

Limerick Feb. 6 /55

Dear Sister

After a tolerable ride we arrived, as Lucia wished me to say, "in sweet Limerick safe & sound" although we came rather slowly but that only made the ride the longer and our suppers the better and sleep sweeter but I think it is rather a hard way of of obtaining appetite and repose. We caught no colds but the cold almost put his claws on us

I paid away your money the same evening and will inclose the receipt. The Factory matter, I hope, will be settled, the paper at the banks are already taken up and the stockholders meet Wednesday to ascertain what they will do. Some two or three creditors are not willing to take forty per cent, but they hold only about fifteen hundred dollars and that is a trifle compared with the whole debt.

Dr. Libby Sunday at 11 & 1/2 o'clock. He is to be buried tomorrow. Mrs. Libby, herself, is almost sick and did not sleep any since Thursday until last night and she slept but little then as I know, for I staid there and she was awake often in the night.

Limerick Feb. 6 /55

Dear Sister

After a tolerable ride, we arrived, as Lucia wished me to say, "in sweet Limerick safe & sound" although we came rather slowly but that only made the ride the longer and our suppers the better and sleep sweeter but I think it is rather a hard way of of obtaining appetite and repose. We caught no colds but the cold almost put his claws on us

I paid away your money the same evening and will inclose the receipt. The Factory matter, I hope, will be settled, the paper at the banks are already taken up and the stockholders meet Wednesday to ascertain what they will do. Some two or three creditors are not willing to take forty per cent, but they hold only about fifteen hundred dollars and that is a trifle compared with the whole debt.

Dr. Libby Sunday at 11 & 1/2 o'clock. He is to be buried tomorrow. Mrs. Libby, herself, is almost sick, and did not sleep any since Thursday until last night and she slept but little then as I know, for I staid there and she was awake often

7" Mr. Cole came in last evening and interrupted my pen. I have been in the office and at the funeral, which was attended by a full house in the church; and this evening I carried home the "children of Mauve" and then made a call on Lucia. She intends to go home Friday, via Saco, in O'Brien's stage arriving at the depot about an half hour before the last train passes for Boston. I try to persuade her to remain longer but do not think strange that she should prefer B. to L.

Mr. Cole intends to exchange with Mr. Garmon next Sunday

Mr. Baker has gone to the association, and Monday he notified Mr. Cole that he should bring their difficulty before that body. Mr. Cole himself could not go, on account of the funeral but sent a letter to Mr. Orr of Alfred Alfred, and stated the facts as he understood them. Mr. Baker had told Mr. Orr of the matter and he had written to Mr. Cole in a kind impartial way and Mr. Cole's letter was a reply.

No new teacher is engaged and Mr. Berry cannot be obtained

I wrote on the preceding page of a factory meeting I did not attend as it came during the funeral and perhaps there was not any, but there probably was. It was not intended to be legal but only a consid-
factor

7" Mr. Cole came in last evening and interrupted my pen. I have been in the office and at the funeral, which was attended by a full house in the church; and this evening I carried home the "children of Mauve" and then made a call on Lucia. She intends to go home Friday, via Saco, in O'Brien's stage arriving at the depot about an half hour before the last train passes for Boston. I try to persuade her to remain longer but do not think strange that she should prefer B. to L.

Mr. Cole intends to exchange with Mr. Garmon next Sunday.

Mr. Baker has gone to the association, and Monday he notified Mr. Cole that he should bring their difficulty before that body. Mr. Cole himself could not go, on account of the funeral but sent a letter to Mr. Orr of Alfred Alfred, and stated the facts as he understood them. Mr. Baker had told Mr. Orr of the matter and he had written to Mr. Cole in a kind impartial way and Mr. Cole's letter was a reply.

No new teacher is engaged and Mr. Berry cannot be obtained

I wrote on the preceding page of a factory meeting I did not attend as it came during the funeral and perhaps there was not any, but there probably was. It was not intended to be legal but only a consid-
(-ation

"The Circle" meets tomorrow at Mrs. B. Gilpatrick's and therefore I am not now supposed to be posted in news but I think that Limerick is Limerick, but I forgot that "Aunt Abigail" is not so well. Other topics being exhausted, permit me to introduce Mr. Weather, who under circumstances keeps cool. He met with a great accident yesterday, for he fell 15° below 0. was so disabled that he could not rise this morning and every body, <sup>thought</sup> that he was worse than yesterday. Appearances now look as if he would blow up and if such such should be the case, I fear that we shall find his particles flying in the air, properly of a white appearance, but if he should appear in lige "liquor" we may say that he is "hot" compared with today.

Solitude reigns triumphant
Mother & I send love to all.
S. Freeman.

"The Circle" meets tomorrow at Mrs. B. Gilpatrick's and therefore I am not now supposed to be posted in news but I think that Limerick is Limerick, but I forgot that "Aunt Abigail" is not so well. Other topics being exhausted, permit me to introduce Mr. Weather, who under circumstances keeps cool. He met with a great accident yesterday, for he fell 15° below 0. was so disabled that he could not rise this morning and every body, ^ that he was worse than yesterday. Appearances now look as if he would slow up and if ~~such~~ such should be the case, I fear that we shall find his particles flying in the air, properly of a white appearance, but if he should appear in ~~lige~~ "liquor" we may say that he is "hot" compared with today.

Solitude reigns triumphant
Mother & I send love to all.
S. Freeman.