough interest to suggest the subject. The question of some annual celebration, such as a dinner or an excursion was mentioned, but no definite action taken.

During the course of the meeting several interesting questions came up, as to the whereabouts of certain Reports, maps, etc., especially those belonging to the Geological Department; and as to the absence of complete reports of the work of several of the Departments, especially the Geological, Entomological, and Meteorological Departments. It is greatly hoped that these Departments will see the importance of making full reports of the good work they have done.

and strengthened after its long and somewhat dry business meeting. A short time was then spent in conversation, and then, - soon after eleven o'clock, - the lights were extinguished and the meeting was over.

At this meeting all were much rejoiced to welcome S.A. Eliot back again from his long stay at the Sunny South. He has been much missed, and it is hoped will not be obliged to be away from us another winter.

No action was taken as to any summer plans, - no one apparently feeling enough interest to suggest the subject. The question of some annual celebration, such as a dinner or an excursion was mentioned, but no definite action taken.

During the course of the meeting several interesting questions came up, as to the whereabouts of certain Reports, maps, etc., especially those belonging to the Geological Department; and as to the absence of complete reports of the work of several of the Departments, especially the Geological, Entomological, and Meteorological Departments. It is greatly hoped that these Departments will see the importance of making full reports of the good work they have done.

C. S. DIRECTORY 1887-8

40.

Benjamin E. Bates Esq.	Boston	54 Devonshire St. Boston 7 Walnut St. Boston
Henry W. Bliss	Boston	11 Marlborough St.
Walter L. Burrage	Boston	282 Newbury St.
F. Lewis Clark	Spokane Falls	Spokane Falls W.T.
William M. Davis (Prof)	Cambridge	2 Bond St. (380 Chicago Ave) or 111 Market St
Heyliger A. deWindt	Chicago	Care C. H. Fargo and Co.
John W. Dickinson	Holyoke, Mass
George B. Dunbar	Des Moines, Iowa	Gen'l Agent C.B. and S.R.R.
William H. Dunbar Esq.	Cambridge	Highland St, Cambridge
Morris Earle	Philadelphia	1016 Chestnut St
Charles Eliot	Cambridge	9 Park St. Boston
Samuel A. Eliot	Cambridge
John McGau Foster, the Rev.	Bangor, Me.	15 Broadway, Bangor
Robert W. Greenleaf M.D.	Boston	241 Boylston St. Boston 53 High St. Charlestown
Harry M. Hubbard	Chicago	387 La Salle Ave.
Roland Hayward	Boston	346 Marlborough St.
Gilbert N. Jones	Boston	24 Mt Vernon St.
Henry C. Jones	Boston	" " " "
William C. Lane	Cambridge	19 Oxford St.
Ernest Lovering	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills
John Prentiss Esq.	Keene, N.H.	50 State St. Boston room 70 7 Walnut St., Boston 27 State St. Boston
Edward L. Rand Esq.	Cambridge	49 Kirkland St.

C.S. DIRECTORY 1887-8

40

Benjamin E. Bates, Esq.	Boston	54 Devonshire St. Boston
Henry W. Bliss	Boston	7 Walnut St. Boston
Walter L. Burrage	Boston	11 Marlborough St.
F. Lewis Clark	Spokane Falls	282 Newbury St.
William M. Davis (Prof)	Cambridge	Spokane Falls W.T.
Heyliger A. deWindt	Chicago	2 Bond St. (380 Chicago Ave) or 111 Market St
John W. Dickinson	Holyoke, Mass	Care C.H. Fargo and Co.
George B. Dunbar	Des Moines, Iowa	Gen'l Agent C.B. and I.R.R.
William H. Dunbar Esq.	Cambridge	Highland St, Cambridge
Morris Earle	Philadelphia	1016 Chestnut St.
Charles Eliot	Cambridge	9 Park St., Boston
Samuel A. Eliot	Cambridge
John McGau Foster, the Rev.	Bangor, Me.	15 Broadway, Bangor
Robert W. Greenleaf	Boston	241 Boylston St. Boston
M.D.
Harry M. Hubbard	Chicago	53 High St. Charlestown
Roland Hayward	Boston	387 La Salle Ave.
Gilbert N. Jones	Boston	346 Marlborough St.
Henry C. Jones	Boston	24 Mt Vernon St.
William C. Lane	Cambridge
Ernest Lovering	Holyoke, Mass	19 Oxford St.
John Prentiss Esq.	Keene, N.H.	Lyman Mills 50 State St. Boston Room 70
Edward L. Rand Esq.	Cambridge	7 Walnut St. Boston 27 State St. Boston
		49 Kirkland St.

Henry L. Rand	Cambridge	50 State St., Boston 49 Kirkland St.
Henry Savage	Boston	461 Beacon St.
Marshall P. Slade	Passaic N.J.	Rittenhouse Mfg. Co. 50 Taber St. Boston
Henry M. Spelman Esq.	Cambridge	62 Sparks St.
Roland Thaxter	Cambridge	Ware St.
Charles W. Townsend M.D.	Boston	@ 1 Chestnut St.
Frank M. Wakefield	Dedham, Mass	Memoria Co. Mem. Bldg., Boston
John L. Wakefield Esq.	" "	23 Milk St. Boston
Julius R. Wakefield	" "
Robert B. Worthington	" "
William L. Worcester the Rev.	Philadelphia	3502 Hamilton St.
1887	Officers of the C.S.	1888
Vice President Henry M. Spelman 62 Sparks St. Cambridge 50 State St. Boston.	President Charles Eliot 9 Park St. Boston	Secretary Edward L. Rand 27 State St. Boston 49 Kirkland St. Cambridge

Henry L. Rand	Cambridge	50 State St., Boston
Henry Savage	Boston	49 Kirkland St.
Marshall P. Slade	Passaic N.J.	481 Beacon St.
Henry M. Spelman Esq.	Cambridge	Rittenhouse Mfg. Co. 50 State St. Boston
Roland Thaxter	Cambridge	62 Sparks St.
Charles W. Townsend M.D.	Boston	Ware St.
Frank M. Wakefield	Dedham, Mass	61 Chestnut St Adamanta Co. Mason Bldg.
John L. Wakefield Esq.	" "	Boston
Julius R. Wakefield	" "	23 Milk St. Boston
Robert B. Worthington	" "
William L. Worcester, the Rev.,	Philadelphia	3502 Hamilton St.,
1887	Officers of the C.S.	1888
Vice President Henry M. Spelman 62 Sparks St. Cambridge 50 State St. Boston	President Charles Eliot 9 Park St. Boston	Secretary Edward L. Rand 27 State St. Boston 49 Kirkland St. Cambridge

This notice was sent to all members of
the C.S. early in November 1887

— CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY —
At the last meeting of the C.S. Room 18, No. 9 Park St., Boston, was made the Headquarters of the Society. The Library is now kept there. All members are cordially invited to call.
The Office of the Secretary is Room 18 No. 27 State St., Boston.
Please send all communications to this address. His Cambridge address is now 49 Kirkland St.
Members are most urgently requested to send their present addresses to the Secretary, so that members may receive Society notifications. All personal items of interest from members will be gladly received.

This notice was sent to all members of
the C.S. early in November 1887

— Champlain Society — 27 State St.
Boston
Nov 1 1887

At the last meeting of the C.S. Room 18, No. 9 Park St., Boston, was made the Headquarters of the Society. The Library is now kept there. All members are cordially invited to call.
The Office of the Secretary is Room 18 No. 27 State St., Boston.
Please send all communications to this address. His Cambridge address is now 49 Kirkland St.
Members are most urgently requested to send their present addresses to the Secretary, so that members
may receive Society notifications. All personal items of interest from members will be gladly received.
Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

— Summer of 1887 —

As there was no regular expedition of the Society to Mt. Desert during the summer, it seems unnecessary to give in this place any detailed account of the experience of those members who were on the Island. As far as known no scientific work was done save by E.L. Rand of the Botanical Department. The following members visited Mt. Desert during the summer.

S.A. Eliot in August-September "Siesta" N.E. Harbor
 W.C. Lane August Camp at N.E. Harbor and Bear Island
 E.L. Rand August, Mt. Harbor, Island House.
 H.M. Spelman August "Siesta" N.E. Harbor
 J. McG. Foster August Bar Harbor - N.E. Harbor
 C. Eliot September "Clifton" N.E. Harbor
 J.L. Wakefield September Savage's "Siesta" N.E. Harbor
 Prentiss September Savage's N.E. Harbor
 H.L. Rand September Island House S.W. Harbor
 F.M. Wakefield September Island House S.W. Harbor

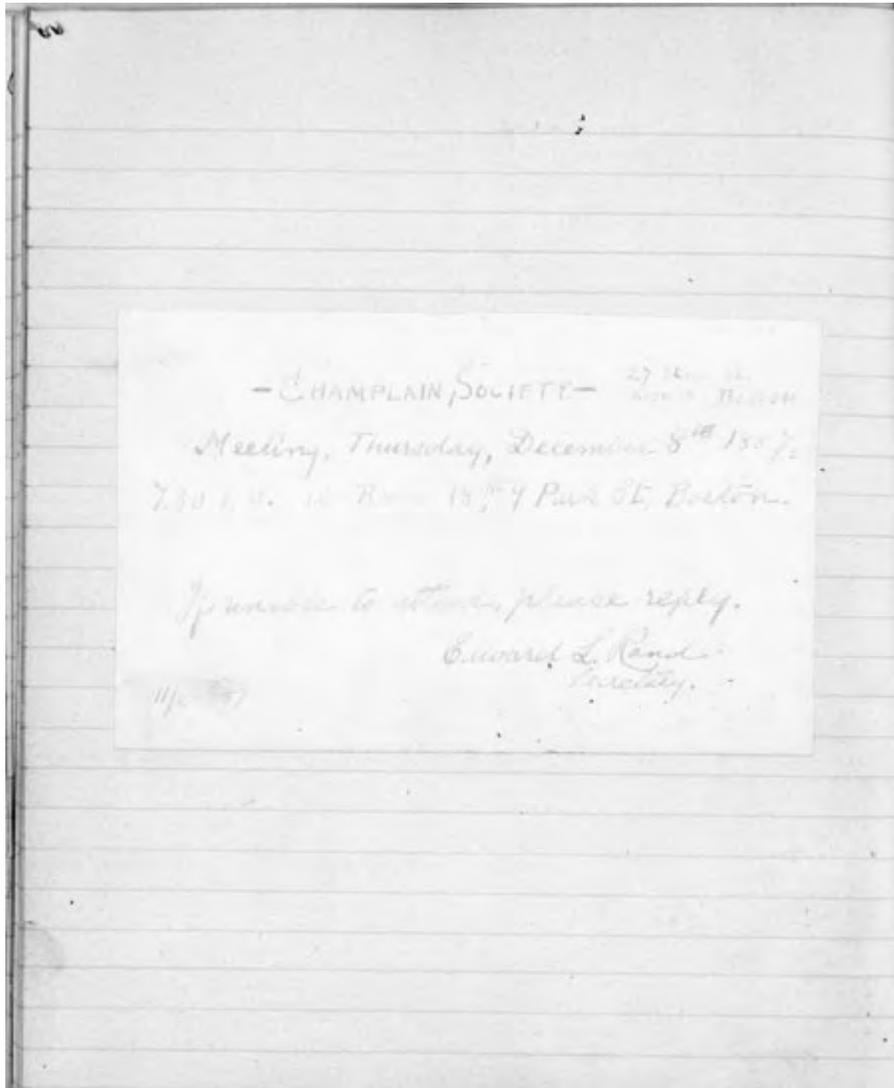

Of these, Lane used the tents with much profit to shelter himself and three friends; the men on the "Siesta" confined their efforts to making themselves an annex to the hotels, giving up cruising except in rare instances; C. Eliot became civilized by hotel life and gave up wearing flannel shirts; H.L. Rand and F.M. Wakefield closed the season by spending a week at Southwest the last week in September.

— Summer of 1887 —

As there was no regular expedition of the Society to Mt. Desert during the summer, it seems unnecessary to give in this place any detailed account of the experience of those members who were on the Island. As far as known no scientific work was done save by E.L. Rand of the Botanical Department. The following members visited Mt. Desert during the summer.

S.A. Eliot in August-September "Siesta" N.E. Harbor
 W.C. Lane " August. Camp at N.E. Harbor and Bear Island
 E.L. Rand " August, S.W. Harbor, Island House.
 H.M. Spelman " August "Siesta" N.E. Harbor
 J. McG. Foster " August Bar Harbor, N.E. Harbor
 C. Eliot " September, "Clifton" N.E. Harbor
 J.L. Wakefield " September Savage's, "Siesta" N.E. Harbor
 Prentiss " September Savage's N.E. Harbor
 H.L. Rand " September Island House S.W. Harbor
 F.M. Wakefield " September Island House S.W. Harbor

Of these, — Lane used the tents with much profit to shelter himself and three friends; the men on the "Siesta" confined their efforts to making themselves an annex to the hotels, giving up cruising except in rare instances; C. Eliot became civilized by hotel life and gave up wearing flannel shirts; H.L. Rand and F.M. Wakefield closed the season by spending a week at Southwest the last week in September.

- CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY - 27 State St.
Room 18 Boston

Meeting, Thursday, December 8th 1887.
7.30 P.M. at Room 18, No. 9 Park St., Boston.

If unable to attend, please reply.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary

11/2 87

Meeting, December 8th 1887
(9 Park St., Room 18)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society held its first meeting since the summer recess at the new Headquarters on Park St., Boston. The genial Captain was the host and filled the position to the satisfaction of all. Present: C. Eliot, W.C. Lane, Prentiss, Bates, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Hayward, W.H. Dunbar, Geenleaf, and E.L. Rand. A larger attendance had been hoped for, but for one reason or another many members were absent. It may here be stated that S.A. Eliot, contrary to all hope and expectation, will not be with us this winter. He has departed to the far West and the Pacific coast to civilize the heathen and take meteorological observations. He will be much missed by all.

The meeting was very informal, and was not called to order until nearly half past eight or nine o'clock. Lane then, in obedience to a request from the President, gave a short and interesting account of his experiences in camp during the summer, especially of a trip to Bar Harbor and Green Mt. After the camp was moved to Bear

Meeting, December 8th 1887
(9 Park St., Room 18)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society held its first meeting since the summer recess at the new Headquarters on Park St., Boston. The genial Captain was the host, and filled the position to the satisfaction of all. Present: C. Eliot, W.C. Lane, Prentiss, Bates, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Hayward, W.H. Dunbar, Geenleaf, and E.L. Rand. A larger attendance had been hoped for, but for one reason or another many members were absent. It may here be stated that S.A. Eliot, contrary to all hope and expectation, will not be with us this winter. He has departed to the far West and the Pacific coast to civilize the heathen and take meteorological observations. He will be much missed by all.

The meeting was very informal, and was not called to order until nearly half past eight or nine o'clock. Lane then, in obedience to a request from the President, gave a short and interesting account of his experiences in camp during the summer, especially of a trip to Bar Harbor and Green Mt. After the camp was moved to Bear

Island, the campers lived in a highly irregular way, preparing their own breakfast and supper at camp, and rowing over to the "Clifton" for dinner.

As soon as Lane finished his remarks, the Captain announced an adjournment for supper. As the Secretary has before stated certain members object to the menu being set forth, so on this occasion he passes on regretting that he can do no more than compliment the Captain on the feast provided. It may be said, however, that the "Polly" water was much appreciated, and that there was enough good coffee provided to keep the Society awake for a year. Perhaps this last ample provision was a gentle hint to the members in general.

After supper the Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. They were accepted after the usual criticism by Lane and Prentiss. As it was now nearly half past ten the members began to depart without waiting for an adjournment. The last business done was to pass unanimously a motion made by Lane and seconded by Dunbar (W.H.) and E.L. Rand that "wives of members of this Society shall be Honorary members thereof." A motion to reconsider was refused.

The meeting then adjourned after thanking the Captain for his hospitality this pleasant evening.

Island, the campers lived in a highly irregular way, preparing their own breakfast and supper at camp, and rowing over to the "Clifton" for dinner.

As soon as Lane finished his remarks, the Captain announced an adjournment for supper. As the Secretary has before stated certain members object to the menu being set forth, so on this occasion he passes on regretting that he can do no more than compliment the Captain on the feast provided. It may be said, however, that the "Polly" water was much appreciated, and that there was enough good coffee provided to keep the Society awake for a year. Perhaps this last ample provision was a gentle hint to the members in general.

After supper the Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. They were accepted after the usual criticism by Lane and Prentiss. As it was now nearly half past ten the members began to depart without waiting for an adjournment. The last business done was to pass unanimously a motion made by Lane and seconded by Dunbar (W.H.) and E.L. Rand that "wives of members of this Society shall be Honorary members thereof." A motion to reconsider was refused.

The meeting then adjourned after thanking the Captain for his hospitality this pleasant evening.

C.S. 27 State St. Boston

Meeting, Thursday, Jan 26th 1888, 7.30 P.M. at No 9 Park St., Room 18, Boston.

A paper is expected.

If unable to attend please reply.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

C.S. 27 State St. Boston

Meeting, Thursday, Jan 26th 1888, 7.30 P.M. at No. 9 Park St., Room 18, Boston.

A paper is expected.

If unable to attend please reply.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

Meeting, January 26th 1888.
(9 Park St. Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the Headquarters, 9 Park St. Room 18. Messrs Prentiss and Bates received as hosts assisted by the host overall, the great Captain. The attendance was very small, owing no doubt to the wild and stormy weather, since only four members had signified their intention of not being present! The names of those who braved the wind and snow are as follows: C. Eliot, Prentiss, Bates, Lane, Bliss, H. C. Jones, Spelman, and E. L. Rand. It is gratifying to the C.S. was fully represented by officers, all three being present.

A paper had been expected from Prof. Davis, but this expectation was disappointed. It is hoped, however, that the pleasure will be merely postponed until a later date. The Secretary read a communication from him announcing his absence from Cambridge during the Spring and summer, - but it is expected that he is likely to be called back by business for short stays now and then.

In place of the expected paper the Captain kindly read some interesting extracts from his European

Meeting, January 26th 1888
(9 Park St. Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the Headquarters, 9 Park St. Room 18. Messrs. Prentiss and Bates received as hosts assisted by the host overall, the great Captain. The attendance was vary small, owing no doubt to the wild and stormy weather, since only four members had signified their intention of not being present! The names of those who braved the wind and snow are as follows: C. Eliot, Prentiss, Bates, Lane, Bliss, H.C. Jones, Spelman, and E.L. Rand. It is gratifying to the C.S. was fully represented by officers, all three being present.

A paper had been expected from Prof. Davis, but this expectation was disappointed. It is hoped, however, that the pleasure will be merely postponed until a later date. The Secretary read a communication from him announcing his absence from Cambridge during the Spring and summer, - but it is expected that he is likely to be called back by business for short stays now and then.

