

DANIEL WEBSTER
IS NO MORE

The departure from among us, of the great light of the age, whose unrivalled abilities, exalted character and long public services have made, not only his own name, but that of his country, known and honored throughout the earth, calls upon all to do honor to his memory. It has been proposed that the CITIZENS OF PORTLAND should meet at the

CITY HALL,

This afternoon at 5 o'clk,

To adopt such measures in concurrence with the City Government, who have already taken action in the premises, - as the occasion may seem to require.

PORTLAND, Oct. 25, 1852.
