My dear Aunt,

I have two very kind letters from you to acknowledge - the latter, a welcome New Years greeting, like those you used to send me for many years - It is indeed very pleasant to me to know that your feelings remain the same towards me and that I may hope to find you more than any one else of my old friends

Description: Josiah Pierce on long absence from United States

Unchanged in all our common sympathies when I return to America - These last four years here seem to me, in spite of wishes to the contrary, to have widened the space between old ties at home and my actual life more than all the rest of my long absence = and you don't know how old I feel and look - though my good wife denies it, We thank you very much for the hearty congratulations you sent me on the occasion of our marriage, & hope all your good wishes will prove true, as they seem to be doing - We have a

happy home this winter & my boy is made as comfortable as myself - How these children grow up - Joe is almost as tall as myself, and in his evening dress suit, looks quite like a man - You have lately had the happy opportunity of witnessing a happy wedding at home, in which all I am sure of the kith & kin on both sides must have taken great interest, as well as all the countless friends of both families - I should have been glad to have expressed to your brother Henry, whom I esteem very greatly, my own Sincere congratulations - and should be pleased if you find a chance for saying so - Nothing that happens to the Longfellows can be indifferent to me - and I beg you will give my kind regards to Alex. & say his kind thought about me with regards to my marriage was very grateful - and please thank Dr. Woods for his good words to you about my wife, & say we count upon his not forgetting us.

This is a poor acknowledgement for such excellent letters as yours, but accept it as
