Description: Josiah Pierce on death of daughter fully so many years ago, and have so faithfully clung to it - and I assure you I love you dearly in return for it and for all else for which so much is due to you from me, and it will always be so - and I listen to what you say with faith & pleasure -

My dear child has been very happy illness, that even that was a blessing, and her memory is beyond anything beautiful to me - I try to think of this, and do, and to put away all selfish feeling: but it is very hard to miss her so much, her pretty way of welcoming me home, her unfailing kiss whenever I went or came, her cheerful bright looks and brave spirit all the time, and to see that "vacant chair" - We are going to the seaside for a few weeks, we think, but don't make many plans for the future - and my address will be 12 Beaufort Gardens.

You will not expect me to write you more than an acknowledgement of your letter - it is very hard for me to write - but believe that I value deeply all the kind sympathy shown me, & cherish it, & think of it, and hope to see you again at home, face to face, before a very long time,

always, yours affectionately Josiah.