In place of the expected paper the Captain kindly read some interesting extracts from his European

* It may be here noted that again there was a most bountiful supply of hot coffee, enough, according to members, to keep all present wide awake for a month at least. Lane wanted to take the can under his arm, and, escorted by friends bearing sugar and milk, go forth into the wilds of the Common in search of the cold and thirsty. His proposition was voted good, but no one volunteered to act as escort; and fearing arrest for selling without a license or something of the kind, Lane gave up his plan.

*It may be here noted that again there was a most bountiful supply of hot coffee, enough, according to members, to keep all present wide awake for a month at least. Lane wanted to take the can under his arm, and, escorted by friends bearing sugar and milk, go forth into the wilds of the Common in search of the cold and thirsty. His proposition was voted good, but no one volunteered to act as escort; so fearing arrest for selling without a license or something of the kind, Lane gave up his plan.

Journal, illustrated by photographs. These remarks were listened to with much attention until interrupted by supper.

When the table was spread it was found that some strange omissions had been made. The feast was there, the "Polly" water and the ginger ale stood waiting to be opened, but there were no plates, no spoons, no forks, no tumblers, no corkscrew! Consternation seized the hungry, and continued until the Captain hunted up some wooden plates, and Prentiss braved the storm and returned with the other essentials. But even then no corkscrew was to be found, a deficiency remedied by a scheme of the great brains of Spelman, Bates, and Bliss, i.e. to push the corks in. — The feast was good, and was much enjoyed as usual.*

After conversation the meeting adjourned about 10.30.

At the short business meeting held early in the evening, Lane presented a Catalogue of the Carlyle Collection in the H. U. Library, a work compiled by himself. It was accepted with thanks and added to the Library. Feb. 23, March 22, April 19th, May 17th, and June 14th were suggested as provisional dates for the meetings during the remainder of the year, and were after some discussion adopted. It was announced that papers were expected from Davis, Spelman, and Hayward.

Journal, illustrated by photographs. These remarks were listened to with much attention until interrupted by supper.

When the table was spread it was found that some strange omissions had been made. The feast was there, the "Polly" water and the ginger ale stood waiting to be opened, but there were no plates, no spoons, no forks, no tumblers, no corkscrew! Consternation seized the hungry, and continued until the Captain hunted up some wooden plates, and Prentiss braved the storm and returned with the other essentials. But even then no corkscrew was to be found, a deficiency remedied by a scheme of the great brains of Spelman, Bates, and Bliss, i.e. to push the corks in. — The feast was good, and was much enjoyed as usual.*

After conversation, the meeting adjourned about 10.30.

At the short business meeting held early in the evening, Lane presented a catalogue of the Carlyle Collection in the H. U. Library, a work compiled by himself. It was accepted with thanks and added to the Library. Feb. 23, March 22, April 19th, May 17th, and June 14th were suggested as provisional dates for the meetings during the remainder of the year, and were after some discussion adopted. It was announced that papers were expected from Davis, Spelman, and Hayward.

C.S

27 State St. Boston
Feb. 13/88

Meeting, Thursday, February 23rd, 7.30 P.M. at the home of Henry W. Bliss, No 11 Marlborough St. Boston.

— Entomological paper by R. Hayward. —

If unable to attend, please reply. All resident members are urged to show this courtesy to our host.

The following dates for the remaining meetings of the year are provisionally appointed:

March 22; April 19; May 17; June 14.
Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

C.S

27 State St. Boston

Feb. 13/88

Meeting, Thursday, February 23rd, 7.30 P.M. at the house of Henry W. Bliss, No 11 Marlborough St. Boston.

—Entomological paper by R. Hayward.—

If unable to attend, please reply. All resident members are urged to show this courtesy to our host.

=====
The following dates for the remainder meetings
of the year are provisionally appointed:

March 22; April 19; May 17; June 14.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary

47
Meeting, Thursday, February 23rd 1888
 (11 Marlborough St.)
 — Boston —

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the residence of H.W. Bliss, Marlborough St., Boston. Fortunately there was a good attendance, for otherwise the great C.S. might have been lost in the spacious apartment provided for its recreation. The following members were present: C. Eliot, W.H. Dunbar, Spelman, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Worthington, Lane, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, Bliss, Bates, Greenleaf, Prentiss, and E.L. Rand.

After conversation, the President called the meeting to order. The records of the last meeting were read and approved. The Secretary was instructed to notify the honorary members, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Foster, and Mrs. Thaxter of their election. The Captain was appointed to see Mr. Thaxter and admonish him for not answering invitations or coming to meetings.

The Captain stated that he thought Prof. Davis would deliver a paper on the physical geography of New England on March 9 next if enough members would come to another meeting within so short a time. All the members present save

Meeting, Thursday, February 23rd 1888
 (11 Marlborough St.)
 — Boston —

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the residence of H.W. Bliss, Marlborough St., Boston. Fortunately there was a good attendance, for otherwise the great C.S. might have been lost in the spacious apartment provided for its recreation. The following members were present: C. Eliot, W.H. Dunbar, Spelman, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Worthington, Lane, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, Bliss, Bates, Greenleaf, Prentiss, and E.L. Rand.

After conversation, the President called the meeting to order. The records of the last meeting were read and approved. The Secretary was instructed to notify the honorary members, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Foster, and Mrs. Thaxter of their election. The Captain was appointed to see Mr. Thaxter and admonish him for not answering invitations or coming to meetings.

The Captain stated that he thought Prof. Davis would deliver a paper on the physical geography of New England on March 9 next if enough members would come to another meeting within so short a time. All the members present save

Dear Ned

I have been suffering from the last two weeks from the worst cold I ever had and by way of a little freak it has been accompanied by considerable rheumatism. I may possibly be unable to attend the meeting this evening; but shall be sure to use every endeavor to get around. I am afraid that the C.S. will not miss much by losing my paper if I do not get around. If it should happen that I should not attend I shall have the paper for the next meeting if the club still desire to be bored by it. If I go it will be the first evening have been out for over three weeks. If not please present my apologies to Bliss.

Hoping however to see you this evening if my rheumatism grows no worse I am

Very Sincerely Yours

Roland Hayward

Dear [?]

I have been suffering from the last two weeks from the worst cold I ever had and by way of a little [?] it has been accompanied by considerable rheumatism. I may possibly be able to attend the meeting this evening, but shall be sure to use every endeavor to get around. If it should happen that I should not attend I shall have the paper for the next meeting if the club still desire to be bored by it. If I go it will be the first evening have been out for over three weeks. If not please present my apologies to Bliss.

Hoping however to see you this evening if my rheumatism grows no worse. I am

very sincerely yours

Roland Hayward

Lane and E.L. Rand said they would come, so the matter was left to the President and Secretary to arrange.

A paper on Entomology had been expected from R. Hayward, but at the last moment he was prevented from appearing, so again the Society was without a paper. Hayward's note of explanation will be found on the opposite page.

Mr. Rand then explained a plan for publishing the list of the flowering plants of Mt. Desert as observed by the Botanical Department, and tried to make definite arrangements for carrying on the work. He stated that he had already begun to revise the list, and was in correspondence with such botanists as he thought might aid him. He asked for the appointment of a finance and a printing Committee. The President, however, as usual refused to make a business matter of it, so nothing was done. Lane, however, promised to inquire about printing at the University Press; and Greenleaf, Jones, and others promised their cooperation. The Captain promised to make an attempt to collect

Lane and E.L. Rand said they would come, so the matter was left to the President and Secretary to arrange.

A paper on Entomology had been expected from R. Hayward, but at the last moment he was prevented from appearing, so again the Society was without a paper. Hayward's note of explanation will be found on the opposite page.

Mr. Rand then explained a plan for publishing the list of the flowering plants of Mt. Desert as observed by the Botanical Department, and tried to make definite arrangements for carrying on the work. He stated that he had already begun to revise the list, and was in correspondence with such botanists as he thought might aid him. He asked for the appointment of a finance and a printing committee. The President, however, as usual refused to make a business matter of it, so nothing was done. Lane, however, promised to inquire about printing at the University Press; and Greenleaf, Jones, and others promised their cooperation. The Captain promised to make an attempt to collect subscriptions.

About half past nine the Society adjourned to the dining room, or rather banquet hall in this case. There a most bountiful feast awaited the hungry members. Bliss was a perfect host, and made everyone at home.

Soon after supper it was time to depart, and by half past ten all were gone. Thus ended a most pleasant meeting.

It was reported that just one week previous Burrage and S. N. Jones came to the house, and were much surprised to find themselves somewhat early for the meeting.

It is to be hoped that this unfortunate event will not prevent Burrage from trying again.

—NOTE—FEB. 24th 1887—

On this day the Secretary notified Mrs. Wm. M. Davis, Mrs. John McGau Foster, and Mrs. Roland Thaxter of their election as Honorary Members of this Society by virtue of the Resolution of Dec. 8th 1887.

subscriptions.

About half past nine the Society adjourned to the dining room, or rather banquet hall in this case. There a most bountiful feast awaited the hungry members. Bliss was a perfect host, and made everyone at home.

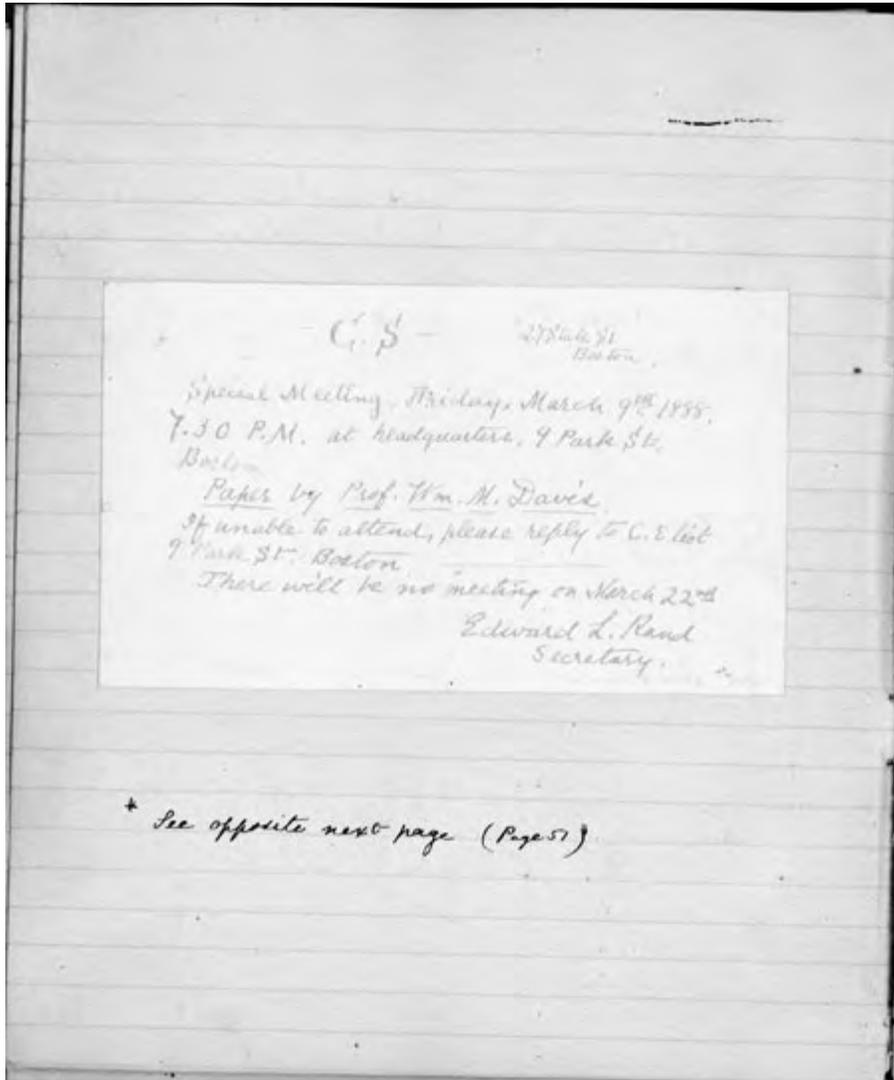

Soon after supper it was time to depart, and by half past ten all were gone. Thus ended a most pleasant meeting.

It was reported that just one week previous Burrage and G. N. Jones came to the house, and were much surprised to find themselves somewhat early for the meeting.

It is to be hoped that this unfortunate event will not prevent Burrage from trying again.

—NOTE—FEB 24th 1888—

On this day the Secretary notified Mrs. Wm. M. Davis, Mrs. John McGau Foster, and Mrs. Roland Thaxter of their election as Honorary Members of this Society by virtue of the Resolution of Dec. 8th 1887.

- C.S. - 27 State St.
Boston

Special Meeting, Friday, March 9th 1888,
7.30 P.M. at headquarters, 9 Park St,
Boston

Paper by Prof. Wm. M. Davis.

If unable to attend, please reply to C. Eliot
9 Park St. Boston

There will be no meeting on March 22nd

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

* See opposite next page (Page 51)

- C.S. - 27 State St.
Boston

Special meeting, Friday, March 9th 1888,
7.30 P.M. at headquarters, 9 Park St,
Boston.

Paper by Prof. Wm. M. Davis.

If unable to attend, please reply to C. Eliot
9 Park St. Boston. -----

There will be no meeting on March 22nd
Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

* See opposite next page (Page 51)

Meeting, Friday, March 9th 1888
(9 Park St. Boston.)

The Society met at headquarters—H.C. Jones and G.N. Jones being the providers of the beastial entertainment. Present were Messrs Spelman, Lane, Worthington, Davis, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Bates, Prentiss, Dunbar, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones and C. Eliot. The President arrived late, and was received with applause, as he had in the afternoon warned the Vice-President thru the Secretary that a cold would prevent his attendance. The temptation to attend had been too much for him. The record of the last meeting was read by the Vice-President in the absence of the much longed-for Secretary. The record was approved. The President then read a letter lately received by the Secretary—being the acceptance by Mrs. W.M. Davis of Honorary Membership in the Society. He also read a postal card from the distinguished member who has been some-time resident in Seattle, W.T.—and it was agreed that the May meeting of the Society should be postponed to await S.A. Eliot's arrival in Cambridge, as was requested on said postal card.

Meeting, Friday, March 9th 1888
(9 Park St. Boston.)

The Society met at headquarters—H.C. Jones and G.N. Jones being the providers of the beastial entertainment. Present were Messrs Spelman, Townsend, Lane, ^ Worthington, Davis, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Bates, Prentiss, Dunbar, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones and C. Eliot. The President arrived late, and was received with applause, as he had in the afternoon warned the Vice President thru the Secretary that a cold would prevent his attendance. The temptation to attend had been too much for him.

The record of the last meeting was read by the Vice President in the absence of the much longed-for Secretary. The record was approved.

The President then read a letter lately received by the Secretary—being the acceptance by Mrs. W.M. Davis of Honorary Membership in the Society. He also read a postal card from the distinguished member who has been some-time resident in Seattle, W.T.—and it was agreed that that the May meeting of the Society should be postponed to await S.A. Eliot's arrival in Cambridge, as was requested on said post-card

E. M. DAVIS,
808 and 810 Walnut Street,
ELEVATOR
Room 11, Third Story.

Edward L. Rand, Esq.,
Sec'y Champlain Soc'y
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Philadelphia,
Mar. 7th. 1888

—HOME ADDRESS—
ROADSIDE,
OAK LANE,
PHILADELPHIA

Mrs. Davis has been so at a loss to express her appreciation of the high honor recently conferred upon her by her election to honorary membership in the Champlain Society, that she has asked me to attempt the task. Allow me then to assure you that she is warmly gratified by receiving so high a distinction from so eminent an association. She wishes me to add moreover that while diffident of her ability to fulfil to the entire satisfaction of the Society all the duties thus laid upon her, she will when again in Cambridge make every effort to do so.

Very truly yours,

W. M. Davis

[sideways]

E. M. Davis,
808 and 810 Walnut Street,
Room 11, Third Story
ELEVATOR

--HOME ADDRESS--
ROADSIDE,
OAK LANE,
PHILADELPHIA

Edward L. Rand, Esq.
Sec'y Champlain Soc'y
Boston, Mass.
Philadelphia,

Mar. 7th 1888

Dear Sir:

Mrs. Davis has been so at a loss to express her appreciation of the high honor recently conferred upon her by her election to honorary membership in the Champlain Society, that she has asked me to attempt the task. Allow me then to assure you that she is warmly gratified by receiving so high a distinction from so eminent an association. She wishes me to add moreover that while diffident of her ability to fulfil to the entire satisfaction of the Society all the duties thus laid upon her, she will when again in Cambridge make every effort to do so.

Very truly yours,

W. M. Davis

The President next reminded the company of certain overdue annual assessments—two of which were then paid in on the spot; and concluded the business meeting by making a few remarks on the subject of the proposed publication of the list of the Flowering Plants of Mt. Desert.

Mr. W.M. Davis then read his very interesting paper on the Physical Geography of New England, and illustrated the same by means of two series of ~~models~~ topographic models. He spoke of the several species of topographic forms found in the country—from the mountains to the sand dunes and the kames;—from the Westfield river flowing in its narrow rock valley, to the Saco meandering thro' the glacial drift. He touched upon the proofs of the ancient upliftings and down-sinkings of the surface—the old shore-lines of the ancient sea, and of the ice-dammed lakes in the valleys which fall Northward. An informal discussion followed the paper—and at 9.30 a bountiful oyster supper washed down with a choice of drinkables was vigorously attacked. At 10.30 lights were out—and Lane and the President drove off in a ~~Car~~ amid the jeers of the departing members.

The President next reminded the company of certain overdue annual assessments—two of which were then paid in on the spot; and concluded the business meeting by making a few remarks on the subject of the proposed publication of the list of the Flowering Plants of Mt. Desert.

Mr. W.M. Davis then read his very interesting paper on the Physical Geography of New England, and illustrated the same by means of two series of ~~models~~ topographic models. He spoke of the several species of topographic forms found in the country—from the mountains to the sand dunes and the kames;—from the Westfield river flowing in its narrow rock valley, to the Saco meandering thro' the glacial drift. He touched upon the proofs of the ancient upliftings and down-sinkings of the surface—the old shorelines of the ancient sea, and of the ice-dammed lakes in the valleys which fall Northward. An informal discussion followed the paper—and at 9.30 a bountiful oyster supper washed down with a choice of drinkables was vigorously attacked. At 10.30 lights were out—and Lane and the President drove off in a [?] amid the jeers of the departing members.

C.S. 27 State St., Boston.

Meeting, Thursday, April 19th 1888, promptly at 7.30 P.M., at headquarters, 9 Park St., Boston.

Exhibition with lantern of Mt. Desert views
by Mr. Wm. C. Lane.

If unable to attend, will members please reply
without fail to the Secretary?

[Next meeting (Annual) on May 24th.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

C.S. 27 State St., Boston.

