Description: This is an admissions recruitment pamphlet written by Maine Central Institute's principal, Professor Frederick U. Landman.

Because I am going to College or to a professional school and I can there get a first class fit.

Because I am not able to go to College but am seeking a sound, general education, which I can get at the Maine Central Institute.

Because at the close of my school course I expect to teach in Maine and I can there get an excellent fit for teaching.

Because I desire to study Instrumental and Vocal Music in connection with my literary work and I can there have the opportunity and the best instruction.

Because I know that the instruction in Shorthand and Typewriting is the best obtainable, and the graduates readily find situations.

Because I am older than most students that attend the High Schools and can find at Maine Central Institute others of my own age and attainments.

Because I do not want to take up any one of these courses but desire to select from two or more and the work is there so arranged that this is possible.

Because while training my mind I wish the association of the best young men and women and can always find them at the Maine Central Institute.

Because I learn that the expenses are kept down to the lowest possible point consistent with an excellent standard of work and that there are no class distinctions.

Because Maine Central Institute is centrally located and I can easily go back and forth from my home.
