

PORTLAND
MUSEUM,
AT AUCTION.

SHERIFF'S SALE — CUMBERLAND, ss.

Taken on Sundry Executions, and unless previously redeemed will be sold, at Public Vendue, in this City, on Wednesday, the 29th day of May, inst.,

At 9 o'clock in the forenoon, at the PORTLAND MUSEUM, the articles composing said Museum, consisting of a large lot of

WAX FIGURES, of full size; STUFFED BIRDS and STUFFED ANIMALS; PAINTINGS by several eminent artists; PORTRAITS of the several Presidents of the United States, and other eminent men; INDIAN CURIOSITIES; ANCIENT RELICS; one large ORGAN—one small ORGAN—one PIANO-FORTE—one MUSICAL CLOCK, of very curious workmanship;

And a great variety of other articles too numerous to mention, which are usually found in an establishment of this kind. The assortment is very extensive, and comprises a great many rare and valuable specimens of Art and curiosity, which must have been procured at great expense. A good chance is here presented for a person to purchase a Museum, which, with small expense in fitting up anew, would make as handsome an Establishment of the kind as any in the country.

Terms at the Sale.

A. Bailey, Deputy Sheriff.

Portland, May 25, 1839.

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by Maine Historical Society
(67-3349 OS3)

Date: 1839

Description: Notice of museum auction, Portland