Meeting, Thursday, April 19th 1888, promptly at 7.30 P.M., at headquarters, 9 Park St., Boston.

Exhibition with lantern of Mt. Desert views
by Mr. Wm. C. Lane.

If unable to attend will members please reply
without fail to the Secretary?

[Next meeting (Annual) on May 24th.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

Meeting, Thursday, April 19th 1888.

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page, the Society met at headquarters, 9 Park St., Boston on Thursday evening April 19th. Present: C. Eliot, Spelman, E.L. Rand, Lane, W.H. Dunbar, H.C. Jones, Townsend, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Burrage, and Worthington; and Charles Worcester and Robert Carter, the former the photographer of the Lane camping party of 1887, the latter also a member of the party, and both invited guests on this occasion.

After some general conversation Worcester and Lane began to make extensive and elaborate preparations for the great exhibition of Mt. Desert views. These preparations occupied some time, for the lantern had to be arranged, the gas supply connected, etc; but at last the room was darkened and all was ready.

The Secretary is unable to do justice to ^{the} great merits of the views presented, nor can he well report the great pleasure felt by all who were fortunate enough to see them. The views were mainly from Bear Island, the neighborhood of N.E. Harbor and Somerville, with a charming series of outlooks from Brown's Mt. and Sargent's Mt.,—views seldom if ever taken by the ordinary photographer. A view of the "Ancestral" shore from Bear Island with the lifting fog is especially to be remembered. All the views were remarkable for their artistic foregrounds and framing, and much of the vegetation was so well presented

Meeting, Thursday, April 19th 1888.

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page, the Society met at headquarters, 9 Park St., Boston, on Thursday evening April 19th. Present: C. Eliot, Spelman, E.L. Rand, Lane, W.H. Dunbar, H.C. Jones, Townsend, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, Burrage, and Worthington; and Charles Worcester and Robert Carter, the former the photographer of the Lane camping party of 1887, the latter also a member of the party, and both invited guests on this occasion.

After some general conversation Worcester and Lane began to make extensive and elaborate preparations for the great exhibition of Mt. Desert views. These preparations occupied some time, for the lantern had to be arranged, the gas supply connected, etc; but at last the room was darkened and all was ready.

The Secretary is unable to do justice to ^{the} great merits of the views presented, nor can he well report the great pleasure felt by all who were fortunate enough to see them. The views were mainly from Bear Island, the neighborhood of N.E. Harbor and Somerville, with a charming series of outlooks from Brown's Mt. and Sargent's Mt.,—views seldom if ever taken by the ordinary photographer. A view of the "Ancestral" shore from Bear Island with the lifting fog is especially to be remembered. All the views were remarkable for their artistic foregrounds and framing, and much of the vegetation was so well presented that the members of the Botanical Department found themselves trying to check off the species of plants represented. The worthy and much-loved Captain was indefatigable in pointing out localities and points of interest, often in his excitement throwing his vast profile into the very picture.

For nearly an hour and a half the entertainment lasted, and then ended solely from lack of material. Everyone was anxious to remain among the Mt. Desert scenes, and most reluctantly left them. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Worcester, and he was heartily congratulated on his great success.

Then came the usual feast of crackers, cheese, ice cream and cake. "Polly" water and ginger ale also flowed, - or rather flowed as soon as the always-forgotten corkscrew was obtained. All too soon it was found to be half past ten, and time to adjourn. One by one the members said goodnight and departed until at last only Spelman, Lane, Dunbar, and E.L. Rand were left to escort the Captain to his chariot in readiness to take him to Cambridge. After he had departed in great state, the more plebeian members walked home to Cambridge. It was resolved that the Captain should be exhorted to provide a barge, and drive the other Cambridge members to their homes after each and every meeting.

that the members of the Botanical Department found themselves trying to check off the species of plants represented. The worthy and much-loved Captain was indefatigable in pointing out localities and points of interest, often in his excitement throwing his vast profile into the very picture.

For nearly an hour and a half the entertainment lasted, and then ended solely from lack of material. Everyone was anxious to remain among the Mt. Desert scenes, and most reluctantly left them. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Worcester, and he was heartily congratulated on his great success.

Then came the usual feast of crackers, cheese, ice cream and cake. "Polly" water and ginger ale also flowed, - or rather flowed as soon as the always-forgotten corkscrew was obtained. All too soon it was found to be half past ten, and time to adjourn. One by one members said goodnight and departed until at last only Spelman, Lane, Dunbar, and E.L. Rand were left to escort the Captain to his chariot in readiness to take him to Cambridge. After he had departed in great state, the more plebeian members walked home to Cambridge. It was resolved that the Captain should be exhorted to provide a barge, and drive the other Cambridge members to their homes after each and every meeting.

CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY.

27 State St. Boston.

Annual meeting, Thursday, May 24th 1888, at Headquarters, 9 Park St, Room 18, Boston, at 7.30 P.M.

Election of Officers.

Exhibition of prints from Mr. Worcester's photographs shown at the last meeting.

Botanical report, etc.

A large attendance is desired. Members unable to attend will please reply to the Secretary.

Members of the Botanical section, and those interested in a Spring scientific expedition to Mt. Desert will please come as promptly as possible.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY

27 State St. Boston

Annual meeting, Thursday, May 24th 1888, at Headquarters, 9 Park St, Room 18, Boston at 7.30 P.M.

Election of Officers.

Exhibition of prints from Mr. Worcester's photographs shown at the last meeting.

Botanical report, etc.

A large attendance is desired. Members unable to attend will please reply to the Secretary.

Members of the Botanical section, and those interested in a Spring scientific expedition to Mt. Desert will please come as promptly as possible.

Edward L. Rand

Secretary C.S.

94

Annual Meeting May 24th 1888
(Headquarters, 9 Park St.)
Boston.

The Society met pursuant to the notice on the opposite page at Headquarters, 9 Park St., Room 18, Boston. Present, C. Eliot, H.M. Spelman, E.L. Rand, Greenleaf, J.L. Wakefield, Lane, Burrage, Bliss, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, H.L. Rand, Bates, S.A. Eliot, W.H. Dunbar, and Prentiss. As most of the members were very tardy in arriving, the meeting was not called to order by the President until about 8.30 o'clock.

The records of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, and approved.

The President then called for the Treasurer's report. This was presented by the Secretary, examined by the members present, and approved. It will be found opposite the next page.

The President then made a brief statement of the work in which the Botanical Department had been recently engaged, and called on Mr. E.L. Rand for a fuller statement. Mr. Rand presented a copy of the recently published Preliminary List of the Mt. Desert Flora to the library, and passed other copies around for inspection. He stated that the publication of the List had cost about $8.50, together with $2.50 incidental

Annual Meeting, May 24th 1888
Headquarters, 9 Park St.
Boston

The Society met pursuant to the notice on the opposite page at Headquarters, 9 Park St., Room 18, Boston. Present: C. Eliot, H.M. Spelman, E.L. Rand, Greenleaf, J.L. Wakefield, Lane, Burrage, Bliss, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, H.L. Rand, Bates, S.A. Eliot, W.H. Dunbar, and Prentiss. As most of the members were very tardy in arriving, the meeting was not called to order by the President until about 8.30 o'clock.

The records of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, and approved.

The President then called for the Treasurer's report. This was presented by the Secretary, examined by the members present, and approved. It will be found opposite the next page.

The President then made a brief statement of the work in which the Botanical Department had been recently engaged, and called on Mr. E.L. Rand for a fuller statement. Mr. Rand presented a copy of the recently published Preliminary List of the Mt. Desert Flora to the Library, and passed other copies around for inspection. He stated that the publication of the List had cost about $8.50, together with $2.50 incidental

CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY
Treasurer's Account 1887-8

Received	Expended
May 19/87 From Balance .60	June 10/87 Post cards .25
" " J. L. Wakefield .25	Nov. 21/87 " " .25
" " W. H. Dunbar .25	1 cent envelope .30
Nov. 21/87 " " E. L. Rand .25	2 " " .55
" " C. Eliot .25	Nov. 28/87 Post cards .25
Dec 8/87 " " W. H. Dunbar .25	Jan 19/88 " " 1.00
" " Prentiss .40	" 20/88 Hectograph filled .50
" " Hayward .25	April 10/88 Post cards 1.00
" " H. C. Jones .25	May 15/88 Paper .35
" " J. R. Wakefield .25	" 16/88 1 ct. envelopes .28
" " W. C. Lane .25
" " G. N. Jones .25
" " Bates .25
" " Greenleaf .25
March 7/88 " " H. L. Rand .25
" 8/88 " " F. M. Wakefield .25
" 9/88 " " Davis .25
" " Townsend .25
5.00	5.00

Cash on hand, to balance .27

CHAMPLAIN SOCIETY
Treasurer's Account 1887-8

Received	Expended
May 19/87 From Balance .60	June 10/87 Post cards .25
Nov. 21/87 " " Dues. J. L. Wakefield .25	Nov. 21/87 1 cent envelopes .30
Dec 8/87 " " E. L. Rand .25	2 " " .55
" " C. Eliot .25	Nov 28/87 Post cards .25
" " W. H. Dunbar .25	Jan 19/88 Post cards 1.00
" " Prentiss .40	20/88 Hectograph filled .50
" " Hayward .25	April 10/88 Post cards 1.00
" " H. C. Jones .25	May 15/88 Paper .35
" " J. R. Wakefield .25	16/88 1 ct. envelopes .28
" " W. C. Lane .25
" " G. N. Jones .25
" " Bates .25
March 7/88 " " Greenleaf .25
" 8/88 " " H. L. Rand .25
" 9/88 " " F. M. Wakefield .25
" " " Davis .25
" " " Townsend .25
5.00	5.00

Cash on hand, to balance

.27

expenses, making in all $11.00. Of this sum $3.00 had been subscribed by himself, C. Eliot, J.L. Wakefield, and W.H. Dunbar, leaving a deficit for him to pay of $8.00. - The President then stated that he considered the work a worthy one, and hoped the Society would aid the Botanical Department in its undertaking. His words brought forth a contribution of $3.00 more from Bliss, Burrage, Greenleaf, Lane, and Bates, which was gratefully received by the Secretary. This leaves still a deficit of $5.00 to be met.

It was then voted to proceed to the election of officers for the ensuing year 1888-9. On motion of Lane, seconded by Spelman and others, it was unanimously voted that the former officers be reelected. A written ballot sent under seal by J.R. Wakefield, when opened, was to the same effect. The officers therefore for 1888-9 are as follows: -

President, Charles Eliot.

Vice President, Henry M. Spelman.

Secretary, Edward L. Rand.

The annual assessment of 25 cents per member was then ordered, and in consequence the Secretary was kept busy for some time receiving dues, and making change.

The business meeting was then adjourned, after expenses, making in all $11.00. Of this sum $3.00 had been subscribed by himself, C. Eliot, J.L. Wakefield, and W.H. Dunbar, leaving a deficit for him to pay of $8.00. - The President then stated that he considered the work a worthy one, and hoped the Society would aid the Botanical Department in its undertaking. His words brought forth a contribution of $3.00 more from Bliss, Burrage, Greenleaf, Lane, and Bates, which was gratefully received by the Secretary. This leaves still a deficit of $5.00 to be met.

It was then voted to proceed to the election of officers for the ensuing year 1888-9. On motion of Lane, seconded by Spelman and others, it was unanimously voted that the former officers be reelected. A written ballot sent under seal by J.R. Wakefield, when opened, was to the same effect. The officers therefore for 1888-9 are as follows: -

President, Charles Eliot.

Vice President, Henry M. Spelman.

Secretary, Edward L. Rand.

The annual assessment of 25 cents per member was then ordered, and in consequence the Secretary was kept busy for some time receiving dues, and making change.

The business meeting was then adjourned, after

C.S.

Flora of Mt. Desert.

A Catalogue of the Plants of Mt. Desert and the adjoining islands by Edward L. Rand and John H. Redfield will be published on or about Aug. 15th. It will be accompanied by a sketch of the geology of Mt. Desert by Prof. Wm. M. Davis, and by the new map of the Island. The number of pages of the book will be about 290; the binding will be cloth, the price, $2.00 per copy.

In order to pay the expenses of publication many copies must be sold, and more subscriptions to the publication fund must be received. It is hoped that C.S. members will give such help as they are able. To them the price of copies for their personal use will be $1.50 (1.60 post paid). Address Edward L. Rand 740 Exchange Building, Boston, Mass.

C.S.

Flora of Mt. Desert.

A Catalogue of the Plants of Mt. Desert and the adjoining islands by Edward L. Rand and John H. Redfield will be published on or about Aug. 15th. It will be accompanied by a sketch of the geology of Mt. Desert by Prof. Wm. M. Davis, and by the new map of the Island. The number of pages of the book will be about 290; the binding will be cloth; the price, $2.00 per copy.

In order to pay the expenses of publication many copies must be sold, and more subscriptions to the publication fund must be received. It is hoped that C.S. members will give such help as they are able. To them the price of copies for their personal use will be $1.50 ($1.60 post paid). Address Edward L. Rand 740 Exchange Building, Boston, Mass.

C. S. Members.

1	1	Bates Benj E.	1017 Exchange Bldg	Boston
	7	Bliss, Henry W.	11 Marlboro St	"
2	3	Burrage, Dr. W. L.	140 Marlboro St.	"
	9	Davis, Prof Wm M.	2 Bond St Cambridge
✓		deWindt, H. A.	354 Huron St. Chicago Ill
✓		Dickinson, John W	Lyman Mills Holyoke Mass
✓		Dunbar, Geo. B.	St Joseph Mo.
3	5	Dunbar, Wm. H.	220 Devonshire St Boston.
✓		Earle, Morris	33 So Tenth St Philadelphia
4	1	Eliot, Charles	50 State St. Boston.
✓		Eliot, Rev S. A.	1957 Logan Ave. Denver Colo.
✓		Foster, Rev. John McGau,	15 Broadway, Bangor Me
	7	Greenleaf, Dr. R. W.	561 Boylston St. Boston
	8	Hayward, Roland	40 State St "
✓		Hubbard, Harry M.	387 LaSalle St Chicago. Ill
✓		Jones, Dr. Gilbert N.	42 Middle St Gloucester, Mass
	1	Jones, Henry C.	Hotel Oxford - Boston
5	10	Lane, Wm. C.	19 Oxford St Cambridge
✓		Lovering, Ernest	Lyman Mills, Holyoke, Mass
	11	Prentiss, John	56 Summer St. Boston
6	12	Rand, Edward L.	740 Exchange Building "
	13	Rand, Henry L.	50 State St. Boston

C.S. Members.

1	Bates Benj E.	1017 Exchange Bldg	Boston
		86 Franklin St
	Bliss, Henry W.	11 Marlboro St.	"
2	Burrage, Dr. W.L.,	140 Marlboro St.	"
	Davis, Prof Wm M.	2 Bond St	Cambridge
		200 Market St.
	deWindt, H.A.	354 Huron St.	Chicago Ills
	Dickinson, John W	Lyman Mills	Holyoke Mass
	Dunbar, Geo. B.	St. Joseph	Mo.
3	Dunbar, Wm. H.,	220 Devonshire St	Boston
			Philadelphia
	Earle, Morris	33 So Tenth St.	^
4	Eliot, Charles	50 State St.	Boston
	Eliot, Rev S. A.	1957 Logan Ave.	Denver Colo.
	Foster, Rev. John McGau,	15 Broadway, Bangor Me
	Greenleaf, Dr. R. W.,	561 Boylston St.	Boston
	Hayward, Roland	40 State St	"
	Hubbard, Harry M.	387 LaSalle St.	Chicago, Ill.
	Jones, Dr. Gilbert N.,	42 Middle St.	Gloucester, Mass
	Jones, Henry C.,	Hotel Oxford.	Boston
5	Lane, Wm. C.	19 Oxford St	Cambridge
	Lovering, Ernest	Lyman Mills, Holyoke, Mass
	Prentiss, John	56 Summer St.	Boston.
	Rand, Edward L.,	740 Exchange Building	"
	Rand, Henry L.	50 State St.	Boston.

Savage, Henry, ~~Broad St?~~
 Slade, Marshall P., ^{Algonquin Company.} Passaic, N.J.
 7 14 Spelman, Henry M. 50 State St Boston.
 15 Thaxter, Roland, Scott St Cambridge
 8 16 Townsend, Dr. Chas. W. 61 Chestnut St. Boston
 9 17 Wakefield, Frank M., Dedham, Mass
 18 Wakefield, John L., 23 Milk St Boston.
 10 19 Wakefield, Julius R., Dedham, Mass
 20 Worthington, Robert B., Dedham, Mass
 Worcester, Rev. Wm. L. 3502 Hamilton St Philadelphia
 Clark - F. Lewis. Spokane. Wash.

I have no idea of the present address of
 F. Lewis Clark. I am doubtful about some of the addresses given above, but most of them are all right.

Savage, Henry, — Broad St — ?

Slade, Marshall P., Algonquin Company. Passaic, N.J.
 7 Spelman, Henry M. 50 State St. Boston.
 Thaxter, Roland. Scott St Cambridge
 Townsend, Dr. Chas. W. 61 Chestnut St. Boston
 Wakefield Frank M, Dedham, Mass
 Wakefield, John L. 23 Milk St Boston
 Wakefield, Julius R. Dedham, Mass
 Worthington, Robert B., Dedham, Mass
 Worcester, Rev. Wm. L. 3502 Hamilton St Philadelphia
 Clark - F. Lewis. Spokane. Wash.

I have no idea of the present address of
 F. Lewis Clark. I am doubtful about some of the addresses given above, but
 most of them are all right.

the President had made a brief statement of the proposed trip to Mt. Desert to be undertaken on or about June 5th under the auspices of the Botanical Department.

The remainder of the evening members were entertained in various ways. Spelman exhibited a collection of prints from the "Worcester" views of Mt. Desert shown at the last meeting. They were examined with much interest, and many members took the opportunity to order prints for themselves.

S.A. Eliot, the popular Western missionary, and food were the two other great attractions of the evening. Both were much appreciated by the members present.

After a most pleasant evening the meeting adjourned at 10.30 o'clock. The worthy Captain neglected to provide a barge for the Cambridge members, and therefore did not dare to order his chariot as usual. He, with W.H. Dunbar and S.A. Eliot returned in the aristocratic horse car; while Lane, Spelman, and E.L. Rand went on foot.

It may be worthy of mention that the Society has been formally presented with a corkscrew to guard against future repetitions of the fantastic bottle opening scenes that have often been necessitated by the lack of this useful article.

the President had made a brief statement of the proposed trip to Mt. Desert to be undertaken on or about June 5th under the auspices of the Botanical Department.

The remainder of the evening members were entertained in various ways. Spelman exhibited a collection of prints from the "Worcester" views of Mt. Desert shown at the last meeting. They were examined with much interest, and many members took the opportunity to order prints for themselves.

