TO OUR PATRONS.

OUR articles are carefully selected, and prepared in cakes, three to six inches, and averaging one-half inch thick, and packed four cakes in a pound—making the bundle two to three inches square.

POUND PAPERS

neatly done up, and labelled for the especial accommodation of the retail trade. This mode of packing is greatly admired, and has given universal satisfaction, as the package is not opened till it reaches the hand of the consumer, keeping its properties fresher and stronger.

Any of the following Herbs, Barks, Rooes, &c., sold in bulk at reasonable prices, or powdered for fair compensation.

HOPS,

pressed in quarter pound cakes, kept constantly on hand at market prices.

N. B. The Botanical names have been revised by Prof. GRAY, of Harvard College, Mass.

LS To preserve both Flowers and Leaves, the plan of compressing them, as practised by the SHAKERS, answers a very good purpose; by this mode, many flowers and leaves are kept in a very efficient condition.

Difficulties having sometimes arisen from the use of the common name being applied to different plants, in different localities, and also from the fact that druggists are frequently called upon for some article which they have, by a name distinct from that by which it is sold under, which they are not aware of, we have appended a list of synonyms, which the seller will please refer to before turning a customer away:—
