

I'LL BE WAITING PATIENTLY FOR YOU MY DARLING

Words and Music by Lone Pine Mountaineer

I'll be waiting patiently for you my darling
Though my dear I long for you each nite and day
And your last letter said your heart was aching
That is why at nite I kneel right down and pray.

Every day I think how proud I am of you dear
Uncle Sam no doubt I know you feel the same
And that bugle early every morning you hear
Means a day has passed and soon I'll share your name.

Now three months have rolled away
It won't be long now
And you will soon be returning to your home
Soon the day will come and you must not break your vow
At the Altar you and I will kneel alone.

Till then I'll be waiting patiently my darling
Though my dear I long for you each nite and day
And your last letter said your heart was aching
That is why at nite I kneel right down and pray.