S.A. Eliot, the popular Western missionary, and food were the two other great attractions of the evening. Both were much appreciated by the members present.

After a most pleasant evening the meeting adjourned at 10.30 o'clock. The worthy Captain neglected to provide a barge for the Cambridge members, and therefore did not dare to order his chariot as usual. He, with W.H. Dunbar and S.A. Eliot returned in the aristocratic horse car; while Lane, Spelman, and E.L. Rand went on foot.

It may be worthy of mention that the Society has been formally presented with a corkscrew to guard against future repetitions of the fantastic bottle opening scenes that have often been necessitated by the lack of that useful article.

C.S. DIRECTORY. 1888-9.

57

Benjamin E. Bates Esq.	Boston.	54 Devonshire St.
Henry W. Bliss	"	11 Marlborough St.
Walter L. Burrage	"	Women's Hospital 47 St. + 4 Ave New York.
F. Lewis Clark	Spokane Falls, W.T.
William M. Davis, Prof.	Cambridge.	2 Bond St.
Heyliger A. de Windt	Chicago, Ill.	118 Marlborough St.
John W. Dickinson	Holyoke, Mass.	Care O. H. Fargo & Co.
George B. Dunbar	Des Moines, Iowa.	Lyman Mills
William H. Dunbar Esq.	Cambridge	St. Joseph, Mo.
Morris Earle	Philadelphia, Pa.	Care Post Office K.C. St. J + C.B. RR
Charles Eliot	Cambridge	60 Devonshire St. Boston
Samuel A. Eliot	"	Highland St. Cambridge
John Mc Gao Foster, the Rev.	Bangor, Me.	1076 Chestnut St.
Robert W. Greenleaf, M.D.	Boston	9 Park St. Boston
Harry M. Hubbard	Chicago, Ill.	15 Divinity Hall
Roland Hayward	Boston	15 Broadway
Gilbert N. Jones	"	241 Boylston St.
Henry C. Jones	"	387 La Salle Ave.
William C. Lane	Cambridge	346 Marlborough St.
Ernest Lovering	Holyoke, Mass.	24 Mt. Vernon St.
John Prentiss Esq.	Boston	19 Oxford St.
Edward L. Rand Esq.	Cambridge	Lyman Mills
Henry L. Rand	"	50 State St. Boston Room 70

C.S. DIRECTORY 1888-9

57

Benjamin E. Bates, Esq.	Boston	54 Devonshire St. Boston
Henry W. Bliss	"	11 Marlborough St.
Walter L. Burrage	"	Women's Hospital 49th St. + 4th Ave New York
F. Lewis Clark	Spokane Falls, W.T.
William M. Davis (Prof)	Cambridge	2 Bond St.
Heyliger A. de Windt	Chicago	Care C. H. Fargo and Co.
John W. Dickinson	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills
George B. Dunbar	Des Moines, Iowa	St Joseph Mo.
William H. Dunbar Esq.	Cambridge	Sent. Post Office K.C. St. J + C.B. RR 60 Devonshire St. Boston
Morris Earle	Philadelphia, Pa.	Highland St. Cambridge
Charles Eliot	Cambridge	1076 Chestnut St.
Samuel A. Eliot	Bangor, Me.	9 Park St. Boston
John McGau Foster, the Rev.	Boston	15 Divinity Hall
Robert W. Greenleaf	Boston	15 Broadway 241 Boylston St.
M.D. Harry M. Hubbard	Chicago, Ill.	387 La Salle Ave.
Roland Hayward	Boston	346 Marlborough St.
Gilbert N. Jones	"	24 Mt. Vernon St.
Henry C. Jones	Cambridge	19 Oxford St.
William C. Lane	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills
Ernest Lovering	Boston	50 State St. Boston Room 70
John Prentiss Esq.	Cambridge	27 State St. Boston
Edward L. Rand Esq.	"	49 Kirkland St.
Henry L. Rand	"

Henry Savage	Boston	45 Broad St
Marshall P. Slade	Passaic N.J.	Rittenhouse Mfg Co
Henry M. Spelman Esq.	Cambridge	50 State St. Boston
Roland Thaxter	New Haven, Conn.	62 Sparks St.
Charles W. Townsend M.D.	Boston	27 Lincoln St.
Frank M. Wakefield	Dedham, Mass.	61 Chestnut St.
John L. Wakefield Esq	" "	23 Milk St. Boston
Julius R. Wakefield	" "	[?] & Manning 138 Federal
Robert B. Worthington	" "	St
William L. Worcester, the Rev.	Philadelphia, Pa.	3502 Hamilton St.

Henry Savage	Boston	45 Broad St.
Marshall P. Slade	Passaic N. J.	Rittenhouse Mfg Co
Henry M. Spelman Esq.	Cambridge	50 State St. Boston
Roland Thaxter	New Haven, Conn.	62 Sparks St.
Charles W. Townsend M.D.	Boston	27 Lincoln St.
Frank M. Wakefield	Dedham, Mass.	61 Chestnut St.
John L. Wakefield Esq.	" "	23 Milk St. Boston
Julius R. Wakefield	" "	" "
Robert B. Worthington	" "	Lower Manning 138 Federal
William L. Worcester, the Rev.	Philadelphia, Pa.	3502 Hamilton St

Officers of the C.S. 1888-9

President	Charles Eliot.	9 Park St. Boston
Vice President	Henry M. Spelman.	62 Sparks St. Cambridge
Secretary	Edward L. Rand.	27 State St. Boston 49 Kirkland St. Cambridge

---- Officers of the C.S. 1888-9 ----

President	Charles Eliot.	9 Park St. Boston
Vice President	Henry M. Spelman.	62 Sparks St. Cambridge
Secretary	Edward L. Rand.	27 State St. Boston 49 Kirkland St. Cambridge

Summer of 1888.

On Tuesday, June 5th, Greenleaf, Lane, and Rand started on the long-talked of Spring botanical expedition to Mt. Desert. Arriving at S.W. Harbor at noon the next day they were greeted with joy by Clarke, Parker, Gilley, the Deacon and other old acquaintances. Before dinner the botanists had collected boxes of specimens. They dined at the Island House with Mr. Bradbury, the solitary boarder. Soon after dinner Greenleaf and the baggage proceeded to Somesville on a buckboard, botanizing along the road, while Lane and Rand walked over Beech Hill via Beech Cliff. By supper time all were united at a loaded supper table in the Somes House, Somesville. The Somes House is most highly recommended as Headquarters, especially for Spring expeditions.

During the next few days expeditions were made to Prettymarsh, High Head, Sargent's Mt, the Ovens and Salisbury Cove, Town Hill, Amory District, Long Pond, etc., and many interesting specimens collected. On Sunday Lane attended church while Greenleaf and Rand worshipped Rhodora. The next day all drove to Bar Harbor in a fog, called on Mr and Mrs. W.P.

59.

Summer of 1888

On Tuesday, June 5th, Greenleaf, Lane, and Rand started on the long-talked of Spring botanical expedition to Mt. Desert. Arriving at S.W. Harbor at noon the next day they were greeted with joy by Clarke, Parker, Gilley, the Deacon and other old acquaintances. Before dinner the botanists had collected boxes of specimens. They dined at the Island House with Mr. Bradbury, the solitary boarder. Soon after dinner Greenleaf and the baggage proceeded to Somesville on a buckboard, botanizing along the road, while Lane and Rand walked over Beech Hill via Beech Cliff. By supper time all were united at a loaded supper table in the Somes House, Somesville. The Somes House is most highly recommended as Headquarters, especially for Spring expeditions.

During the next few days expeditions were made to Prettymarsh, High Head, Sargent's Mt, the Ovens and Salisbury Cove, Town Hill, Amory District, Long Pond, etc., and many interesting specimens collected. On Sunday Lane attended church while Greenleaf and Rand worshipped Rhodora. The next day all drove to Bar Harbor in a fog, called on Mr and Mrs. W.P.

Walley, from whom they had had a most kind invitation to make headquarters at their beautiful residence, - and then took the Steamboat "Mt. Desert" for home. The expedition reached Boston early on the morning of the 12th, full of enthusiasm over Mt. Desert in early June.

Later in the season other members visited the Island. H.L. Rand spent a Sunday at the Island House, S.W. Harbor, in the middle of June. Later S.A. Eliot and C. Eliot went to N.E. Harbor, but were too much occupied with other matters to attend to scientific affairs. The former showed unusual energy in trying convert^o the natives to Unitarianism.

On Aug. 15th E.L. Rand and F.M. Wakefield arrived at S.W. Harbor for a stay of nearly three weeks. During this stay Rand did his best to collect for the Herbarium, to add new plants to the list, and to open communication with other botanists on the Island. In his efforts he was very successful on the whole.

Late in August Lane paid a flying visit to N.E. Harbor; and J.L. Wakefield was also there for a couple of weeks.

Walley, from whom they had had a most kind invitation to make headquarters at their beautiful residence, - and then took the Steamboat "Mt. Desert" for home. The expedition reached Boston early on the morning of the 12th, full of enthusiasm over Mt. Desert in early June.

Later in the season other members visited the Island. H.L. Rand spent a Sunday at the Island House, S.W. Harbor, in the middle of June. Later S.A. Eliot and C. Eliot went to N.E. harbor, but were too much occupied with other matters to attend to scientific affairs. The former showed unusual energy in trying convert to the nation to Unitarianism.

On Aug. 15th E.L. Rand and F.M. Wakefield arrived at S.W. Harbor for a stay of nearly three weeks. During this stay Rand did his best to collect for the Herbarium, to add new plants to the List, and to open communication with other botanists on the Island. In his efforts he was very successful on the whole.

Late in August Lane paid a flying visit to N.E. harbor; and J.L. Wakefield was also there for a couple of weeks.

C.S.

27 State St. Boston, Nov. 5 1888

Meeting, Thursday November 15th 1888, 7.30
P.M. at Headquarters, 9 Park St. Boston
--- Summer notes from Mt Desert, etc. ---
--- Important business ---
A large attendance is desired. If unable to attend please reply. Please notify the Secretary of any change of address. Edward L Rand
Secretary.

C.S.

27 State St. Boston, Nov. 5 1888

Meeting, Thursday November 15th 1888, 7.30
P. M. at Headquarters, 9 Park St. Boston
--- Summer notes from Mt Desert, etc. ---
--- Important business ---
A large attendance is desired. If unable to attend
Please reply. Please notify the Secretary of any Change of address. Edward L Rand
Secretary.

Meeting - Thursday, Nov. 15th 1888.
(Headquarters 9 Park St. Boston)

According to the notice on the opposite page the Society met as therein stated. Present: C. Eliot, E.L. Rand, G.N. Jones, H.C. Jones, W.H. Dunbar, J.R. Wakefield, Greenleaf, and Prentiss. This small attendance was a great disappointment, as it not only cast a gloom over the social side of the meeting, but prevented the transaction of any important business. After much time passed in conversation, waiting for the members to arrive, the President called the meeting to order.

The reading of the Record of the last meeting was dispensed with. Owing to the absence of so many members only the briefest statements as to summer experiences were made. The Captain spoke of events of interest in a general way; the Secretary made a brief statement as to the work of the Botanical Department.

The Captain then proposed a plan for future meetings of the Society. He suggested that it would be wise to give up all regular meetings except an annual meeting in November of each year, and leave it to the discretion of the Executive Committee to call other meetings when there was something of interest to be brought forward, such as a paper, an exhibition of views, etc.

Prentiss agreed with the Captain. E.L. Rand suggested that it would be unwise to bind the Executive Com-

61.
Meeting - Thursday, Nov. 15th 1888.

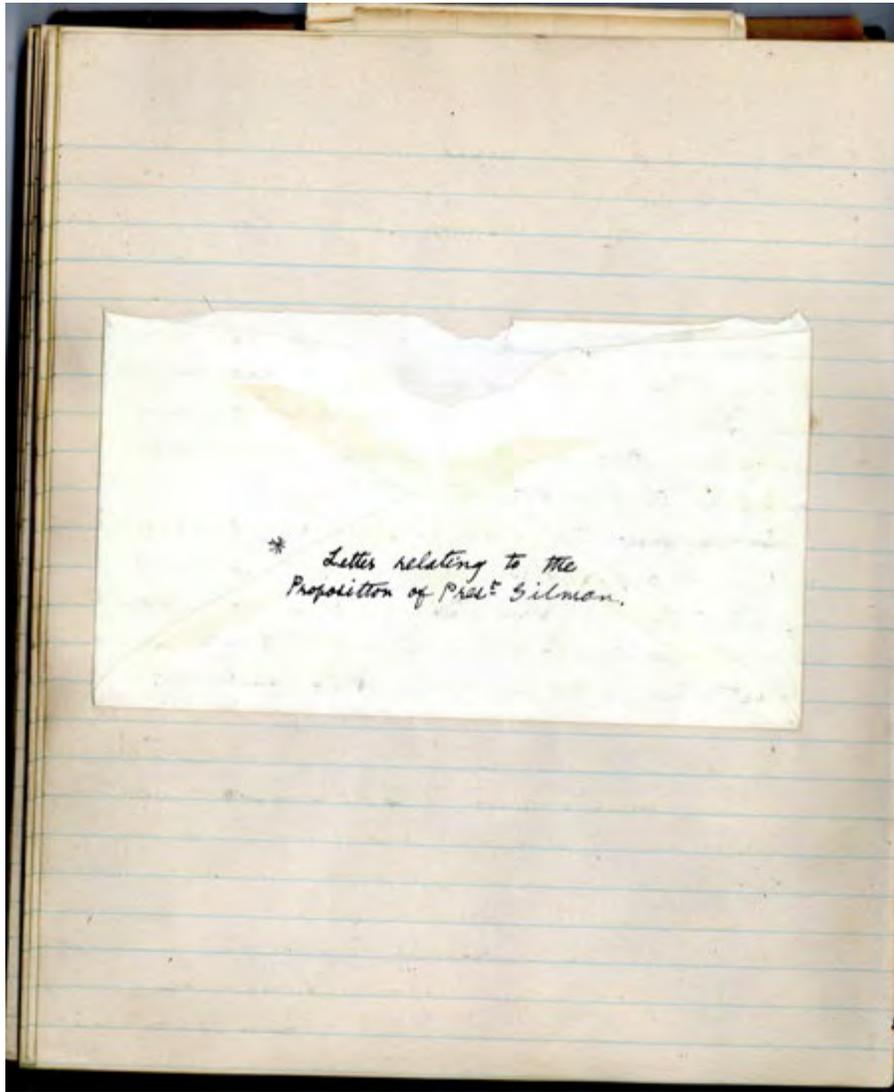

(Headquarters 9 Park St. Boston) met

According to the notice on the opposite page the Society, as therein stated. Present: C. Eliot, E.L. Rand, G.N. Jones, H.C. Jones, W.H. Dunbar, J.R. Wakefield, Greenleaf, and Prentiss. This small attendance was a great disappointment, as it not only cast a gloom over the social side of the meeting, but prevented the transaction of any important business. After much time passed in conversation, waiting for the members to arrive, the President called the meeting to order.

The reading of the Record of the last meeting was dispensed with. Owing to the absence of so many members only the briefest statements as to summer experiences were made. The Captain spoke of events of interest in a general way; the Secretary made a brief statement as to the work of the Botanical Department.

The Captain then proposed a plan for future meetings of the Society. He suggested that it would be wise to give up all regular meetings except an annual meeting in November of each year, and leave it to the discretion of the Executive Committee to call other meetings when there was something of interest to be brought forward, such as a paper, an exhibition of views, etc.

Prentiss agreed with the Captain. E.L. Rand suggested that it would be unwise to bind the Executive Com-

* Letter relating to the Proposition of Prest. Gilman

MASSACHUSETTS TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY,
23 MILK STREET, BOSTON.

ARNOLD A. RAND,
Vice President and Manager.

NATHANIEL J. BRADLEE, President.

Nov. 15/88

My dear Edward
I am deeply grieved
that I am unable to be with you this evening, but an unexpected business engagement must be put ahead
of the pleasures of the C.S.
I wanted to say a word
or two about President Gilman's proposition but Lane knows
all about it.

The substance of it was,
as I believe I explained to you before, that if we would

Nov. 15/88

My dear Edward

I am deeply grieved
that I am unable to be with you this evening, but
an unexpected business engagement must be put ahead
of the pleasures of the C.S.

I wanted to say a word
or two about President Gilman's
proposition but Lane knows
all about it.

The substance of it was,
as I believe I explained to you
before, that if we would

make some formal arrangement, by by-law, or otherwise by which he and others interested enough in our work to pay something for the privilege might become associates if we chose to elect them, he would be glad to join himself to the C.S. and would contribute liberally towards a fund to be used for the publication of such works as the Society would be justified in publishing. He said further that he could and would induce others whom he knew make some formal arrangement, by by-law, or otherwise, by which he and others interested enough in our work to pay something for the privilege might become associates if we chose to elect them, he would be glad to join himself to the C.S. and would contribute liberally towards a fund to be used for the publication of such works as the Society would be justified in publishing. He said further that he could and would include other whom he knows

were ~~residents~~ of interested in Mt. Desert, and especially those who had houses there,
to become associates of the Society and to join him
in contributing. He requested that we should take some early action on this proposition, and that we should communicate with him through our Secretary.

Mr. Edwin H. Abbott
said he should like to join in the good work
and would be glad to do as much for the publication

were residents of interested
in Mt. Desert and especially those who had houses there,
to become associates of the Society and to join him
in contributing. He requested that we should take some early action on this proposition, and that we should communicate with him through our secretary.

Mr. Edwin H. Abbott
said he should like to join in the good work
and would be glad to do as much for the publication

fund as Mr. Gilman did.

I think their idea in becoming in some way members of the Society, was that some further work would probably be done on our lines, and that it could best be done by parties working in ^{connection} ~~sympathy~~ with what we have already done. Also, that those who contributed, or some one representing them, might have some voice in deciding on the fitness of our work for publication.

I have written at some length so that you can bring the matter fairly before the fellows if Lane is not there.
Yours truly, J.L.W.

fund as Mr. Gilman did.

I think their idea in becoming in some way members of the Society was that some further work would probably be done on our lines, and that it could best be done by parties working in ^{connection} ~~sympathy~~ with what we have already done. Also, that those who contributed, or some one representing them, might have some voice in deciding on the fitness of our work for publication.

I have written at some length so that you can bring the matter fairly before the fellows if Lane is not there.

Yours truly, J.L.W.

mittee to such a definite course when so few members were present. H.C. Jones proposed that regularity of meetings, or any definite object for meetings, should not be insisted on; but that the matter might be left for the present to the Executive Committee to call meetings for any purpose social or otherwise, when it seemed to it expedient. He suggested that a meeting should be held in January and in May at least. This view prevailed, and the matter was thus left to the discretion of the Executive Committee for the present.

