Dear bro:

Your letter at hand and was glad to hear from you. I thank you for your interest in my welfare and as you say, it is well to have an "eye out" for something better but I can assure you it would take a very tempting offer to induce me to go forth. I should like to come out and see you all for a day but hardly think I can just now.

I spent last week at Falmouth with the folks at the cottage. Maud and her friend Mrs Webster are there now and will stay through the month probably, I going down over Sundays etc. Possibly Maud may take a ride out to Saco & call on you.

I have heard with pleasure of the extra 35% and I remember with regret your advice to buy a share of Laconia some years ago! If only our foresight was equal to "hindsight" how easy it would be. Our mill is very busy just now, as we happen to be on the right side of cotton. And I enjoy my new duties as asst. to the Treas very much. I have a new stenographer & an Underwood typewriter which I consider O.K.

Hastily ALW
