March 14, 1834

My Dear George I thank you for your kind letter of the 10th and cannot feel otherwise than gratified by the many flattering expressions it contains. Tho' fully sensible of the partiality with which you would regard any performance. The remarks I know have no particular merit - but the time the circumstances & the manner considered I believe I did myself no discredit in the estimation of my friends or of the House generally - I am exceedingly sorry that your winter at Augusta did not prove more agreeable Mr Smiths opinions with regard to matters then corresponds with your own - With regard to the proceedings generally, the responsibility is with the majority, and of consequence the only way is to justify as far as possible and make the best of the residue —

With regard to your individual disappointment I am much vexed tho' you say correctly that "there are more roads than one which lead to Jerusalem" and I am inclined to think, that the very circumstances which we both regret at present will eventuate in your personal advantage — I have become strongly attached to Smith — His room is on the same floor, directly opposite to mine and we have lived together thus far much as you & myself did during the summer of 1826 — but he has one nearer & more agreeable now — a beautiful and interesting young wife — However I suppose he will not cut my acquaintance entirely, I like Frank the more because I am sure he is a faithful efficient & determined friend of yours

I heard some time since that the geographical division of parties to which you allude might take place — but indications at present are more favorable both at the South and among our friends here — A great change is going on in Virginia in favor of the Administration and against the proceedings of the Legislature and my own opinion is from the best lights of which I have been able to avail myself that the next election in the "old Dominion" will be one of triumph to what we call the Democratic party. I have received letters from Jane expressing deep regret that she saw so little of Mrs P. during her sojourn at Brunswick - but her health is extremely delicate making it necessary for her to avoid the slightest exposure - I wish she would make you a short visit - she would enjoy it so much - but such is the precarious state of her health that she would perhaps hardly think of leaving Brunswick till she takes her departure for N. Hampshire - Give my kindest regards to Mrs Pierce and believe me always

Truly your friend

There have been laid upon my table this morning the reports of the majority & minority of the Committee of Ways & Means - I have not yet read them - but send you a copy of each