The Secretary then read a letter from J.L. Wakefield relating to a proposition made to him and Lane by President Gilman and Mr. E.H. Abbott as to admitting associate members to the Society and letting them contribute towards the publication of the results of work done by members of the Society on Mt. Desert Island. The Captain said there was so little to publish, and so few members were willing to do any work, that he doubted the wisdom of doing anything in the matter. The Secretary said he thought it would be better to form a new living and active organization devoted to protecting and advancing the interests of Mt. Desert. The matter was finally laid on the table until J.L. Wakefield and Lane could be present.

Owing to some unfortunate misunderstanding no supper arrived!
The meeting adjourned at ten o'clock.

mittee to such a definite course when so few members were present. H.C. Jones proposed that regularity of meetings, or any definite object for meetings, should not be insisted on, but that the matter might be left for the present to the Executive Committee to call meetings for any purpose social or otherwise, when it seemed to it expedient. He suggested that a meeting should be held in January and in May at least. This view prevailed, and the matter was thus left to the discretion of the Executive Committee for the present.

The Secretary then read a letter from J.L. Wakefield relating to a proposition made to him and Lane by President Gilman and Mr. E.H. Abbott as to admitting associate members to the Society and letting them contribute towards the publication of the results of work done by members of the Society on Mt. Desert Island. The Captain said there was so little to publish, and so few members were willing to do any work, that he doubted the wisdom of doing anything in the matter. The Secretary said he thought it would be better to form a new living and active organization devoted to protecting and advancing the interests of Mt. Desert. The matter was finally laid on the table until J.L. Wakefield and Lane could be present. Owing to some unfortunate misunderstanding no supper arrived! The meeting adjourned at ten o'clock.

Mr Edward L. Rand

My dear Sir

I beg to acknowledge with thanks your polite letter informing me of my honorary membership in the Champlain Society.

Believe me the honor

Mr. Edward L. Rand

My dear Sir

I beg to acknowledge with thanks your polite letter informing me of my honorary membership in the Champlain Society.

Believe me the honor

is truly appreciated.
Very cordially -
Mary Yale Eliot
17 Quincy Street
Cambridge.

is truly appreciated.

Very cordially -

Mary Yale Eliot

17 Quincy Street

Cambridge

Committee on the Wedding of Pres. Charles Eliot.

In November 1888 the much loved Captain was quietly married at Colorado Springs, Col. to Miss Mary Yale Pitkin, of Philadelphia. It seemed to the members of C.S. that suitable notice should be taken of this happy event, and several members requested the Executive Committee to take appropriate action. Therefore early in December the Committee appointed Vice President Spelman and Lane, a Committee to select and present an appropriate gift in behalf of the Society. This was done most acceptably, and in the January following the Committee was discharged with the thanks of all. The gift, a beautiful old fashioned silver cream pitcher bearing the pithy inscription, "C.S. to C.E.", was most satisfactory to all who saw it. A photograph of it will be found ~~on the~~ opposite page 65

Note January 26th 1889

On this date the Secretary notified Mrs. Charles Eliot of her election under the Lane Resolution of Dec 8th 1887 as an honorary member of the C.S.

On February 4th Mrs. Eliot accepted membership. Her note will be found on the opposite page.

Committee on the Wedding of Pres. Charles Eliot.

In November 1888 the much loved Captain was quietly married at Colorado Springs, Col. to Miss Mary Yale Pitkin, of Philadelphia. It seemed to the members of C.S. that suitable notice should be taken of this happy event, and several members requested the Executive Committee to take appropriate action. Therefore early in December the Committee appointed Vice President Spelman and Lane, a Committee to select and present an appropriate gift in behalf of the Society. This was done most acceptably, and in the January following the Committee was discharged with the thanks of all. The gift, a beautiful old fashioned silver cream pitcher bearing the pithy inscription, "C.S. to C.E.", was most satisfactory to all who saw it. A photograph of it will be found on the opposite page 65

Note January 26th 1889

On this date the Secretary notified Mrs. Charles Eliot of her election under the Lane Resolution of Dec. 8th 1887 as an honorary member of the C.S.

On February 4th Mrs. Eliot accepted membership. Her note will be found on the opposite page.

C.S.

Meeting, Thursday, February 7th, 1889, 7.30 P.M.
(promptly), at the house of Dr. Charles W. Townsend, 61 Chestnut St. Boston

A paper is expected,—"Notes on Mt. Desert and its Flora in Early June."

If unable to attend, please reply to Dr. Townsend,
at above address.

The attention of members is called to the following requests from the Executive Committee: -----

First. If members wish regular meetings of this Society
continued, at least oftener than once a year, - will they show their wish by attending meetings and doing their best to make them both pleasant and profitable?
The attendance at the last meeting was so small that the Committee does not feel justified in arranging for more than one meeting a year unless there is more interest shown. -

Second. Will those members who reside in Boston and vicinity notify the Secretary (or as otherwise requested), when they are unable to attend? At the last meeting, not one-third of the absent members complied with this request, - surely not two-thirds of those absent members were at the last meeting prevented from attending! The result of such carelessness is both a great inconvenience to the members giving the meeting, and a cause of delay and uncertainty
in conducting the proceedings of the evening. Dr.
Townsend has especially requested that members
intending to be absent from this meeting on Feb. 7th will notify him of the fact, as far as possible.

Edward L. Rand

C.S.

Meeting, Thursday, February 7th, 1889, 7.30 P.M.
(promptly), at the house of Dr. Charles W. Townsend, 61 Chestnut St. Boston.

A paper is expected,—"Notes on Mt. Desert and its Flora in early June."

If unable to attend, please reply to Dr. Townsend,
at above address.

The attention of members is called to the following requests
from the Executive Committee: -----

First. If members wish regular meetings of this Society
continued, at least oftener than once a year, - will they show their wish by attending meetings and doing their best to make them both pleasant and profitable?

The attendance at the last meeting was so small that the Committee does not feel justified in arranging for more than one meeting a year unless there is more interest shown. -

Second. Will those members who reside in Boston and vicinity notify the Secretary, (or as otherwise requested), when they are unable to attend? At the last meeting, not one-third of the absent members complied with this request, -surely
not two-thirds of those absent members were at the last moment prevented from attending! The result of such carelessness is both a great inconvenience to the members
giving the meeting, and a cause of delay and uncertainty
in conducting the proceedings of the evening. Dr.
Townsend has especially requested that members
intending to be absent from this meeting on Feb. 7th
will notify him of the fact, as far as possible.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

10 Jan. '89.
Messrs Spelman and Lane }
Committee of C. S. }
Dear Friends:
To my great surprise
and pleasure I have received from you a very handsome little pitcher inscribed
"C.S. to C.E."
My thanks I shall try to write to the scattered Champlain-ers, and I shall speak them to those who are still near Boston—but I want to thank you—the Committee especially.
All my recollections of my Champlain friends are very happy, and they require no visible token to keep them fresh and green in this gift can only make them fairer still and brighter.
Yours affectionately
Charles Eliot
9 Park St.
Boston.

10 Jan. '89
Messrs. Spelman and Lane
Committee of C.S.

Dear Friends:

To my great surprise
and pleasure I have received from you a very handsome little pitcher inscribed
"C.S. to C.E."

The thanks I shall try to write to the scattered Champlain-ers, and I shall speak then to those who are still near Boston—but I want

to thank you—the Committee
especially.
All my recollections of my Champlain friends are very happy, and they require no
visible token to keep them fresh
and green in this gift can only make them fairer still and brighter.

Yours affectionately
Charles Eliot.

9 Park St.
Boston.

Meeting - Thursday, February 7th 1889
(61 Chestnut St., Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the residence of Dr. Charles W. Townsend, 61 Chestnut St., Boston. The request of the Executive Committee bore good fruit both in increasing the attendance, and in securing notes from members unable to attend. Present: Bates, W. H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, Greenleaf, G. N. Jones, H. C. Jones, Lane, Prentiss, E. L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, J. L. Wakefield, J. R. Wakefield, and Worthington.

It is much to be regretted, however, that so many members are unable to fathom the meaning of the simple phrase, "7.30 P.M. (promptly)." The result in both business meeting and paper (if any) must be curtailed in order to allow the members to have any supper. The Secretary does not wish to insinuate that any members come to the meetings for supper alone, but suggests that it is more courteous to the host and the other members not to delay or impede the business of the evening.

For the above reason the meeting was not called to order by the President until 8.30.

The records of the last meeting were read, and approved in spite of sundry objections by Prentiss, who thought his name was not ^{made} sufficiently prominent. The records of the services of the Eliot Committee, of the acceptance of Mrs. Charles Eliot of Honorary membership, were

Meeting - Thursday, February 7th 1889
(61 Chestnut St. Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the residence of Dr. Charles W. Townsend, 61 Chestnut St., Boston. The request of the Executive Committee bore good fruit both in increasing the attendance, and in securing notes from members unable to attend. Present: Bates, W. H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, Greenleaf, G. N. Jones, H. C. Jones, Lane, Prentiss, E. L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, J. L. Wakefield, J. R. Wakefield, and Worthington.

It is much to be regretted, however, that so many members are unable to fathom the meaning of the simple phrase, "7.30 P.M. (promptly)." The result in both business meeting and paper (if any) must be curtailed in order to allow the members to have any supper. The Secretary does not wish to insinuate that any members come to the meetings for supper alone, but suggests that it is more courteous to the host and the other members not to delay or impede the business of the evening.

For the above reason the meeting was not called to order by the President until 8.30.

The Records of the last meeting were read, and approved, in spite of sundry objections by Prentiss, who thought his name was not ^{made} sufficiently prominent. The records of the services of the Eliot Committee, of the acceptance of Mrs. Charles Eliot of Honorary membership, were also read and approved. The Captain made inquiries as to the legality of Honorary Membership, which were conclusively answered by the reading of the Record of the Lane Resolution (p. 44.)

[Image of silver cream pitcher given to Charles Eliot as a wedding gift]

On motion of Townsend it was voted that Vice President Spelman be requested to photograph the C.S. at the close of the present meeting.

The problem of arranging for meetings, etc. was left to the Executive Committee with full powers to solve as best it could.

Lane and J.L. Wakefield then made a statement of President Gilman's proposition relating to a reorganization of the Society, the establishment of Associate membership with annual dues, and the publication of investigations made by the members and others. A discussion followed, in which many members took part. It seemed to be generally agreed that the Botanical List was the only material now likely to receive publication; that it would be impossible to reorganize the C.S. without a man of great leisure to act as the head of the movement; and that it was better to take no decided ~~answer~~^{step} at present. The Secretary stated he had already written to President Gilman, explaining circumstances. It was voted to lay the whole matter ~~of~~ the table for the present.

Then the Secretary, after a few words of encouragement from Prentiss, read an extract from an account

also read and approved. The Captain made inquiries as to the legality of Honorary Membership, which were conclusively answered by the reading of the Record of the Lane Resolution (p. 44.) On motion of Townsend it was voted that Vice President Spelman be requested to photograph the C.S. at the close of the present meeting.

The problem of arranging for meetings, etc. was left to the Executive Committee with full powers to solve as best it could.

Lane and J.L. Wakefield then made a statement of President Gilman's proposition relating to a reorganization of the Society, the establishment of Associate membership with annual dues, and the publication of investigations made by the members and others. A discussion followed, in which many members took part. It seemed to be generally agreed that the Botanical List was the only material now likely to receive publication; that it would be impossible to reorganize the C.S. without a man of great leisure to act as the head of the movement; and that it was better to take no decided answer steps at present. The Secretary stated he had already written to President Gilman, explaining circumstances. It was voted to lay the whole matter on the table for the present.

Then the Secretary, after a few words of encouragement from Prentiss, read an extract from an account of the Expedition to Mt. Desert, made in June 1888 by Greenleaf, Lane, and Rand of the Botanical Department. It was listened to with attention and interest. Owing to the lateness of the hour, however, only the record of their first impressions of the Island could be read.

[Photo taken by Henry Spelman of Champlain Society members at the February 7, 1889 meeting. Present were: Bates, W.H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, Greenleaf, G.N. Jones, H.C. Jones, Lane, Prentiss, E.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, and Worthington.]

It was then voted to adjourn to the dining room to supper, an event of certainly greater social interest. The host had provided many good things for the cheer of the members, - to which they all did full justice. After a very pleasant three-quarters of an hour passed in eating and talking, the members returned to the Doctor's office again.

Here after much elaborate arrangement Spelman, aided by Bates, took two groups of the C.S. with his camera and flash light. It will be a matter of great interest to see how these will develop, - for the Society has had no group taken for years. It is to be feared, however, that the arrangement is not the most artistic, and that most of the members will appear asleep, owing to the brilliancy of the flash light.

At 10.45 the meeting adjourned with many thanks to Townsend for his hospitality. All I am sure will vote it a most pleasant and successful gathering the C.S. has had for some time.

of the Expedition to Mt. Desert, made in June 1888 by Greenleaf, Lane, and Rand of the Botanical Department. It was listened to with attention and interest. Owing to the lateness of the hour, however, only the record of their first impressions of the Island could be read.

It was then voted to adjourn to the dining room to supper; an event of certainly greater social interest. The host had provided many good things for the cheer of the members, - to which they all did full justice. After a very pleasant three-quarters of an hour passed in eating and talking, the members returned to the Doctor's office again.

Here after much elaborate arrangement Spelman, aided by Bates, took two groups of the C.S. with his camera and flash light. It will be a matter of great interest to see how these will develop, - for the Society has had no group taken for years. It is to be feared, however, that the arrangement is not the most artistic, and that most of the members will appear asleep, owing to the brilliancy of the flash light.

At 10.45 the meeting adjourned with many thanks to Townsend for his hospitality. All I am sure will vote it a most pleasant and successful gathering the C.S. has had for some time.

Champlain Society -

Meeting, Thursday May 23rd, punctually
at 7.30 P.M. at 9 Park St, Room 18,
Boston

Exhibition with lantern of Grand Menan
views under the direction of Wm. C. Lane.

A short statement of progress in the work
of the Botanical Department.

All members are especially urged to be present.
Please reply to Henry M. Spelman,
50 State St., Boston.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

Champlain Society

Meeting, Thursday May 23rd, punctually
at 7.30 P.M. at 9 Park St, Room 18,
Boston

Exhibition with lantern of Grand Menan
views under the direction of Wm. C. Lane.

A short statement of progress in the work
of the Botanical Department.

All members are especially urged to be present.
Please reply to Henry M. Spelman,
50 State St., Boston.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

Meeting, Thursday, May 23rd 1889
[9 Park St, Boston.]

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at Headquarters, Spelman officiating as host. Present, - Bates, Davis, W.H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, Greenleaf, H.C. Jones, Lane, Prentiss, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, and F.M. Wakefield. C.P. Worcester of photographic fame, was also present in charge of his Grand Menan views. As usual the punctuality of the members was so deficient that it was nearly half past eight before the exhibition began.

It would require far greater literary expression than the Secretary is gifted with to do justice to the beautiful views that were shown to the delighted Society. One by one came pictures of white-capped sunlit waves, of towering cliffs alive with great white gulls, of queer, quaint bits of the life of the inhabitants of the fog-enwrapped island, and of choice extracts from the geological formation. The exhibition closed with a few lighthouse and marine views. The appreciation of the members present was clearly shown by the interest with which questions were asked, and with which the map of Grand Menan was followed. Every now and then some member would forget the lantern in his excitement, and cast his own shadow upon the beautiful picture on the wall.

Meeting, Thursday, May 23rd 1889
[9 Park St, Boston]

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at Headquarters, Spelman officiating as host. Present, - Bates, Davis, W.H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, Greenleaf, H.C. Jones, Lane, Prentiss, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, and F.M. Wakefield. C.P. Worcester of photographic fame, was also present in charge of his Grand Menan views. As usual the punctuality of the members was so deficient that it was nearly half past eight before the exhibition began.

It would require far greater literary expression than the Secretary is gifted with to do justice to the beautiful views that were shown to the delighted Society. One by one came pictures of white-capped sunlit waves, of towering cliffs, alive with great white gulls, of queer, quaint bits of the life of the inhabitants of the fog-enwrapped island, and of choice extracts from the geological formation. The exhibition closed with a few lighthouse and marine views. The appreciation of the members present was clearly shown by the interest with which questions were asked, and with which the map of Grand Menan was followed. Every now and then some members would forget the lantern in his excitement, and cast his own shadow upon the beautiful picture on the wall.

At the close of the delightful entertainment a vote of thanks was unanimously extended to Mr. Worcester for his kindness in exhibiting the views, and to Lane for prevailing upon him to do so.

The meeting was then called to order by the President. The reading of the records of the last meeting was dispensed with on motion of S.A. Eliot. E.L. Rand for the Botanical Department then read a brief report of the work of the past year, showing a great gain in number of species, and in the species represented in the Herbarium. The report was accepted with thanks and placed on file.

In view of certain recommendations made in this report, the President appointed W.H. Dunbar a Committee of one to raise such funds as possible for the refunding of expenses incurred by E.L. Rand, and for the mounting of plants now in the Herbarium. The meeting then adjourned to partake of the ever welcome food and drink provided by Spelman. The remainder of the all-too short evening was devoted to feasting and to conversation.

About a quarter of eleven the meeting finally adjourned, all voting it a great success in every way.

At the close of the delightful entertainment a vote of thanks was unanimously extended to Mr. Worcester for his kindness in exhibiting the views, and to Lane for prevailing upon him to do so. The meeting was then called to order by the President. The reading of the records of the of the last meeting was dispensed with on motion of S.A. Eliot. E.L. Rand for the Botanical Department then read a brief report of the work of the past year, showing a great gain in number of species, and in the species represented in the Herbarium. The report was accepted with thanks and placed on file.

In view of certain recommendations made in this report, the President appointed W.H. Dunbar a Committee of one to raise such funds as possible for the refunding of expenses incurred by E.L. Rand, and for the mounting of plants now in the Herbarium. The meeting then adjourned to partake of the ever welcome food and drink provided by Spelman. The remainder of the all-too short evening was devoted to feasting and to conversation. About a quarter of eleven the meeting finally adjourned, all voting it a great success in every way.

Dr. Walter L. Burrage.

