

Feb 6. The Fultons mail has not yet come in and I am obliged to send this letter and Mothers without getting a glimpse at those which are awaiting me Folly isld. Feb 4. 1864

My dear Nellie,

I wrote to Mother yesterday and told her everything new, which so far as my experience goes can be told in a very few lines. So I shall give you a short good for nothing letter without news or gossip or anything of that sort.

I quite envied you the evening at the Theatre Francais, but may be allowed to shrewdly suspect that Father and Mr Alexander didnt consider the actresses quite as "awful homely" as you and Miss Rice thought them.

I am getting quite enthusiastic in my french reading and have just sent north for some more books. When I was in New York Miss Rice asked me to recommend some book to her and I am happy to be able to name "L'Homme de Neige" by George Sand.

Description: John Marshall Brown to his sister from Folly Island, South Carolina

If she hasn't already seen & read it I advise her by all means to get it at once. It is exceedingly interesting and "moral" enough to suit the most refined taste. I got very much excited in reading it. The style is delightful and the plot ingenious and admirably elaborated.
You should read it yourself, it is "easy" french and I think you would have no difficulty at all with it.
Mother writes me that the Primes have not called upon you yet. I am very sorry because I like the Capt. and also his brother and should be sorry to "drop" the acquaint-ance as I should certainly feel obliged to do unless they call.
You know I have a theory that I should limit my circle of acquaintan-ces in Society by my mother's visiting list. It is of course impossible to practice without any exceptions to that rule but I mean always to adhere to it as strictly as possible. By the way has Bill Eggleston called?

As soon as the weather gets a little warmer I am going to send home some little palmetto trees to grow in the conservatory. I ought to have done so last fall but I never thought of it. We could then have a reminiscence of South Carolina all the time.

Do you remember that I had a little rebel horse which I got at Hagarstown last year. I have kept him thinking that I might send him home for you, but the other day was induced to sell him to the Mayor of Chelsea Mass. He was a little beauty and cantered with an airy graceful step that was very beautiful to see. But I found that he was too small for me to use and it was rather difficult for me to keep three horses, as I am really only allowed two, besides I had no means of sending him home. I have another horse that you can have when I get home if you like a cantering horse. he is a handsome fellow and would suit you nicely.

Looking out of my door just now I saw the steamer passing by on her way from [?]fork to Hilton Head. I hope it brings me a large mail. Good bye, give my love to Father and Mother & to all our friends.
