

Virginia June 8 / 64
Dear Wife
I will pencil a few lines to you this morning if I have time I am well as common we are about eight miles from Richmond the most of the fighting for a few days has been between our scurmishers and artilery we seem to be preparing for a seage we are in a brestwork in the secont line of Battle to day we expect to releive the front to night the two armies respected a flag of truce yesterday from six to eight in the evening for the purpos of burying their dead the most of them had been laying between the two lines five days, was killed when our army made a charge the rebels buried their dead and we buried ours our dead was more than double theirs, I went for the first

Virginia June, 8, / 64

Dear Wife

I will pencil a few lines to you
this morning if I have time

I am well as common we are about
eight miles from Richmond

the most of the fighting for a
few days has been between our
scurmishers and artilery we
seem to be preparing for a seage
we are in a brest work in the secont
line of Battle to day we expect
to releive the front to night the
two armies respected a flag of truce
yesterday from six to eight in the
evening for the purpos of burying
their dead the most of them
had been laying between the two
lines five days, was killed when
our army made a charge the rebels
buried their dead and we buried
ours our dead was more than
double theirs, I went for the first

Contributed to Maine Memory Network by Maine Historical Society (Coll. S-166, Misc. Box 6/7
MMN #35828

Date: June 8, 1864

Description: Marshall Phillips letter about Cold Harbor between the two lines under a flag of truce, both armies are strongly intrenched in five or six lines of battle our skirmish line and theirs are with in six rods of each other in many places, but are hid from each others sight the most of the time

I suppose I have got fifteen days longer to serve I received a letter from you the other day I have not time to write more from your anxious husband
my love to you all

M. S. Phillips

between the two lines under
a flag of truce, both armies
are strongly intrenched in five
or six lines of battle our skirmish
line and theirs are with in six
rods of each other in many
places but are hid from each others
sight the most of the time

I suppose I have got fifteen
days longer to serve I received
a letter from you the other day
I have not time to write more
from your anxious husband
my love to you all

M. S. Phillips