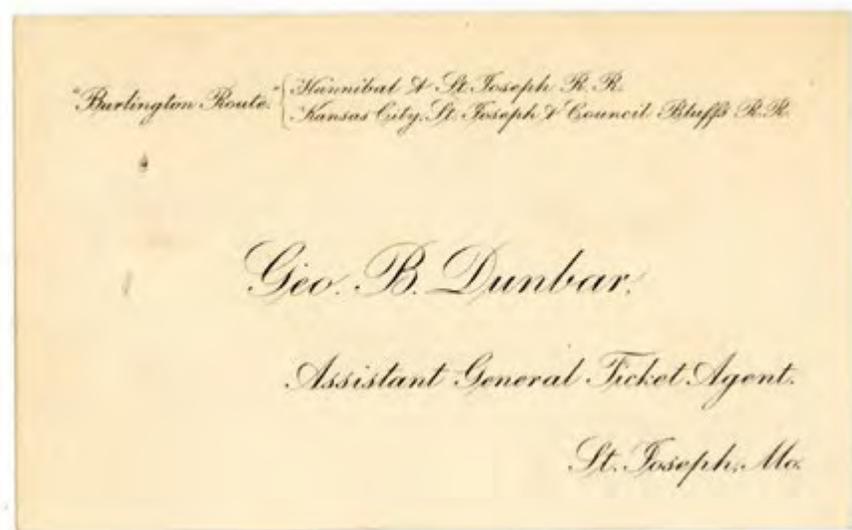

1.30 to 3 P.M. 140 Marlborough St.

C. S. Directory 1889-90

Bates, Benj. E., Esq.	Boston.	95 Mt Vernon St. 54 Devonshire St.
Bliss, Henry W.	Boston.	11 Marlborough St.
Burrage, Walter L., M.D.	Boston	140 Marlborough St
Clark, F. Lewis,	Spokane Falls, Wash.
Davis, William M. Prof.	Cambridge	2 Bond St.
de Windt, Heyliger A.,	Chicago	116 Market St.
Dickinson, John W.,	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills, Holyoke Remond + St. Joseph etc. R.R. Burlington Route Mt Gen Ticket Agent
Dunbar, George B.,	St. Joseph, Mo.	220 Devonshire St. Bost.
Dunbar, William H., Esq.	Cambridge	Highland St. 33 So. Tenth St. Corner Chestnut.
Earle, Morris	Philadelphia	1225 Spruce St.
Eliot, Charles	Cambridge	17 Quincy St.
Eliot, Samuel A., the Rev.	Denver, Col	50 State St. Rm 50 Boston
Foster, John McGau, the Rev.	Bangor, Me.	15 Broadway
Greenleaf, Robert W., M.D.	Boston	241 Boylston St.
Hayward, Roland	Boston	40 State St.
Hubbard, Harry M.,	Chicago	307 La Salle St.
Jones, Gilbert N., M.D.	Gloucester, Mass	42 Middle St
Jones, Henry C.,	Boston	Hotel Oxford
Lane, William C.,	Cambridge	19 Oxford St.
Lovering, Ernest,	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills,
Prentiss, John, Esq.	Boston	56 Summer St. Rm 12
Rand, Edward L., Esq.	Cambridge	93 Mt. Vernon St. 49 Kirkland St. 27 State St., Boston

C.S. DIRECTORY 1889-90

Bates, Benj. E., Esq.	Boston	93 Mt. Vernon St.
Bliss, Henry W.	Boston	54 Devonshire St.
Burrage, Walter L., M.D.	Boston	11 Marlborough St.
Clark, F. Lewis	Spokane Falls, Wash.	140 Marlborough St.
Davis, William M., Prof.	Cambridge	2 Bond St.
deWindt, Heyliger A.,	Chicago	116 Market St
Dickinson, John W.,	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills, Holyoke
Dunbar, George B.	St. Joseph, Mo.	Hannibal + St. Joseph etc. R.R. Burlington Route Asst. Gen Ticket Agent
Dunbar, William H., Esq.	Cambridge	220 Devonshire St. Boston
Earle, Morris	Philadelphia	Highland St. 33 So. Tenth St. Corner Chestnut
Eliot, Charles	Cambridge	1225 Spruce St. 17 Quincy St
Eliot, Samuel A., the Rev.	Denver, Col	50 State St. Rm 50 Boston
Foster, John McGau, the Rev.	Bangor, Me.	15 Broadway
Greenleaf, Robert W. M.D.	Boston	241 561 Boylston St.
Hayward, Roland	Boston	40 State St.
Hubbard, Harry M.	Chicago
Jones, Gilbert N., M.D.	Boston	42 Middle St
Jones, Henry C.,	Boston	Hotel Oxford
Lane, William C.,	Cambridge	19 Oxford St.
Lovering, Ernest,	Holyoke, Mass	Lyman Mills
Prentiss, John, Esq.	Boston	56 Summer St Rm 12
Rand, Edward L., Esq.	Cambridge	93 Mt. Vernon St. 49 Kirkland St. 27 State St., Boston

Burlington Route { Hannibal & St. Joseph R.R.
Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs R.R.

Geo. B. Dunbar.

Assistant General Ticket Agent

St. Joseph, Mo.

Rand, Henry L.,	Cambridge	49 Kirkland St. 50 State St. Boston.
Savage, Henry	Boston	45 Broad St.
Slade, Marshall P.,
Spelman, Henry M., Esq.	Cambridge	62 Sparks St. 50 State St. Boston
Thaxter, Roland, Ph.D.	New Haven, Conn	384 Whitney Ave. 27 Lincoln St.
Townsend, Charles W., M.D.	Boston	61 Chestnut St.
Wakefield, Frank M.,	Dedham, Mass.
Wakefield, John L., Esq.	Dedham "	23 Milk St. Boston
Wakefield, Julius R.,	Dedham "
Worthington, Robert B.,	Dedham "
Worcester, William L. the Rev.	Phila	322 Chestnut St.

Officers of the Champlain Society 1889-90

President	Vice President	Secretary
Charles Eliot 17 Quincy St., Cambridge 50 State St., Boston	Henry M. Spelman 62 Sparks St. Cambridge 50 State St. Boston	Edward L. Rand 49 Kirkland St. Cambridge 27 State St., Boston

Rand, Henry L.	Cambridge	49 Kirkland St.
Savage, Henry	Boston	50 State St., Boston 45 Broad St.
Slade, Marshall P.
Spelman, Henry M., Esq.	Cambridge	62 Sparks St.
Thaxter, Roland, Ph.D.	New Haven, Conn.	50 State St. Boston 384 Whitney Ave.
Townsend, Charles W., M.D.	Boston	27 Lincoln St. 61 Chestnut St
Wakefield, Frank M.,	Dedham, Mass
Wakefield, John L., Esq.	Dedham "	23 Milk St. Boston
Wakefield, Julius R.,	Dedham "
Worthington, Robert B.,	Dedham "
Worcester, William L., the Rev.

-- Officers of the Champlain Society 1889-90

President	Vice President	Secretary
Charles Eliot 17 Quincy St., Cambridge 50 State St, Boston	Henry M. Spelman 62 Sparks St. Cambridge 50 State St. Boston	Edward L. Rand 49 Kirkland St. Cambridge 27 State St. Boston

Summer of 1889.

On June 11th E.L. Rand in company with Mr. John H. Redfield and other friends departed for a spring botanizing trip at Mt. Desert, - all other C.S. members having failed him. The "Penobscot" had been detained by storm, so the party did not set sail until late in the night. Rockland was reached about one o'clock the next day, and S.W. Harbor about seven o'clock in the evening. Wagons were at once procured, and before nine o'clock the party arrived at its headquarters, the Somes House in Somesville.

The next week was pleasantly passed in making trips to various parts of the Island. Among ~~other~~^{the} points visited were, Beech Hill, High Head, N.E. Branch, Town Hill, the "Bridge," Salisbury Cove, Hull's Cove, Breakneck road, Long Pond woods, and Sargeants Mt. A great number of specimens were collected for the Herbarium, and a number of new species added to the list. On June 19 E.L. Rand and his friend H.L. Rand returned to Boston, leaving Mr. Redfield to continue his botanical pursuits during the summer.

Later in the season a number of the C.S.

Summer of 1889

On June 11th E.L. Rand in company with Mr. John H. Redfield and other friends departed for a spring botanizing trip at Mt. Desert, - all other C.S. members having failed him. The "Penobscot" had been detained by storm, so the party did not set sail until late in the night. Rockland was reached about one o'clock the next day, and S.W. Harbor about seven o'clock in the evening. Wagons were at once procured, and before nine o'clock the party arrived at its headquarters, the Somes House in Somesville.

The next week was pleasantly passed in making trips to various parts of the Island. Among ~~other~~^{the} points visited were, Beech Hill, High Head, N.E. Branch, Town Hill, the "Bridge," Salisbury Cove, Hull's Cove, Breakneck road, Long Pond woods, and Sargeants Mt. A great number of specimens were collected for the Herbarium, and a number of new species added to the List. On June 19 E.L. Rand and his friend H.L. Rand returned to Boston, leaving Mr. Redfield to continue his botanical pursuits during the summer.

Later in the season a number of the C.S.

members visited the Island, As far as can be ascertained the list included, C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, J.L. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, and Foster. Of these E.L. Rand alone did any scientific work, He continued collecting specimens for the Herbarium, and alone and with Mr. Redfield made many additions to the list.

Wedding of S.A. Eliot.

On October 22nd 1889 the worthy and much beloved Samuel Atkins Eliot was married to Miss Frances Hopkinson in the First Parish Church, Cambridge. Special seats were reserved for members of the C.S., and Spelman and Prentiss represented the Society as ushers.

On October 26th the Secretary officially notified Mrs. Samuel A. Eliot of her honorary membership in the C.S. under Resolve of Dec. 8th 1887. Mr. and Mrs. Eliot will reside in Denver, Col. whither he has been called to take charge of a parish.

members visited the Island. As far as can be ascertained the list included, C. Eliot, S.A. Eliot, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, J.L. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, and Foster. Of these E.L. Rand alone did any scientific work. He continued collecting specimens for the Herbarium, and alone and with Mr. Redfield made many additions to the List.

Wedding of S.A. Eliot.

On October 22nd 1889 the worthy and much beloved Samuel Atkins Eliot was married to Miss Frances Hopkinson in the First Parish Church, Cambridge. Special seats were reserved for members of the C.S. and Spelman and Prentiss represented the society as ushers.

On October 26th the Secretary officially notified Mrs. Samuel A. Eliot of her honorary membership in the C.S. under Resolve of Dec. 8th 1887. Mr. and Mrs. Eliot will reside in Denver, Col. whither he has been called to take charge of a parish.

Champlain Society

27 State St. Boston.

The Annual meeting for the election of officers and transaction of other business will be held at No. 93 Mt.
Vernon St., Boston, on Tuesday,
Dec 17th at 7.30 P.M. All members are urged to be present. Please reply to Benj. E. Bates 54 Devonshire
St. Boston.

Members kindly notify the Secretary of their addresses for the coming year.
Headquarters removed to 50 State St.,
Room 50, Boston.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

Champlain Society

27 State St. Boston.

The Annual meeting for the election
of officers and transaction of other business will be held at No. 93 Mt.
Vernon St., Boston, on Tuesday,
Dec 17th at 7.30 P.M. All members are urged to be present. Please reply to Benj. E. Bates 54 Devonshire
St. Boston.

Will members kindly notify the Secretary
of their addresses for the coming year?
Headquarters removed to 50 State St.,
Room 50, Boston.

Edward L. Rand

Secretary C.S.

73.
 Annual Meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 17th 1889
 (93 Mt. Vernon St. Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by invitation of Bates at 93 Mt. Vernon St. It had been supposed that Prentiss was also a host, but he felt it his duty to specifically disclaim that honor. Present: Spelman, E.L. Rand, Lane, Bates, Greenleaf, Bliss, Worthington, J.R. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, Prentiss, F.M. Wakefield, Townsend, W.H. Dunbar, and H.C. Jones. The worthy Captain had been unexpectedly called to a distant city, and therefore was forced to be absent for almost the first time from a meeting of the C.S.

At nine o'clock the meeting was called to order by Vice President, Spelman. The reading of the record of the last meeting, and the reading of the Treasurer's report were postponed.

It was voted to proceed to the election of officers for the ensuing year. On motion of Townsend, seconded by Lane and others, the officers for the past year were unanimously reelected. The officers for 1889-90 are therefore as follows:
 President, Charles Eliot.
 Vice President, Henry M. Spelman.

Annual Meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 17th 1889
 (93 Mt. Vernon St. Boston)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met by invitation of Bates at 93 Mt. Vernon St. It had been supposed that Prentiss was also a host, but he felt it his duty to specifically disclaim that honor. Present: Spelman, E.L. Rand, Lane, Bates, Greenleaf, Bliss, Worthington, J.R. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, Prentiss, F.M. Wakefield, Townsend, W.H. Dunbar, and H.C. Jones. The worthy Captain had been unexpectedly called to a distant city, and therefore was forced to be absent for almost the first time from a meeting of the C.S.

At nine o'clock the meeting was called to order by Vice President, Spelman. The reading of the record of the last meeting, and the reading of the Treasurer's report were postponed.

It was voted to proceed to the election of officers for the ensuing year. On motion of Townsend, seconded by Lane and others, the officers for the past year were unanimously reelected. The officers for 1889-90 are therefore as follows:

President, Charles Eliot.

Vice President, Henry M. Spelman

Secretary etc Edward L. Rand
P.O. John Prentiss.

E.L. Rand then made a brief statement of the work of the Botanical Department during the past year, and thanked the members for their contributions in aid of the work.

The annual assessment of twenty five cents per member was then voted. The business meeting then adjourned.

Supper followed to the satisfaction of all the members. The remainder of the evening was spent in conversation until the departure of the different members at 10.30 P.M.

Much as several of the absent were missed, the meeting as a whole was most pleasant, and gave great encouragement to those who care for these opportunities to meet their old camping companions.

Secretary etc. Edward L. Rand
P.O. John Prentiss

E.L. Rand then made a brief statement of the work of the Botanical Department during the past year, and thanked the members for their contributions in aid of the work.

The annual assessment of twenty five cents per member was then voted. The business meeting then adjourned.

Supper followed to the satisfaction of all the members. The remainder of the evening was spent in conversation until the departure of the different members at 10.30 P.M.

Much as several of the absent were missed, the meeting as a whole was most pleasant, and gave great encouragement to those who care for these opportunities to meet their old camping companions.

Champlain Society.

Meeting Thursday, March 27th at 7.30 P. M.
at the house of William M. Davis, No. 2 Bond
St., Cambridge.

Important business.

Prof. Davis will give a "talk" on "River Development."

Please reply to the host.

Edward L. Rand,

Secretary C. S.

Champlain Society.

Meeting Thursday, March 27th at 7.30 P.M.
at the house of William M. Davis, No. 2 Bond
St., Cambridge.

Important business.

Prof. Davis will give a "talk" on "River Development."

Please reply to the host.

Edward L. Rand,

Secretary C.S.

Meeting, Thursday, March 27th 1890
(2 Bond St. Cambridge)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the residence of Prof. Wm. M. Davis, 2 Bond St. Cambridge. Present: C. Eliot, Davis, E.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, Worthington, J.R. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, H.C. Jones, W.H. Dunbar, Bliss, Bates, Prentiss, Lane, and J.L. Wakefield, -16, a most noteworthy attendance, and a fitting compliment to the popularity of the host.

The meeting was called to order by the President. The records of the last meeting were approved without reading. The report of the Treasurer for the past year, - consideration of which was postponed from the annual meeting, - was presented and approved. It will be found opposite the next page. E.L. Rand then made a brief statement of the progress of botanical work, and notified the Society that Prof. Davis had consented to write the geological introduction for the Flora. He also stated that a new map of the Island of Mt. Desert was in preparation to be published with the Flora if possible, in which especial attention was to be paid to

Meeting, Thursday, March 27th 1890
(2 Bond St. Cambridge)

Pursuant to the notice on the opposite page the Society met at the residence of Prof. Wm. M. Davis, 2 Bond St. Cambridge. Present: C. Eliot, Davis, E.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, Worthington, J.R. Wakefield, F.M. Wakefield, H.L. Rand, H.C. Jones, W.H. Dunbar, Bliss, Bates, Prentiss, Lane, and J.L. Wakefield, -16, - a most noteworthy attendance, and a fitting compliment to the popularity of the host.

The meeting was called to order by the President. The records of the last meeting were approved without reading. The report of the Treasurer for the past year, - consideration of which was postponed from the annual meeting, - was presented and approved. It will be found opposite the next page. E.L. Rand then made a brief statement of the progress of botanical work, and notified the Society that Prof. Davis had consented to write the geological introduction for the Flora. He also stated that a new map of the Island of Mt. Desert was in preparation to be published with the Flora if possible, in which especial attention was to be paid to correct nomenclature. The Secretary then announced that just ten years ago this Spring the C.S. was founded, and suggested that it would be well that the fact be celebrated in some appropriate manner. Some discussion of the matter then followed, in which the general sentiment seemed to be that an out of door excursion was the most fitting manner of recognition of the great fact. It was voted that the President act as a Committee to take charge of the matter, and that he appoint such members to aid him, as he should see fit.

Prof. Davis then gave an informal talk on the evolution of river systems, illustrated by the consideration of certain rivers of New Jersey. It is to be regretted that a synopsis of the "talk" cannot be given here. It was most interesting, as are all talks given by our distinguished fellow member, - and was listened to with great attention. It is the opinion of many of our members that Prof Davis should be invited to talk to the Society at every meeting!

Soon after nine o'clock supper was announced, and the remainder of the evening was devoted by the members to testing its excellence. It correct nomenclature. The Secretary then announced that just ten years ago this Spring the C.S. was founded, and suggested that it would be well that the fact be celebrated in some appropriate manner. Some discussion of the matter then followed, in which the general sentiment seemed to be that an out of door excursion was the most fitting manner of recognition of the great fact. It was voted that the President act as a Committee to take charge of the matter, and that he appoint such members to aid him, as he should see fit.

Prof. Davis then gave an informal talk on the evolution of river systems, illustrated by the consideration of certain rivers of New Jersey. It is to be regretted that a synopsis of the "talk" cannot be given here. It was most interesting, as are all talks given by our distinguished fellow member, - and was listened to with great attention. It is the opinion of many of our members that Prof Davis should be invited to talk to the Society at every meeting!

Soon after nine o'clock supper was announced, and the remainder of the evening was devoted by the members to testing its excellence. It had been hoped that Mrs. Davis would preside and welcome the Society, but another engagement prevented her from being present.

As soon as supper was over the members one and all, with a single exception, hastily departed on one excuse ~~or~~ another, in spite of the entreaties of the host. It is suggested that it would be more courteous for a few of the members, at least, to remain more than ten minutes after supper, and thereby avoid giving the impression that their main object was to get something to eat. This impression is given even more foundation to exist by the appearance of some of the members just before supper is announced!

Adjourned about 10 P.M.

During the evening the pleasing announcement was made that the worthy and much loved Captain C. Eliot was the happy father of a daughter. He was congratulated most heartily by all the members present.

had been hoped that Mrs. Davis would preside and welcome the Society, but another engagement prevented her from being present.

As soon as supper was over the members one and all, with a single exception, hastily departed on one excuse ~~one~~ another, in spite of the entreaties of the host. It is suggested that it would be more courteous for a few of the members, at least, to remain more than ten minutes after supper, and thereby avoid giving the impression that their main object was to get something to eat. This impression is given even more foundation to exist by the appearance of some of the members just before supper is announced!

