speech as an intellectual effort and with his manner I believe you became familiar, when here several winters since - Clay occupied in the Senate on Thursday last much the same ground previously occupied by Mr Duffie - I can hardly conceive of manner more finished and captivating but the printed speech strikes me as tame & common place - Polk of Tennessee is now in the midst of a reply to Mr Duffie The speech thus far is most eloquent & argumentative effort utterly demolishing the arguments on the other side so far as it has gone - A fortnight may probably elapse before the termination of this debate The Administration will finally be sustained in the removal of the deposits by a majority of something like 20 votes. My health was never better than since my arrival here and I am becoming more & more interested in the business before the House - particularly that which claims the attention of the Judiciary Com<sup>t</sup>. Your City P.O. I should judge is exciting much interest here as well as at home I understand that the present incumbent was

appointed to this highly responsible & important office nor merely at the instance of the Citizens of Portland but on the recommendation of the democracy of different parts of the State - If he prove obnoxious to the party, which procured his elevation it is believed the Depar' would be disposed again to listen to & act upon a strong expression of the wishes of your democracy Any allusion to this subject by me may appear out of place but I presume you are interested in it & speak you know to you & you only and trust I may always find the same freedom on your part upon all subjects where you might feel delicacy in addressing others - The House has just adjourned and I must go to the Senate to hear Clay close his speech commenced Thursday - My kindest regards to Mrs P - as ever yours

Write to me without delay - Did you see any of my friends on your way to Augusta?
