Dear Sir

I have the mortification to inform you that I have not been able to execute my orders as respects going to Mount Desert - I proceeded immediately to Belfast expecting to have crossed the Ferry but was prevented by the British's landing the same evening - I then took the road to Hamden but found the same visitors to obstruct my passage as before - I remained in the Vicinity of Hamden a few days but seeing no prospect of the enemy's evacuating the River and finding it impracticable for me to pass I returned to Augusta and from thence to Watterville on expectation of opening a Rendezvous in that place but found it would interfere with Lieut Selmer who was recruiting there - I have since been to various places - but have found no encouragement for recruiting - I shall go today to Wiscasset where I presume will be an opportunity of obtaining some recruits - I feel much mortified that I have not a Rendezvous established ere this time but I presume you cannot censure me as I have used every exertion possible - There are so many recruiting officers in this country that it is difficult making a stand to advantage - it will be imprv'd in going beyond the Penobscott at present as the British have free access up the river. I have just been informed by a Gentleman from Hamden that they passed up to that place on Monday last -

I am Sir with the greatest respect your obedient Servt

Dear Sir,

I have the mortification to inform you that I have not been able to execute my orders as respects going to Mount Desert - I proceeded immediately to Belfast expecting to have crossed the Ferry but was prevented by the British's landing the same evening - I then took the road to Hamden but found the same visitors to obstruct my passage as before - I remained in the Vicinity of Hamden a few days but seeing no prospect of the enemy's evacuating the River and finding it impracticable for me to pass I returned to Augusta and from thence to Watterville on expectation of opening a Rendezvous in that place but found it would interfere with Lieut Palmer who was recruiting there - I have since been to various places

^ but have found no encouragement for recruiting - I shall go today to Wiscasset where I presume will be an opportunity of obtaining some recruits - I feel much mortified that I have not a Rendezvous established ere this time but I presume you cannot censure me as I have used every exertion possible - There are so many recruiting officers in this country that it is difficult making a stand to advantage - it will be imprv'd in going beyond the Penobscott at present as the British have free access up the river. I have just been informed by a Gentleman from Hamden that they passed up to that place on Monday last -