Adjourned about 10 P.M.

During the evening the pleasing announcement was made that the worthy and much loved Captain C. Eliot was the happy father of a daughter. He was congratulated most heartily by all the members present.

1880. Champlain Society. 1890.
Decennial Celebration, Saturday, May 17th

- (1) Excursion to Essex Woods, Mt. Anne, and Norman's Woe, - weather permitting.

Leave Boston from Eastern R.R. station at 7.30 A.M. for Essex. Lunch on Mt. Anne 1 P.M. Returning leave Magnolia for Boston 5.12 P.M. Take lunch! [Late comers can take 10.45 A.M. train E.R.R. for West Gloucester, and join the party on Mt. Anne at 1 P.M.]

- (2) Dinner Aux Trois Freres Miesset, Sewall Place, Boston at 7 P.M. ($1.00) Members are requested to appear in full dress i.e. flannel shirts and general outing costume.

Please send notice to the Secretary at once whether you intend to be present at the dinner, and if possible whether you will join the excursion.

The dinner will take place whether the skies be fair or foul.

Per order of Committee.

27 State St. Boston.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

1880. Champlain Society. 1890
Decennial Celebration, Saturday, May 17th

- (1) Excursion to Essex Woods, Mt. Anne, and Norman's Woe, - weather permitting.

Leave Boston from Eastern R.R. station at 7.30 A.M. for Essex. Lunch on Mt. Anne 1 P.M. Returning leave Magnolia for Boston 5.12 P.M. Take lunch! [Late comers can take 10.45 A.M. train E.R.R. for West Gloucester, and join the party on Mt. Anne at 1 P.M.]

- (2) Dinner Aux Trois Freres Miesset, Sewall Place, Boston at 7 P.M. ($1.00) Members are requested to appear in full dress i.e. flannel shirts, and general outing costume.

Please send notice to the Secretary at once whether you intend to be present at the dinner, and if possible whether you will join the excursion.

The dinner will take place whether the skies be fair or foul.

Per order of Committee

27 State St. Boston.

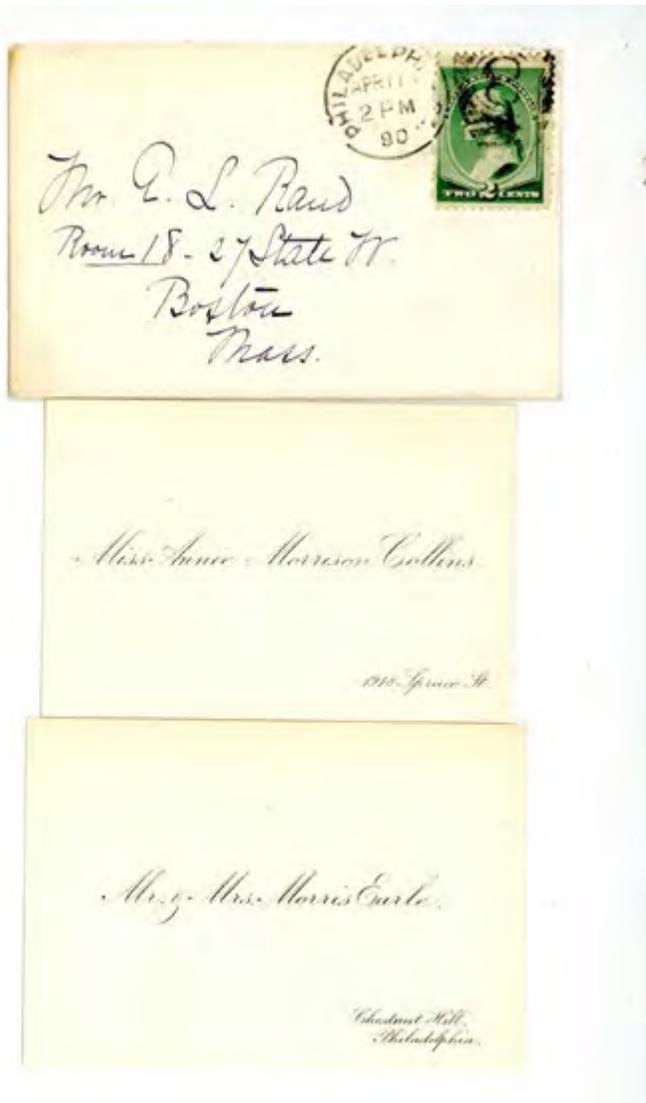

Edward L. Rand
Secretary C.S.

Decennial Celebration, Saturday May 17th 1890

In accordance with the resolution passed at the meeting on March 27th the President took charge of the proposed decennial celebration, and felt capable of managing it without the help of a committee. By his direction the circular on the opposite page was sent to members by the Secretary. Answers soon came from the majority of the members showing very conclusively that the dinner was the more popular method of celebration, since only about half a dozen expressed any intention to join the walking party. Two or three days before the great event our worthy President was called to Philadelphia on important business. As he left no message, or appointed no committee to act in his stead, it is somewhat doubtful whether the first part of the programme would have been carried out at all, if the other members of the Executive Committee had not discovered by chance that he had been forced to abandon his post. Messrs Spelman and Rand therefore felt obliged by their pos-

Decennial Celebration, Saturday May 17th 1890

In accordance with the resolution passed at the meeting on March 27th the President took charge of the proposed decennial celebration, and felt capable of managing it without the help of a committee. By his direction the circular on the opposite page was sent to members by the Secretary. Answers soon came from the majority of the members showing very conclusively that the dinner was the more popular method of celebration, since only about half a dozen expressed any intention to join the walking party. Two or three days before the great event our worthy President was called to Philadelphia on important business. As he left no message, or appointed no Committee to act in his stead, it is somewhat doubtful whether the first part of the programme would have been carried out at all, if the other members of the Executive Committee had not discovered by chance that he had been forced to abandon his post. Messrs Spelman and Rand therefore felt obliged by their pos-

Mr. E. L. Rand
Room 18 - 27 State W.
Boston
Mass.

Miss Annie Morrison Collins

1918 Spruce St.

Mr. & Mrs. Morris Earle.

Chestnut Hill,
Philadelphia.

tion to take control of affairs, and do the best they could to carry out the plan laid down.

Of their tribulations and discouragements it is not necessary here to write, but if the Society ever feels inclined to give a testimonial of any kind for faithful service amid many difficulties these two members should be leading candidates for the honor. The Captain and President was disappointed in his expectations of joining in the celebration, and sent no information and instructions until the night of the day before the event. A telegram then informed his sorrowing brethren that he could take no part in the programme.

It was thought better to alter the hour set for starting on the excursion to 10.45 A.M., and consequently to ascend Mt. Anne from West Gloucester instead of from Essex. Two or three times the excursion was almost abandoned, owing to lack of interest among the members, but finally it was decided to carry out the whole plan. It may be mentioned here for the instruction of members who wish to plan for a Field Day in future that while all the members are willing to vote for such a plan, there are not more than half a dozen who have the ability or wish to carry it out.

tion to take control of affairs and do the best they could to carry out the plan laid down.

Of their tribulations and discouragements it is not necessary here to write, but if the Society ever feels inclined to give a testimonial of any kind for faithful service amid many difficulties these two members should be leading candidates for the honor. The Captain and President was disappointed in his expectations of joining in the celebration, and sent no information and instructions until the night of the day before the event. A telegram then informed his sorrowing brethren that he could take no part in the programme.

It was thought better to alter the hour set for starting on the excursion to 10.45 A.M. and consequently to ascend Mt. Anne from West Gloucester instead of from Essex. Two or three times the excursion was almost abandoned, owing to lack of interest among the members, but finally it was decided to carry out the whole plan. It may be mentioned here for the instruction of members who wish to plan for a Field Day in future that while all the members are willing to vote for such a plan, there are not more than half a dozen who have the ability or wish to carry it out.

(A) The Excursion to Mt. Anne.

At 10.45 on Saturday, May 17th, the walking party left the Eastern R.R. station to carry out the plan of ascending Mt. Anne, and of enjoying a day out of doors. It was not a large party, only five in number. The faithful members were Spelman, Lane, Burrage, Bates, and E.L. Rand. G.N. Jones was in the train, but could not join the walk on account of physical disability. He was able, however, to return from Gloucester and attend the dinner in the evening.

The party left the train at West Gloucester, and soon were on their way to Mt. Anne. It was a lovely day, and the air was cool enough for most comfortable walking. The season was found much less advanced than in the neighborhood of Boston, as the apple trees were just coming into bloom, and many of the early spring flowers were still noticed. A very meagre flora was noted by Rand. Spelman saw a few birds, but none of especial interest.

Fortunately the party succeeded in taking the right wood path when they left the road, and had a delightful walk through the woods. Hence, however, all went astray, and as a

(A) The Excursion to Mt. Anne.

At 10.45 on Saturday, May 17th, the walking party left the Eastern R.R. station to carry out the plan of ascending Mt. Anne, and of enjoying a day out of doors. It was not a large party, only five in number. The faithful members were Spelman, Lane, Burrage, Bates, and E.L. Rand. G.N. Jones was in the train, but could not join the walk on account of physical disability. He was able, however, to return from Gloucester and attend the dinner in the evening.

The party left the train at West Gloucester, and soon were on their way to Mt. Anne. It was a lovely day, and the air was cool enough for most comfortable walking. The season was found much less advanced than in the neighborhood of Boston, as the apple trees were just coming into bloom, and many of the early spring flowers were still noticed. A very meagre flora was noted by Rand. Spelman saw a few birds, but none of especial interest.

Fortunately the party succeeded in taking the right wood path when they left the road, and had a delightful walk through the woods. Once, however, all went astray, and as a result had to regain the correct path by a short cut across country. In the course of this detour, Rand discovered a partridge's nest, and the rest of the party wandered into a swamp. After regaining the path, it soon began to ascend the hill, and brought the wanderers to the summit of Mt. Anne. The only exciting adventure on the way was meeting a serpent, which Spelman bravely destroyed with his collecting gun. Burrage all the time showed remarkable interest in botanical researches, and entered the names of all plants found, in his record book i.e. on the bottom of his lunch box.

The view from the summit of the hill was glorious, both landward and seaward. After the party had enjoyed it sufficiently, all the members thereof sought the shelter of the great boulders, and attacked the lunch that each had brought with him to the summit in boxes and packages of various kinds. Lane was greeted with much applause when he produced a large box of cold baked beans with the remark that they were good and filling. Apparently everyone found them so, for not the efforts of the entire party could dispose of them. Perhaps this may have been owing in part to the fact that very few means existed to handle result had to regain the correct path by a short cut across country. In the course of this detour, Rand discovered a partridge's nest, and the rest of the party wandered into a swamp. After regaining the path, it soon began to ascend the hill, and brought the wanderers to the summit of Mt. Anne. The only exciting adventure on the way was meeting a serpent, which Spelman bravely destroyed with his collecting gun. Burrage all the time showed remarkable interest in botanical researches, and entered the names of all plants found in his record book i.e. on the bottom of his lunch box.

The view from the summit of the hill was glorious both landward and seaward. After the party had enjoyed it sufficiently, all the members thereof sought the shelter of the great boulders, and attached the lunch that each had brought with him to the summit in boxes and packages of various kinds. Lane was greeted with much applause when he produced a large box of cold baked beans with the remark that they were good and filling. Apparently everyone found them so, for not the efforts of the entire party could dispose of them. Perhaps this may have been owing in part to the fact that very few means existed to handle them in transit between said box and each respective mouth. Sandwiches, crackers, guava jelly, cake, and other good things made up the remainder of this out of door feast.

After lunch it was found necessary to rest awhile, especially for the sake of those members who had eaten too much. When the start was finally made, it was with Spelman still on the sick list. Whether this illness came from what he had eaten or the thought of the distasteful dinner that was to come, will never be known. It is more charitable and in accordance with his own statement to suppose the former reason the true one.

The descent and the return to West Gloucester was quickly made. As it was still early in the afternoon it was decided to strike out seawards, and take the train at Magnolia. For some miles the party followed the road where walking was rendered most difficult by the operation of laying a water main. No serious accident occurred, however, except the sudden disappearance of Bates into the trench in an unguarded moment.

After the road left the swamp the party tried to take a short cut, and as a result wandered two or three miles over the hills before they came

them in transit between said box and each respective mouth. Sandwiches, crackers, guava jelly, cake, and other good things made up the remainder of this out of door feast.

After lunch it was found necessary to rest awhile, especially for the sake of those members who had eaten too much. When the start was finally made, it was with Spelman still on the sick list. Whether this illness came from what he had eaten or the thought of the distasteful dinner that was to come, will never be known. It is more charitable and in accordance with his own statement to suppose the former reason the true one.

The descent and the return to West Gloucester was quickly made. As it was still early in the afternoon it was decided to strike out sea-wards, and take the train at Magnolia. For some miles the party followed the road where walking was rendered most difficult by the operation of laying a water main. No serious accident occurred, however, except the sudden disappearance of Bates into the trench in an unguarded moment.

After the road left the swamp the party tried to take a short cut, and as a result wandered two or three miles over the hills before they came out of the woods again. During this wandering they had the misfortune to enter a secluded spot made odorous in a most evil sense by bodies of defunct horses and cows, left there by the owners of said beasts to avoid the trouble of grave-digging. It is needless to say there was no long tarrying in this place.

Regaining the road once more, and the sight of the blue sea tossing in white caps, the party hastened to Magnolia station, where they soon took the train for Boston. In the train S.N. Jones rejoined them.

On arrival in Boston, Spelman's pain in his "tum" was so agonizing that he deserted the party and returned to Cambridge. Bates, also, was obliged to desert, since he had an engagement for the evening. So only four strong the walking party arrived at the French Restaurant where the dinner was to take place, and the second part of the programme carried out.

The time remaining before the hour set for dinner was most profitably employed in a struggle to secure necessary ~~ablutions~~ ablutions with the primitive arrangements on hand.

out of the woods again. During this wandering they had the misfortune to enter a secluded spot made odorous in a most evil sense by bodies of defunct horses and cows, left there by the owners of said beasts to avoid the trouble of grave-digging. It is needless to say there was no long tarrying in this place.

Regaining the road once more, and the sight of the blue sea tossing in white caps, the party hastened to Magnolia station, where they soon took the train for Boston. In the train G.N. Jones rejoined them.

On arrival in Boston, Spelman's pain in his "tum" was so agonizing that he deserted the party and returned to Cambridge. Bates, also, was obliged to desert, since he had an engagement for the evening. So only four strong the walking party arrived at the French Restaurant where the dinner was to take place, and the second feast of the programme carried out.

The time remaining before the hour set for dinner was most profitably employed in a struggle to secure necessary ~~ablutions~~ ablutions with the primitive arrangements on hand.

(B.) The Dinner May 17th 1890

The dinner was evidently the most convenient and most agreeable form of celebration for most of the members, but even this was not well attended.

Only twelve members were present where it was right to expect at least eighteen on such a great occasion. But fate was against the whole celebration as far as mere numbers were concerned. The following members were present, Lane, Greenleaf, Burrage, Bliss, Davis, W.H. Dunbar, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, J.L. Wakefield, and F.M. Wakefield.

After enjoying a very satisfactory dinner, a few most informal exercises took place under the direction of Lane, into whose charge the direction of them had been given. He began by a set speech in honor of the day winding up with a recitation of the ballad of Captain Reece, in which he became somewhat involved in personal applications, and stopped in haste when he found he had wedded himself to the young daughter of Captain Eliot. Speeches were made by Dunbar, Davis, Greenleaf and others. H.C. Jones read his witty botanical report of many years ago. J.L. Wakefield contributed a few songs. E.L. Rand, at Lane's request, gave some extracts from the Logbooks and

(B) The Dinner May 17th 1890

The dinner was evidently the most convenient and most agreeable form of celebration for most of the members, but even this was not well attended. Only twelve members were present where it was right to expect at least eighteen on such a great occasion. But fate was against the whole celebration as far as mere numbers were concerned. The following members were present, Lane, Greenleaf, Burrage, Bliss, Davis, W.H. Dunbar, H.C. Jones, G.N. Jones, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, J.L. Wakefield, and F.M. Wakefield.

After enjoying a very satisfactory dinner, a few most informal exercises took place under the direction of Lane, into whose charge the direction of them had been given. He began by a set speech in honor of the day winding up with a recitation of the ballad of Captain Reece, in which he became somewhat involved in personal applications, and stopped in haste when he found he had wedded himself to the young daughter of Captain Eliot. Speeches were made by Dunbar, Davis, Greenleaf and others. H.C. Jones read his witty botanical report of many years ago. J. L. Wakefield contributed a few songs. E.L. Rand, at Lane's request, gave some extracts from the Logbooks and

My dear fellow-prigs of the Champlain Society
As you gather tonight with your wonted propriety
To engage in a feast of the sternest sobriety—
Cold water and hard tack to interest satiety—
Accept the fond greeting of one who is yearning
To bask in the light of your brilliance and learning
And there kindle his taper which shed once of yore
A flickering glimmer—but burns now no more

O, muses who linger on ancient Toi-mountain
And quicken your powers at the infinite fountain
Which springs from the hill-top and dashes in foam
On the gold-gleaming sides of the glittering dome—
Forbid I should ~~venture~~ dare to address words of mine
To those who are favored to sit at your shrine!
And I only can hope that these lumbering lines
— Like everything else in the country of pines —
May seem like the wind through their far forests creeping
And soothe your keen critical senses to sleeping.

But I know that the band who, when these words are read
Are met round a table abundantly spread
And have donned for the hour the tenter's full-dress—
I know ~~that the~~ in a word, that the learned C.S.
In whatever channels their culture may seek
To find its escape through the net of the week
And worship at Law's, Drug's or Sciences fame—
To-night their hearts turn to the rock-crests of Maine
And exalt her as goddess who dwells ever there
Queen Nature — Kind mother — sweet, generous and fair!

My dear fellow prigs of the Champlain Society
As you gather tonight with your wonted propriety
To engage in a feast of the sternest sobriety—
Cold water and hard tack to interest satiety—
Accept the fond greeting of one who is yearning
To bask in the light of your brilliance and learning
And there kindle his taper which shed once of yore
A flickering glimmer but burns now no more

O, muses who linger on ancient Toi-mountain
And quicken your powers at the infinite fountain
Which springs from the hill-top and dashes in foam
On the gold-gleaming side of the glittering dome—
Forbid I should ~~venture~~ dare to address words of mine
To those who are favored to sit at your shrine!
And I only can hope that these lumbering lines
— Like everything else in the country of pines —
May seem like the wind through their far forests creeping
And soothe your keen critical senses to sleeping.

But I know that the band who, when these words are read
Are met round a table abundantly spread
And have donned for the hour the tenter's full-dress—
I know ~~that the~~ in a word that the learned C.S.
In whatever channels their culture may seek
To find its escape through the net of the week
And worship at Law's, Drug's or Sciences fame—
To-night their hearts turn to the rock-crests of Maine
And exalt her as goddess who dwells ever there
Queen Nature — Kind mother — sweet, generous and fair!

And, friends, though I meet not with you favored ones
To laugh at your stories and groan at your puns
And join in remembrance of long years ago
When first the C.S. came into being—I know
That you'll scorn not the greeting of one who though far
Toward the land which lies under the chilling North Star
Yet can drink the ~~fr~~ sweet breath of the breezes that flirt
With the pines and the hills of our loved Mount Desert.
And I ask that your thoughts, as they fly to the isle
Where our loving thoughts center, may linger erewhile
For a moment to greet a devoted C.S.
Who dwells close beside our sea-girt wilderness
And sends these few lines to say how he must grieve
That he can't be with you this "Decennial" eve;
But hopes still you haven't forgotten him—for
He is your most ardent

Johnnie McGau.

And, friends, thought I meet not with you favored ones
To laugh at your stories and groan at your puns
And join in remembrance of long years ago
When first the C.S. came into being—I know
That you'll scorn not the greeting of one who though far
Toward the land which lies under the chilling North Star
Yet can drink the ~~fr~~ sweet breath of the breezes that flirt
With the pines and the hills of our loved Mount Desert.
And I ask that your thoughts, as they fly to the isle
Where our loving thoughts center, may linger erewhile
For a moment to greet a devoted C.S.
Who dwells close beside our sea-girt wilderness
And sends these few lines to say how he must grieve
That he can't be with you this "Decennial" eve;
But hopes still you haven't forgotten him—for
He his your most ardent

Johnnie McGau

records of the past. Several letters were read from absent members, from Thaxter, G.B. Dunbar, Worcester, Slade, Lovering, and Earle. Foster sent a poem, read with some difficulty, but ~~with~~^{amid} much applause. It will be found on the opposite page.

The absence of the Captain cast a gloom over the feast, so that it was by no means the joyful occasion that all had hoped for. Early in the evening the members departed in a most quiet and orderly manner. Thus ended a celebration great in opportunities, but somewhat feeble in accomplishment.

records of the past. Several letters were read from absent members, from Thaxter, G.B. Dunbar, Worcester, Slade, Lovering, and Earle. Foster sent a poem, read with some difficulty, but ~~with~~^{amid} much applause. It will be found on the opposite page.

The absence of the Captain cast a gloom over the feast, so that it was by no means the joyful occasion that all had hoped for. Early in the evening the members departed in a most quiet and orderly manner. Thus ended a celebration great in opportunities, but somewhat feeble in accomplishment.

1891

86.

Summer of 1890

During this summer the following members of the C.S. visited Mt. Desert Island. Their stay varied from a few days to some weeks.

H. W. Bliss	in August
Charles Eliot	in August
S. A. Eliot	in July & August
John McGau Foster	in July & August
Edward L. Rand	in June & August
Henry L. Rand	in July & August
Marshall P. Slade	in August
Henry M. Spelman	in August
Frank M. Wakefield	in August
John L. Wakefield	in August
Julius R. Wakefield	in August
Robert B. Worthington	in June

Botanical work was continued by E. L. Rand; some ornithological work was done by R. B. Worthington. The others did no scientific work as far as known, - although a great many excellent photographs of scenery were taken by H. L. Rand.

----- 1891 -----

86.

Summer of 1890

During the summer the following members of the C.S. visited Mt. Desert Island. Their stays varied from a few days to some weeks.

H. W. Bliss	in August
Charles Eliot	in August
S. A. Eliot	in July & August
John McGau Foster	in July (?) & August
Edward L. Rand	in June & August
Henry L. Rand	in July & August
Marshall P. Slade	in August
Henry M. Spelman	in August
Frank M. Wakefield	in August
John L. Wakefield	in August
Julius R. Wakefield	in August
Robert B. Worthington	in June

Botanical work was continued by E. L. Rand; some ornithological work was done by R. B. Worthington. The others did no scientific work as far as known, - although a great many excellent photographs of scenery were taken by H. L. Rand.

C.S.

Annual Meeting, Thursday Feb. 5th 1891 at the house of H.W. Bliss, 11 Marlborough St
Boston, 7.30 P.M., punctually.

Election of officers.

Exhibition of Mt. Desert views, and of new section contour map of Mass.

Brief report on progress of botanical work.

Please reply to H.W. Bliss at above address.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

C.S.

Annual Meeting, Thursday Feb. 5th 1891 at
the house of H.W. Bliss, 11 Marlborough St
Boston, 7.30 P.M., punctually.

Election of officers

Exhibition of Mt. Desert views, and of new section contour map of Mass.

Brief report on progress of botanical work.

Please reply to H.W. Bliss at above address.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

87

Annual Meeting 1891 February 5th 1891
(11 Marlborough St. Boston)

According to the notice on the opposite page the annual meeting of the C.S. was held on February 5th 1891, at the house of H.W. Bliss, 11 Marlborough St., Boston, at 7.30 in the evening. There was an unusually large attendance. Present, Bliss, Burrage, Davis, W.H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, Greenleaf, H.C. Jones, Prentiss, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, F.M. Wakefield, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, and Worthington.

At about 8.30, after some time devoted to the examination of the new state map of Massachusetts, the President called the meeting to order. Voted to proceed to the election of officers. On motion of Prentiss, seconded by other members, the old board of officers was reelected: - President, Charles Eliot; Vice President, H.M. Spelman; Secretary and Treasurer, E.L. Rand. - The usual assessment of 25 cents per member was announced. ^{The Treasurer's report was read and accepted.} E.L. Rand gave a brief sketch of the botanical work accomplished during the past season. He announced about 35 new species and varieties added to the general list, and the probable dropping of about a dozen. In the family of mosses the work had been very successful, thanks to the

Annual Meeting 1891 February 5 1891
(11 Marlborough St. Boston)

According to the notice on the opposite page the annual meeting of the C.S. was held on February 5th 1891, at the house of H.W. Bliss, 11 Marlborough St, Boston, at 7.30 in the evening. There was an unusually large attendance. Present, Bliss, Burrage, Davis, W.H. Dunbar, C. Eliot, Greenleaf, H.C. Jones, Prentiss, E.L. Rand, H.L. Rand, Spelman, Townsend, F.M. Wakefield, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield, and Worthington.

At about 8.30, after some time devoted to the examination of the new state map of Massachusetts, the President called the meeting to order. Voted to proceed to the election of officers. On motion of Prentiss, seconded by other members, the old board of officers was reelected; - President, Charles Eliot; Vice President, H.M. Spelman; Secretary and Treasurer, E.L. Rand. - The usual assessment of 25 cents per member was announced. The Treasurer's report was read and accepted. E.L. Rand gave a brief sketch of the botanical work accomplished during the past season. He announced about 35 new species and varieties added to the general list, and the probable dropping of about a dozen. In the family of mosses the work had been very successful, thanks to the help of Mr. Edwin Faxon, especially in the genus Sphagnum, where the list had been increased fourfold in species alone. Several rare Hepaticae were discovered. Mr. Collins had continued his work on the marine algae with success. Altogether the progress made had been encouraging, although time, money, and workers were all greatly needed to advance the undertaking. — After this statement, Mr. Rand answered a number of questions about the work, and Mr. Prentiss made a motion or two that were so much amended that the President in an arbitrary way laid it, or them, on the table. — — Mr. Davis then gave an interesting account of Prof. Shaler's work on the geology of Mt. Desert; and Worthington announced that it was possible that Mr. Walter Faxon would work on the ornithology of the Island another spring.

At about 9.30 it was voted to adjourn to the supper room. It is forbidden to enumerate the good things set before the members at their suppers, but it must be recorded that this was one of the best suppers the C.S. ever had, and that it was thoroughly "discussed" and enjoyed.

After supper H.L. Rand exhibited his Mt. Desert photographs. They were much appreciated and admired.

The meeting adjourned about 10.30 P.M.

help of Mr. Edwin Faxon, especially in the genus Sphagnum, where the list had been increased fourfold in species alone. Several rare Hepaticae were discovered. Mr. Collins had continued his work on the marine algae with success. Altogether the progress made had been encouraging, although time, money and workers were all greatly needed to advance the undertaking. — After this statement, Mr. Rand answered a number of questions about the work, and Mr. Prentiss made a motion or two that were so much amended that the President in an arbitrary way laid it, or them, on the table. — — Mr. Davis then gave an interesting account of Prof. Shaler's work on the Geology of Mt. Desert; and Worthington announced that it was possible that Mr. Walter Faxon would work on the ornithology of the Island another spring. At about 9.30 it was voted to adjourn to the supper room. It is forbidden to enumerate the good things set before the members at their suppers, but it must be recorded that this was one of the best suppers the C.S. ever had, and that it was thoroughly "discussed" and enjoyed. After supper H.L. Rand exhibited his Mt. Desert photographs. They were much appreciated and admired. The meeting adjourned about 10.30 P.M.

489

C.S.

The Annual Meeting will be held on Thursday evening June 2d '92 at
Charles Eliot's, Brush Hill, Milton.
Take train for Hyde Park from foot of Summer St at 4.35 or 5.30 P.M. or
from Park Square at 4.45 or 5.30 or 5.45
and find your way to Eliot's by this map

489

C.S.

The Annual Meeting will be held on Thursday evening June 2d '92 at
Charles Eliot's, Brush Hill, Milton.
Take train for Hyde Park from foot of
Summer St at 4.35 or 5.30 P.M. or
from Park Square at 4.45 or 5.30 or 5.45
and find your way to Eliot's by this map
[Map]

Annual Meeting June 2nd 1892
(Residence Charles Eliot, Brush Hill, Milton.)

By invitation of the Captain the annual meeting was held at his residence on Brush Hill, Milton, in the late afternoon and evening of June 2nd. The Honorary members were also invited.

The afternoon was bright and clear and the weather warm, and consequently the attendance was unusually good. In spite of the map provided as a guide on the notice, a large number of the members preferred to hire coaches and ride to the summit of the hill. Mr. Prentiss, P.O. thought it wiser to return by chariot as well, fearing doubtless that he might be lost in the wilds of Milton, or the jungles of Hyde Park.

The marked feature of the meeting was the first appearance of some of the honorary members. Mrs. Charles Eliot, Mrs. Roland Thaxter, Miss A.M. Crozier, & Miss Ruth Eliot were present. The last named attracted, perhaps, the most attention. Prof. Davis, in the absence of his wife, made himself especially devoted.

Annual Meeting June 2nd 1892
 (Residence Charles Eliot, Brush Hill, Milton)

By invitation of the Captain the annual meeting was held at his residence on Brush Hill, Milton, in the late afternoon and evening of June 2nd. The Honorary members were also invited.

The afternoon was bright and clear and the weather warm, and consequently the attendance was unusually good. In spite of the map provided as a guide on the notice, a large number of the members preferred to hire coaches and ride to the summit of the hill. Mr. Prentiss, P.O. thought it wiser to return by chariot as well, fearing doubtless that he might be lost in the wilds of Milton, or the jungles of Hyde Park.

The marked feature of the meeting was the first appearance of some of the honorary members. Mrs. Charles Eliot, Mrs. Roland Thaxter, Miss A.M. Crozier, & Miss Ruth Eliot were present. The last named attracted, perhaps, the most attention. Prof. Davis, in the absence of his wife, made himself especially devoted.

C.S.
1891 Treasurer's Report

Received		Expended
1891	Feb 5	Cash on hand	39
	10	From 1891	25
		"	25
		"	25
		"	25
		"	25
1892	June 2	Notices C. Eliot	50
		Burrage	25
		Davis	25
		W. H. Dunbar	50
		H. C. Jones	25
		Lane	25
		Townsend	25
		J. R. Wakefield	25
		Worthington	25
		Thaxter	25
		(Includes 1891 assessment)	4 39
		Cash on hand to balance	3 89
			4 39

[sideways on page, two columns]
C.S.
1891 Treasurer's Report

received 1891

Feb	5	cash on hand	39
	10	Dues 1891	25
		Spelman	25
		J.L. Wakefield	25
		H.L. Rand	25
		E.L. Rand	25
		C. Eliot	25
	1892
	2	"	25
		Bates	25
		Burrage	25
		Davis	25
		W.H. Dunbar	25
		H.C. Jones	25
		Lane	25
		Townsend	25
		J.R. Wakefield	25
		Worthington	25
		Thaxter	25
		(Includes 1891 assessment)	4.39
Expended
1892
May	25	Notices C. Eliot	50
		cash on hand to balance	3 89

4 39

The time before supper was passed in conversation, and in exploring the beauties of the Captain's leasehold property. The weather was too fair to make a stay indoors at all attractive. The delightful piazza was selected as headquarters, even for supper.

After supper a brief business meeting was held. The report of the Treasurer was read and accepted, after the reading of the records of the last meeting. It was then voted unanimously that Charles Eliot be reelected President; Henry M. Spelman, Vice President; and Edward L. Rand, Secretary & Treasurer.

It was voted to collect the 1891 assessment by hands of Jones of Bates, Collectors.

Some discussion of the work on the Mt. Desert Flora and its needs then followed. No one showed any great desire to contribute towards furthering it, so the matter was laid on the table.

At 8.40 P.M. it was voted to adjourn, after a unanimous expression of thanks to the host and hostess for a most delightful meeting.

Present: C. Eliot; E. L. Rand; J. R. Wakefield; W. H. Dunbar; Burrage;

Prentiss; Bates; Worthington; Townsend; H. C. Jones; Davis; Thaxter; and Lane

The time before supper was passed in conversation, and in exploring the beauties of the Captain's leasehold property. The weather was too fair to make a stay indoors at all attractive. The delightful piazza was selected as headquarters, even for supper.

After supper a brief business meeting was held. The report of the Treasurer was read and accepted, after the reading of the records of the last meeting. It was then voted unanimously that Charles Eliot be reelected President; Henry M. Spelman, Vice President; and Edward L. Rand, Secretary & Treasurer.

It was voted to collect the 1891 assessment by hands of Jones of Bates, Collectors.

Some discussion of the work on the Mt. Desert Flora and its needs then followed. No one showed any great desire to contribute towards furthering it, so the matter was laid on the table.

At 8.40 P.M. it was voted to adjourn, after a unanimous expression of thanks to the host and hostess for a most delightful meeting.

Present: C. Eliot; E. L. Rand; J. R. Wakefield; W. H. Dunbar; Burrage; Prentiss; Bates; Worthington; Townsend; H. C. Jones; Davis; Thaxter; and Lane

C.S.

740 Exchange Building
Boston.

Prof. William M. Davis invites the Society to meet
at eight o'clock on evening 1893,
in the Physical Geography Laboratory in the Museum
at Cambridge. The rooms are on the fourth floor, entrance by stone steps on Oxford St. side.
— Essay on the Geology of Mt. Desert. —
If unable to attend, please reply to Prof. Davis, 2 Bond
St., Cambridge.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

C.S.

740 Exchange Building
Boston

Prof. William M. Davis invites the Society to meet
at eight o'clock on evening 1893,
in the Physical Geography Laboratory in the Museum
at Cambridge. The rooms are on the fourth floor, -
entrance by stone steps on Oxford St. side.
--- Essay on the Geology of Mt. Desert. ---
If unable to attend, please reply to Prof. Davis, 2 Bond
St., Cambridge.

Edward L. Rand
Secretary.

C.S. goods, left on Bear
Island, Aug. 1887.

2 tin basins
1 sq. tin (with a hole)
2³ candlesticks
2 sauce pans
1 round tin dish
Oil stove
Dish pan
4 plates
6 spoons
4 knives
4 bowls
1 mug nails
2 dippers
1 qt. dipper
2 lamps
2 lamp-chimneys
6 candles
2 balls string

C.S. goods, left on Bear
Island, Aug. 1887.

2 tin basins
1 [?] tin (with a hole)
2-3 candlesticks
2 saucepans
1 round tin dish
Oil stove
Dish pan
4 plates
6 spoons
4 knives
4 bowls
1 mug nails
2 dippers
1 qt. dipper
2 lamps
2 lamp-chimneys
6 candles
2 balls string

Soap

Paper napkins (circa 50)

screw-driver

2 basins

Kerosene can

1 dipper

Corn-popper

tumbler

Blacking brush

4 extra tent-guys

Milk-can

[Copied from Chas. Worcester's list.]

The above in a barrel, with other camp furniture was left in the barn & the boat house.

Aug. '88 - Arranged with Jordan
file to take the whole to Mr.
Abbot's barn on the main land.
Some few things were left at Savage's.

soap

paper napkins (circa 50)

screw-driver

2 basins

kerosene can

1 dipper

corn-popper

tumbler

Blacking brush

4 extra tent-guys

Milk-can

[copies from Chas. Worcester's
list]

The above in a barrel, with other
camp furniture was left in the barn & the boat house.

Aug. '88 - Arranged with Jordan
file to take the whole to Mr.
Abbot's barn on the main land.
Some few things were left
at Savage's.

Meeting May 19

Paper by Davis.

Discussed by Lane, Townsend etc

Present Mrs Davis, Mrs. Townsend, Miss Crozier
Davis, Townsend, E.L. Rand, H.L.
Rand, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield,
Worthington, Lane, Bates, H.C. Jones,
Thaxter, C. Eliot, Wm. Dunbar,
Spelman.

Meeting May 19

Paper by Davis

Discussion by Lane, Townsend etc

Present Mrs. Davis, Mrs Townsend, Miss Crozier
Davis, Townsend, E.L. Rand, H.L.
Rand, J.L. Wakefield, J.R. Wakefield,
Worthington, Lane, Bates, H.C. Jones,
Thaxter, C. Eliot, Wm. Dunbar,
Spelman.

C. S.

Received		1892 Treasurer's Report		Expended
1892			1892
June 2	Cash on hand	3 89	Nov 1	Cash for Mt. D. Suppl 1890-1	3 00
	Dues 1892 H.C. Jones	25
	E.L. Rand	25

C.S.

Received		1892 Treasurer's Report		Expended
1892			1892
June 2	cash on hand	3 89	Nov 1	Cash for Mt. D. Suppl, 1890-1	3 00
	Dues 1892 H.C. Jones	25
	E.L. Rand	25

As to Mt. Desert
Fishes, invertebrates, Mollusca etc
write H. C. Chapman, who has given Mt. D. specimens to
Phila. Acad. Nat. Sciences.
Get address from J. H. Redfield.

As to Mt. Desert
Fishes, invertebrates, Mollusca etc
write H. C. Chapman,
who has given Mt. D. specimens to
Phila. Acad. Nat. Sciences.
Get address from J. H. Redfield.

E.L. Rand
Given to E.L.R.
by Wm C. Lane
Aug. 3/91

[John Wilson & Son stationery]

